

The Manning Times. LOUIS APPELT, Editor. MANNING, S. C., JULY 10, 1907. PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY.

THE LAW IS GUARDED.

The attempt to influence purchases of liquor contrary to law has received a check in the arrest of H. L. Solomons in Columbia, who is charged with violating section 46 of the local option law; this section of the Carey-Cottrill Act forbids soliciting orders from county boards of control, or otherwise influencing these boards in the purchase of whiskey.

The newspapers are constantly getting up some kind of a sensational canard on Senator Tillman. The senior Senator has not been figuring in the lime light of late, but all of a sudden his or somebody else's press agent has him challenging Senator Dolliver to a duel.

The Prohibitionists of the nation are severely criticizing Vice-President Fairbanks for serving to his guests at a dinner, cocktails with a cherry. If they want to defeat the Indian, they are certainly not helping their cause by abuse, and if the thing continues, every Republican that loves a cocktail with a cherry will feel that he must stand by Fairbanks in self-defense, and should Vice-President Fairbanks get the support of the cocktail lovers he is a winner as a presidential candidate.

The State has a law which gives the people the power to rid themselves of the sale of liquor whenever they have, in their own judgment, secured a prohibition sentiment, but where such a sentiment does not exist, it provides for the legal sale of intoxicants. This law should be enforced in every particular, not only to prevent opportunities for graft, as section 46 of the Carey-Cottrill law is intended, but to keep a close watch and control over the county dispensaries that the law may be honestly administered, and that the temperance features may be carried out, thus making the sale of whiskey in a community the least obnoxious and dangerous as possible.

Col. William Jennings Bryan regards the Democratic party firmly united with an excellent chance of being victorious in the next election. He bases this opinion upon what appears to be dissensions in the Republican ranks. The Republican party may have differences to the extent that a schism seems certain, yet when the time comes for action they line up in solid phalanx and carry nearly a solid North and West. This condition will in our judgment continue as long as there is a solid Democratic South. We honestly believe, it would be a great advantage to the South and the country at large if some way could be devised to have two parties in the South not inimical to our social conditions. Under present conditions the white voters cannot afford to divide, they must remain solid to preserve the supremacy of the superior race, but remove the necessity for an enforced political slavery, and there will be divisions upon political questions and the South will become something more than mere vote furnishers, and there will be no excuse for the other sections to become arrayed against her, as is the case today.

nominee under the political soil excepting Cleveland, and he was looked upon by many as a good conservative Republican, good enough Republican to be given the support of nearly the entire Independent Republican strength throughout the North, and it was this vote that elected him president twice, the same number of times that Bryan was defeated. The same Independent Republican vote that elected Cleveland refused to give its support to Judge Parker, why? Because, to secure the nomination, he crawled upon Bryan's platform which was wholly at variance with the policies of Cleveland. Had he clung to his gold policy there is a strong probability that Parker would have received many more votes, although he would not have been elected as Roosevelt was the popular idol, the masses wanted him.

Major Schmitz, of San Francisco, got a sentence of five years in the penitentiary for monkeying with his official position. The day has come when men in high position can be, and will be punished for violating their trusts, in most all of the States except South Carolina.

Senator Latimer's letters from abroad are very interesting reading, but we are forced to deprive our readers of the pleasure because of their length. If the Senator really wants his constituents to enjoy with him his European junket, he should have more consideration for the newspaper space he would occupy without charge.

The newspapers are constantly getting up some kind of a sensational canard on Senator Tillman. The senior Senator has not been figuring in the lime light of late, but all of a sudden his or somebody else's press agent has him challenging Senator Dolliver to a duel.

Summerton News. Summerton's business men are getting their backs up in anticipation of the coming fall trade, and of course are going to have lots of space in THE TIMES.

Several important changes have been made in addition to the usual stock-taking and cleaning up. The Strauss-Rogan Co. has lately bought out the business of the E. A. Tindal Furniture Co. and moved the stock into a building more convenient to their place of business.

The Lanham-Coskrey Co. has bought the commodious brick building at the Northeast corner of Main and Stokes streets, and moved in their stock. This is one of the best stands in town, and well adapted to the wants of this large business.

On the Southwest corner of Main and Stokes streets the large establishment of the Summerton Mercantile Co. stands. These people for several years have had their grocery department housed in the Belser building across the street. A new brick building has been built by them in the rear of the dry goods department which will connect with the rear of the brick building bought from the Colclough Hardware Co. In these two buildings will be placed the grocery department. Between the dry goods store and the Colclough building a vacant space has been inclosed, in this will be housed the millinery department. In the grocery department has been built a brick and cement bin capable of holding and refrigerating several tons of meat. The new arrangements gives this concern three fronts on Main street and one on Stokes street. The genial president of this concern, Mr. C. M. Davis, informs us that he will have in connection with the millinery department a reception and toilet room for the convenience of his lady customers, and contemplates putting in also a complete water supply, and other conveniences. Plans are under way for the construction of other brick buildings in town.

As an evidence of how trade is coming this way, the Summerton Hardware Co. shipped last week a solid carload of woven wire fence to one of the stations on the Northwestern Railroad. The Northwestern Railroad is preparing to extend its side-tracks, and will no doubt put on several new engines and other first-class equipment. Some evil minded fellow said sometime ago that the only first-class thing in connection with the Northwestern's equipment was the fare.

