Editor The Manning Times:

I see in THE TIMES a few weeks ago an article about the Road Engine standing by the road as "an ornament" ever since last fall. The facts are, the engine has been running up to the first of May, and my reason for not running it since is, the men I had running it could not do so to any advantage. I found it was not paying, and I decided to stop running it until I finish with the Sardinia road, then I will be able to get the engine and chaingang together, then I know I can make it pay, can do more work with the engine in one day than I could have done with twelve mules in the same length of time. Do you know that you cannot run the road machine with mules such a rainy spell as we have had since June, and other reasons why I don't run the engine are, I haven't got the money with which to pay the men to run it without going in debt and when I get the engine and gang together I will save one half the expenses by using convict labor. There is no expense connected with the engine now, but if I had the mules they would have to be fed rain or

The unveiling of the momument erected to Soveriga Smiley took place at New Zion church on last Sunday. The Consul Cammander of Live Oak invited the officers of the various Camps present to march according to rank with the officers of the Camp in charge. The Master of ceremonies, Mr. W. M. Mr. Wood's friends seemed to have regretted that the rain came before he had well gotten into his speech, but so far so good.

The local Camp is under many obligations to Misses Lillie Lavender and a man has an honest pride in his own Minnie Johnson, and to all others aiding them in furnishing the excellent nusic for the occasion. In Memoriam. BRYANT-In loving remembrance of our dear little Carl, who departed this life on July 29th, 1906:

We had a little treasure once, He was our joy and pride, We loved him, ah; perhaps too well,

For soon he slept and died. All is dark within our dwelling. Lonely are our hearts today, For the one we loved so dearly, Beau of Fort Sheridan. Once a man who had the reputation of never having been beaten for the position of orderly came from another regiment. I'rivate Haarscher and the newcomer, as luck would have it, were detailed for guard the same day. The whole garrison turned out to see which one the adjutant would pick for the coveted place. To all outward signs there was no difference in the neatness and soldierly appearance of the two meu.

The officer spent about twenty minarrhoea Remedy is at hand. A dose of utes examining the rifles, belts, carthis remeay will relieve the patient be- tridge boxes and brasses of the two soldiers. There was absolutely nothing to choose between them in point of neatness of appearance. Finally, as a last resort, the adjutant unbuttoned the blouse of the new claimant for orderly honors. He found a somewhat faded but absolutely clean undershirt. The officer passed to Haarscher and undid three buttons of his blouse. Haarscher had on a brand new suit of silk underwear that must have cost him a month's pay. It was the other man on that day who walked past post in the hot sun, while Haarscher did "lolling duty" in the shade in front of the commandant's quarters. He was a Frenchman through and through, and Hebron, Trinity, Shiloh and Live Oak he was more proud of it than of anything else save the American citizenship which he had won by enlisting under the American flag.-Chicago Post.

Woodcraft.

Woodcraft holds the key to nature's storehouse. A camper should know for himself how to outfit, how to select and make a camp, how to wield an ax and make proper fires, how to cook, wash, mend; how to travel without losing his course or what to do when he has lost it; how to trail, hunt, shoot, fish, dress game, manage boat or cashifts as may be needed in wilderness faring. And he should know these things as he does the way to his mouth. Then he is truly a woodsman, sure to do promptly the right thing at the right time, whatever befalls. Such resourcefulness, a sense of reserve force, a doughty self reliance that is good to feel. His is the confidence of the lone sailorman who whistles as he puts his tiny bark out to sea .- Out-

Wrongly Named Pests. The origin of the so called San Jose scale is not certainly known, but it is reasonably sure that it was brought his property in the Santa Clara valley. By 1880 it had come to be recognized as a serious pest and in that year was found near San Jose and described by Aspidiotus perniciosus." That name being too hard for most of us, the pest has become known the world over as the San Jose scale from the place where it was first found by Professor Comstock, very much to the disgust of the people of that city and vicinity, who do not suffer from it in any appreciable degree.-San Francisco Chroni-

All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to clease the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, Pastor of the first M. E. Spoiled His Scheme. Among the creditors of an insolvent firm was a New Yorker who had a balance of $285 coming to him. This man wanted his money. He was a good talker and persuaded the firm to pay him off in case he could get the other creditors to grant an extension of time. So he called a meeting of the creditors and talked to them eloquently about the prospects of the firm getting on its feet again if it only had time. He seemed to have won out when a little old man in the back of the room rose and in a squeaky voice declared that he, for one, wanted his money and did not want to wait for it. "Don't you think it is rather selfish of you to interfere with this plan, in which all of the other creditors have agreed?" asked the first man. "We are willing to wait for the amount of our claims. Every one of us, including myself, believes that this firm should have plenty of time. How much is your claim, anyway?" In the same piping voice the little old man answered: "They owe me, $185,000. How much is your claim?"

The intense itching characteristic of salt rheum and eczema is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Salve. As a cure for skin diseases this salve is unequaled. For sale by The Arant Co Drug Store.

The Unit of Heat.

We cannot, of course, measure heat by yards, pints or pounds, but the unit of heat, the standard measure of that phenomenon, has been agreed upon by those whose business it is to philosophize on that subject to be that quan tity which can raise a pound of water one degree. Now, to turn a pound of water into a pound of steam it requires 967 of these units of heat-that is to which would have raised 967 pounds of water one degree higher in tempera-
