THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON IX, SECOND QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, MAY 28.

Text of the Lesson, John viv. 17-30. I Cor. xv, 3-Commentary Prepared

[Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association.] The great mockery of a trial is over. the powers of darkness under the out-Seemingly the devil is the victor, as in the death of Abel and Zacharias (Matt. xxiii, 35) and such a host of others, but in reference to the redeemed of the Lord, as well as to the Lord Jesus Himself, it is only what the hand and counsel of God determined before to be done (Acts iv, 28). Our Lord said rolled overboard and was drowned. He to Pilate, "Thou couldst have no power at all against Me except it were given the rats eat him up alive!"-Harper's thee from above," and concerning all Weekly. His sufferings He said, "The cup which drink it?" (John xix, 11; xviii, 11.) There is no perfect peace to us as words, "Behold the Man," "Behold your King" (xix, 5, 14), we may each hear the Spirit saying to us, "See no man, but Jesus only, and let Him be your only King, your Lord and Master as well as your Saviour." In the cry of M. Loryea, Prop. the Jews, "We have no king but Caesar" (verse 15), they deliberately rejected Christ as King and accepted the world rulers, under whom they still suffer and will suffer until they see the Lord Jesus coming in glory and receive Him as their Messiah (Matt. xxiii, 39;

Isa. xxv, 9). Bearing His cross, He went forth (verse 17), and there is no other way for His followers (Matt. xvi, 24, 25; Heb. xiii, 12-14). Unto Him without the camp is the only way for the true disciple, for the camp of His professed followers is almost wholly given up to formality, unbelief and fellowship with this present evil world, all of which is as empty as a skull. Oh, the indescribable agony summed up in the three words "They crucified Him!" (Verse 18.) Since the Spirit thus sums it up and does not enlarge upon it, should we do otherwise? But think of it and picture it as we may, let us fail as we look upon Him to say: "For me. For me, in my stead bearing my sins, wounded for my transgressions, bruised for my iniquities, that I by His stripes might be healed.' See the title on His cross in the three languages of the then known world, "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews," for all the world shall yet see Him as such, and Jerusalem shall be the throne of the Lord, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it to the name of the Lord to Jerusalem. See the literal fulfillment of Scripture in tors to operate on the wife to show the doctors to operate on the wife for female trouble, "Instead," he says, "we contion in Ps. xxii, 18, and be assured that all prophecy shall be just as literally fulfilled in His time. That which has been is the sure key to that which shall be. We have in this lesson three of the seven sayings of our Lord .rom the duties." cross. The first three of the seven tell | Loryea Drug Store. Price 50c. us of forgiveness now, glory hereafter and all that is needed in between. John are His second word and include all the care in temporal things which His mother might need.

If we are living in and doing His will we are to Him as brother and sister and mother (Matt. xii, 50), and the care He gave to Mary, His mother, is vouchsafed to us. Is it not all included in Rom. viii, 82; Matt. vi, 83; Phil. iv, 19, and similar sayings? We might feel like saying, "Oh, how gladly I would minister to His mother or to Himself, but my life is so commonplace!" forgetting His blessed "inasmuch" of Matt. xxv, 40, and the great truth that we may always minister unto Him and that not a cup of cold water given in His name shall lose its reward (Mark ix, 41). One of His precious words to my soul is II Chron. xxix, 11, "The Lord hath chosen you to stand before Him, to serve Him, and that ye should minister unto Him and offer sacrifice." May we ever worship the Lord our God and serve Him only. His second word in our lesson, "I thirst" (verse 28), fulfilled another Scripture, Ps. Ixix, 21, but suggests more than mere natural thirst, even as when He sat by the well in Samaria and drink for the body which were uppermost in His mind (John iv, 81, 34). When His Spirit fills us we shall think joy in the Holy Ghost for ourselves and others than any merely physical necessities (Rom. xiv, 17). His third word in our lesson, which is His last or next to the last of the seven, takes us back to Gen. ii, 1-3, when He finished the restoration work of that time, and onward to Rev. xxi, 8, when He shall have finished the new earth of that time, for, whether in creation or restoration or redemption, He is the same Jehovah, Jesus (Rev. xxii, 6, 16). His finished work on the cross when seen and accepted gives perfect rest of soul to the truly penitent sinner, for the moment that this is seen there is of necessity a ceasing from all one's own efforts to obtain life. and the soul sees and rests in Him only (Heb. iv, 3). What a wonderful and glorious salvation it is, but, ch, how gave, and to the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me, suffering even to be forsaken of the Fa-'My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" that we might never be forsaken. How shall we

> A Bride's Misapprehension. It was the first Sunday in their pretty new flat, and Mrs. G. determined to celebrate the joyous day with a dinner which would make her young husband think he had married not only "the sweetest girl in the world," but "the best cook." It was perfectly lovely to set the little round dining room table with the nicest presents, and the preparation of a tempting salad and dessert was not exactly a trying ordeal, but the roasting of the chicken made her a little nervous. After succeeding, with the assistance of a large oilcloth book, in getting the fowl into the oven she sang from sheer relief. A little later, when the music had ceased and the silence in the kitchen became suspicious, Mr. G. opened the door. Kneeling down before the oven, with flushed face and tearful eyes, was Mrs. G. On the floor beside her was the cookbook, and in one hand was a long needle with white thread. "Oh, dearle," she cried, "It is going to burn my hands just dreadfully to baste this chicken every fifteen minutes!"-What to Eat.

The Note the Pig Squeaked. Among the musical gifts possessed by Sir Herbert Oakeley, the famous composer, organist and teacher, was an ability to tell offhand the exact pitch and key of any sound he happened to hear. As a boy of four years of age he could, without seeing the keys, name any note or combination of notes play ed on the piano. An anecdote which illustrates the musician's perfect perception of pitch

Sir Herbert was staying with his old friend, the bishop of Colchester, at High Wych and one day heard a pig squeak.

"G sharp!" at once cried Sir Her-Some one ran to the piano, and G sharp it was!

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison (Kan.) Globe: 'Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Klowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office today, we asked him about it. He said he had terrific pains in his stomach, and thought he had canzer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. > Crass Ignorance An east side kindergartner was about Total Protection to give her class a lesson, with "The Kitten" as the subject. She began by saying: "Our lesson this morning will be all about the kitten. Now, can any little boy or girl tell me which grows on the kitten, fur or feathers?"

A dead silence followed for a minute, when one little boy said in a loud voice: "G-o-o-d gracious! Hain't you never seen a kitten?"-Life.
