Weak Kidneys

Cause more trouble than any other organ of the body. The function of the kidneys is to separate inorganic salt and water in the process of circulation, and to remove them from the blood. Therefore when the kidneys become diseased and weak they are naturally unable to perform their work properly, and pain in the back, inflammation of the bladder and urinary discharges are the result. It is imperative that a prompt relief be afforded, which is impossible unless you remove the cause.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills promptly eliminate poisons from the system and at the same time make the kidneys weak and strong. For Weak Kidneys, Backache, Inflammation of the Bladder, Urinary Discharges, DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are unsurpassed. A Week's Treatment for 25c. Money back if they fail. W. E. BROWN & CO.

Will Row Till Judgment Day. There is a shivery, shivery legend among the people who live along the Hudson river which is to the effect that that stream is the everlasting boiling waters of a specter who is personified as Rambo. One day Rambo and his friends were drinking until late at night. Finally this man Rambo started for home, some distance up the river, in his boat, swearing that he would row the distance if it took "a month of Sundays." Rambo never reached home, and the superstitious people say that he has been condemned to row till judgment day.

BROILING. If the fire should be too hot, sprinkle salt over it. Birds and other things which need to be halved should be broiled inside first.

Always grease the gridiron well and have it hot before the meat is placed on it. Never put your fork in the lean part of meat on the gridiron, as it allows the juice to escape.

Fish should be buttered and sprinkled with flour, which will prevent the skin from adhering to the gridiron. Remember that a hot, clear fire is necessary for broiling all small articles. They should be turned often to be cooked evenly without being burned.

Cover the gridiron with a tin pan or a baking pan. The sooner the meat is cooked without burning the better. The pan holds the fat and often prevents a stray line of smoke from touching the meat.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Paying Through the Nose. "Paying through the nose" is to be indirectly swindled in a transaction or to pay an exorbitant price for a thing in consideration of long credit. A variant is "to be bored through the nose," "bored" here having the meaning of cheated, deceived.

At this instant he bores me with some talk.—"Real Yellow." I. L. Crowell. One that hath gulled you, that hath bored you, sir.—"Life of T. Cromwell," 1602, II. ii. 103.

And Howell in his "Instruction For Forren Travell" (1650), page 59, "had known divers Dutch gentlemen grossly gull'd by this cheat (the selling of forged manuscripts to young travellers in Italy), and some English bo'd' also through the nose this way by paying excessive prices for them."—Notes and Queries.

DeWitt's little early risers are the best Pills made. They do not gripe. Sold by W. E. Brown & Co. and bought a metallic case, and when I came back and entered the dead room Henry lay in that open case, and he was dressed in a suit of my clothing. He had borrowed it without my knowledge during our last sojourn in St. Louis, and I recognized instantly that my dream of several weeks before was here exactly reproduced, so far as these details went, and I think I missed one detail, but that one was immediately supplied, for just then an elderly lady entered the place with a large bouquet consisting mainly of white roses, and in the center of it was a red rose. She laid it on his breast.

—Mark Twain's Autobiography in North American Review. When you have tried everything you ever heard of for that bad case of dyspepsia, without getting any or very relief, and have about made up your mind that you cease is a hopeless one, don't give up. There is a remedy for just such chronic cases, one that has prepared especially for cases of Indigestion and Stomach trouble that failed to yield to other treatment. It is Barney's Compound. The prescription was written by a Washington, D. C. stomach specialist and will relieve that soreness in the stomach and overcome catarrhal or mucous condition of the stomach and insinuates very quickly. As a last resort give Barney's Compound a trial. W. E. Brown & Co.

Prince Hohenlohe In Life. When Germany sent Prince Hohenlohe to Paris in 1875 his physiognomy was not prepossessing. It was grave, sad, without life. With dead, expressionless eyes, the habit of carrying his head over his right shoulder, a slow step and the air of being overwhelmed with the burden of his moral preoccupations, all this tended to repel rather than attract.—Paris Figaro.

The Postmaster of Gasconade, Mo., Daniel A. Bugh, says of DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, "I am doing so well and improving so fast in health, that I cannot say too much for your Kidney and Bladder Pills, I feel like a new man." DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are sold by W. E. Brown & Co.

Carried It In His Head.