Mr. J. M. Plowden has moved into his new house on Dukes street. Mr. M. Dwells is preparing to build on Dukes street. On this same street other buildings are to go up.

A protracted meeting is announced to commence at the Baptist church on next Sabbath. Dr. Ramsay of Charleston, is to be here to assist the pastor, Mr. Tolar.

Messrs. J. H. Lesesne and S. O. O'Bryan of the Manning Bar, visited our town Monday. Farmers, as usual at this time of the year, are in high spirits. Crops are looking fine, and a big harvest is anticipated.

Mr. E. B. Felder has bought a gasoline engine mounted trucks which he will use to run his oat thrasher. Messrs. A. A. Strauss, of Mayesville, and I. C. and Isaac Strauss, of Sumter, were in our town this week.

Paxville Dots. The Baptist and Methodist Sunday schools of this place united together and celebrated the fourth with a most delightful basket picnic at Cutter's mill pond. About 500 people were present.

The Children's Day exercises at the Baptist church last Sunday night was enjoyed by all who attended. The saw mill of Messrs. J. M. Hicks & Son of this place is now in operation.

Mr. J. R. Hill is quite ill and her recovery is doubtful. Mr. Otto Mathis of Bishopville is visiting friends and relatives here. Wallis, Dora, Agnes, Louise and Harry Cohn of Brunson are the guests of Rev. and Mrs. Geo. E. Spruill.

Mr. Roy Curtis has just returned from Wrightsville Beach. Mrs. H. G. King has returned home after a few weeks' stay at Wrightsville Beach. Miss Annie Broadway, Manning, visited Paxville last week. Mr. Tom Geddings and family of McColl, are visiting relatives in the community.

Mrs. W. L. Hornsby, of Columbia, was the guest of Mrs. Mattie Brown last week. Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, of Sumter, visited their daughter, Mrs. Jim Brown, here last week. Miss Mattie Hoyle, of Summerton, spent a few days here last week.

Mr. E. B. Brown, of Manning, spent last Thursday here. Rev. J. N. Tolar, of Summerton, was in town last Friday. The ladies of the W. M. S. of the Paxville Baptist church will serve ice cream at the school house next Friday evening. Miss Lillie Tisdale, of Manning, spent the Fourth here. There will be revival services held at the Baptist church here, beginning next Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harvin left last Thursday for Branchville, where they will make their future home.

Stutes of Paxville visited relatives here last week. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bateman spent Sunday at Alcolu. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cutter of Groeyleville spent a few days of last week with relatives here. Miss Evelyn Aycock is visiting at Groeyleville. Messrs. J. Fant Broadway and W. E. Davis will leave Tuesday morning for the exposition and other points of interest. Mr. Haston Broadway is on a flying trip to Groeyleville. Miss Jamie Mellette of Sumter is visiting the Misses Mellette here. The Paxville and Davis Station boys will cross bats at Paxville this afternoon. A. B. C.

Washington Letter. (By James S. McCarthy.) Washington, D. C., July. - A compilation by the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture of reports received from over 10,000 saw mills in the United States upon their operations in 1905 shows the proportion of lumber kiln-dried and the proportion surfaced, amount of slab wood, sold and the proportion of logs cut on lands belonging to the saw mill operators. No figures along these lines are available for New York, and none are given for several of the States in which the cut was very small.

The States in which the largest proportion of lumber is kiln-dried by manufacturers are South Carolina, with 51.3 per cent; North Carolina, with 36.5 per cent; Florida, with 35.9 per cent; Alabama, with 34.8 per cent; and Georgia, with 30.6 per cent. In other States the amount is less than 30 per cent. Altogether, 1,642 mills reported the use of dry kilns.

A large amount of the pine cut in the South is kiln-dried in order to reduce its shipping weight, and this is especially true of loblolly or North Carolina pine. Kiln-drying is practiced to a less extent in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific coast States, and very little lumber is kiln-dried by the saw mill operators in the hard wood region or where the cut is principally for portable mills for the country as a whole, about 15 per cent of the lumber cut in this respect. In this respect, Iowa leads with 71.2 per cent surfaced; but this is because most of the lumber cut in that State is in a few big mills along the Mississippi which operate exclusively on northern pine. Aside from Iowa, the States in which the largest proportion of the cut is surfaced at the saw mill are Texas, with 71.7 per cent; Louisiana, with 60.3 per cent; Idaho, 59.4 per cent; Montana, 55.2 per cent; and Arkansas, with 50.6 per cent. In all the other States less than half the cut is surfaced by the saw mill operators, and, as in kiln-drying, a relatively small proportion of the total cut is surfaced in the hard wood regions.

Some 4,000 mills reported sales of slab wood totaling 3,763, 237 cords. Washington leads in this respect, with 969,231 cords, followed by Michigan, with 525,518 cords; Wisconsin, with 368,478 cords; and Virginia, with 213,522 cords. It is probably safe to assume that slab and waste wood brought on an average $1 a cord; hence its sale was a considerable source of revenue to many mills.

Considering only the important lumber-producing States, it is interesting to note that the proportion of output reported as sawed from logs cut on the lands owned by the saw mill operators ranges from 67.4 per cent in California to 34.5 per cent in Washington. The lumber companies in California do their logging largely on their own holdings, and get but a relatively small quantity of logs from other sources. In Washington most of the logging is done by firms which buy stumpage and deliver logs to the saw mills for a fixed contract price, so in this case the operator of a mill may own little or no timberland.
