The Executive Committee of the Cotton Growers' Association met in the court house last Monday. Those present were E. D. Hodge, W. M. den, J. D. Rutledge, R. E. McFaddin, Jr., B. P. Broadway, S. M. Hayns worth, R. D. Thompson, Louis Appelt

The purpose of the meeting was to what progress was being made with regard to securing stock to build a standard warehouse, and what means were to be devised for getting the necessary financial support, to arrange for a field agent whose operations were to be under the supervision of the executive committee, and to push the welfare of the organization. A resolution was adopted urging the cotton ginners of Clarendon to pledge themselves to collect 10 cents per balfor all bales of cotton ginned by them the coming season, and turn same over to the association, in doing this the support of the association falls equally on all, and not heavily on any. The field agent will visit each ginner to explain and urge this matter. The