When four years old Mozart played minuets and learned music with facility, and at the age of six he composed a concerto for the harpsichord, which, though written strictly in accordance with the principles and technique of his art, was yet so overloaded with difficulties that it could not be played.

It is related that Mozart once happened to put off some music that he had been engaged to furnish for a court concert so long that he had not time to write out the part which he himself was to perform.

The Emperor Joseph, who was of a curious turn, chanced to be in the composer's studio when he asked: "Where is your part? I do not see it among these sheets of music."

"Here," responded Mozart, touching his forehead.—St. Louis Republic.

"Hanged" and "Hung." Perhaps the Bible has had an influence in preventing many people from distinguishing between the uses of "hanged" and "hung," says a London writer. They "hanged" Haman, but the Jews in captivity also "hanged their harps upon the willows," and in the New Testament we read "it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck." If "hanged" was correct in either sense in the days of the authorized version, those who are not strong upon grammar may be subconsciously induced to believe that "hung" is correct in both senses now. But it is curious that the exclamation "I'll be hanged!" never appears as "I'll be hung!"

THE STRAWBERRY.

It Was First Cultivated by a Blind King of Hungary. Where Eperies, the picturesque Hungarian town, is now surrounded by beautiful gardens and fruited fields there was at the time of King Bela II. nothing but thick wilderness. Once this blind and unhappy sovereign was traveling in his realm. It was a hot, sultry summer day, and while searching for a shady spot in which to rest he became lost. Deadily tired in consequence of his long wandering, he asked his attendants for a drink of water. They seated him on the soft, green grass in the cool shade of big old trees, and then the cavaliers separated to hunt for a refreshing spring.

Meanwhile the king wanted to find out more about his resting place and began to grope about him with his hands. Thus he discovered strawberries growing all about him, says the New York Herald. He ate them; so, partly quenching his thirst, he waited quietly for his gentlemen. After a short time they returned, some with empty cups, some with pearly spring water.

The king then said to his attendants: "Have the trees cut down around this place where my hands found the refreshing strawberries. Here shall rise a town whose name shall be Eperies (strawberry) in remembrance of this day for all time."

As the king commanded so it was. The wilderness was cleared, and in its place is a town whose arms carry the strawberry even today.

Mr. E. L. Mards who conducts a general merchandise business at Pope, Va., writes: I had chills last June and got down in very bad shape. My system was so completely run down that I was scarcely able to attend to any work. I took 3 bottles of Rydale's Tonic and felt like a new man before I had finished taking it. It did me more good than anything I ever found and my health was good all last summer. W. E. Brown & Co.

The Indirect Method.

Homemade ice cream was a regular item on the bill of fare at Willie's house, and while he liked the cream he drew the line at turning the freezer. One day when his mother returned home she was agreeably surprised to find him working at the crank as if his life depended on it.

"I don't see how you got him to turn the ice cream freezer," she said to her husband. "I offered him a dime to do it, and he just laughed at me."

"You didn't go about it the right way, my dear," replied her husband. "I bet him a nickel he couldn't turn it for half an hour."—Harper's Weekly.

A Dog's Jealousy.

Dana is a huge St. Bernard who has his own ideas as to his importance. Whenever he wishes to attract attention he knocks his water pail over and then rolls it around, growling at it and making a great fuss. Then he puts his head in and throws the pail high in the air, bawling at it with his paws as it comes down. If this does not have the desired effect he picks up the pail by the handle and takes it into the barn, where the noise is increased by far owing to the wooden floor. This performance is given whenever one of the house.—Chicago Tribune.

When Life is Wasted.

Life is wasted every time one gives away to gloomy, selfish angry or revengeful thoughts; when resentment or a grudge against man or fate is allowed to find root in the heart; when the temper is let fly loose over a trifle; when one goes to pieces nervously when obliged to repeat a remark and the voice is allowed to rise in anger; when one forgets that a loose tongue is a sign of vulgarity and lack of culture.—Philadelphia Press.

Good For Twenty.

"Lawyers get stung as easily as other people," said one who practices in the criminal courts. "Here's what happened to me the other day: A friend of mine tipped me off that there was a case coming up in special sessions and it would be easy to get the defendant, a negro, free.

"There's a twenty in it for you," he added. "I've got another case on upstairs or I would take it myself." "Sure enough, I got the fellow off, and when we reached the corridor I politely intimated that I had heard there was a twenty awaiting me for my trouble.
