The graves in the Manning cemetery are being robbed of plants and flowers These desecrators should be caught and pupished. It is a crime in law. The grave of a lady friend of the Alderman family was very recently robbed of some costly plants put their by those who are endeared to her memory.

The way our dry goods merchants are vieing with each other for the mil-linery business is an evidence of the sharpest kind of competion. Each and every one of them boasting of hav-ing the best trimmer, and at each store the rivalry is so great there is no doubt about it, that the patrons of headgear will be able to get what they want in the millinery line in Manning, and when the season is over, it will take the best of Evangelists to come here and put back into the men the religion they lost when the millinery bills were presented to them.
