Waist Gingham and all kinds of Waist Goods, at D. Hirschmann's.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sprout of Mayesville are visiting relatives in Manning.

Miss Sallie Cochran of Timberlake, N. C. is visiting her brother, Mr. R. D. Cochran.

Colporteur J. P. Coleman, formerly of Manning, died in Mullins last Tuesday of pneumonia.

There will be preaching at Fellowship church next Sunday afternoon at 3:30, by the pastor, Rev. J. N. Tolar.

Messrs. J. H. and C. S. Rigby after a week's stay in the northern markets to purchase spring goods have returned home with the cheering news that they will in a few days open up grand spring stocks.

The many friends of Miss Gertrude Bradham will be pained to learn that her condition is not so cheering, her mother went to Asheville last Saturday to be with her. We sincerely hope that the effect of her mother's presence will be salutary.

Inspector Hunt was here last week inspecting and checking the Manning dispensary, and he says it is the best kept in the State. He says that to respect the dispensary is a matter of form entirely as every report is promptly made, and the books are perfect.

We urge our readers to pay up their subscriptions, as after the 1st day of April we will not be able to send them THE TIMES on credit. The postal regulations forces us to cut off all delinquent subscribers, and we hope we will not be forced to cut off any.

THE TIMES editor is back again in Columbia to aid in selecting a United States Senator. When he left he was afraid that the legislature would get tied up in a dead-lock, and it is a matter of getting through in a couple of days there is no telling how long the legislature will have to be in session.

We notice a good many school children on the streets in the afternoons, we hope they are not neglecting their studies. Remember boys and girls there is a ten dollar gold piece to reward somebody's parents and diligence. We want a photograph and diligence of this prize to print in THE TIMES to show to the world who it is that has ambition.

The Court House Commission, consisting of D. W. Alderman, C. M. Davis, W. Scott Harvin, W. C. Davis and W. C. DuRant, met Monday afternoon and organized as follows: D. W. Alderman, chairman; W. C. Davis, secretary. A committee was appointed to visit and inspect court houses being erected an architect. The advertisement for the bonds are to be placed in The State of Columbia, and the Manufacturers Record, Baltimore. The bids for the sale of the bonds are to be opened on April 15th. The commission are going to give the people the best building the amount at their command will permit.

The town election, although over one month off is being discussed quite freely, and the friends of some of the announced candidates are doing some quiet electioneering. We find there is a disposition to have a brand new administration, and there are others who think some of the old council should remain, but the matter for the people of this town to consider in our judgment, is shall Manning be held back, or shall it go forward? If it is the purpose to put this town on progressive lines, a council can do much towards bringing about the desired result, and regardless of personal popularity men should be selected for their ability to bring good results. The income of this town is sufficient to cause the people to sit up and take notice; while we have confidence in the men we select, yet they are not infallible, and if they make mistakes they can be corrected by the people, providing however their acts and doings are not withheld from the public. Let every citizen in this town feel that it is his duty to take a hand in the coming municipal election, and all vote for what their judgment dictates regardless of personal considerations. The town registration books are now open, and no one can vote in the town election unless he has secured a registration certificate, therefore it behooves every voter to go to the town clerk's office and get his certificate.

An examination was held in Manning last Saturday for two more rural routes in Clarendon county, one to start from Rimini, the other from Turbeville. The applicants for the Rimini route were F. A. Felder, A. F. Ragin, Charles Williams, E. White, Adamson, Charlie, Samuel M. Johnson, colored. For the Turbeville route, F. E. Bradham, W. J. Buddin, H. P. Gibbons, H. W. Cole, J. M. Turbeville, E. H. Kennedy and W. H. Castine. Mr. Preston Conyers had obtained a registration certificate, but in a letter from the department he was required to secure a certain certificate from Judge Wilson before his examination could be considered. At the suggestion of the examiner, Mr. Conyers went to Columbia Friday night, saw Judge Wilson and got the necessary certificate, but unfortunately for him, he did not reach the depot in time the next morning to catch the train which would have brought him back in time for the examination. The examination was to have taken place at 9:30, but in order to give Mr. Conyers time to get back from Columbia, it was held off until 11 o'clock. There is another matter in connection with this examination. One of the applicants, Mr. F. E. Bradham, taught school at Turbeville last year, and when school closed he secured employment at Union. At the opening of the present school term he came back to Turbeville and is teaching. The regulations say, to be eligible one must be a bodily resident of the route to be instituted for at least twelve months preceding the establishment of the route. Therefore it is questioned if Mr. Bradham will be regarded eligible for the position, should the authorities be made acquainted with the facts.

Does It Pay to Advertise? Billy Jones wrote on the blackboard: "Billy Jones can hug the girls better than any other boy in school." The teacher, seeing it, called him up. William, did you write that? "Yes ma'am," said Billy. "Well, you can stay after school," she said. The children waited for Billy to come out, when they began to gush him. "Go lickin', didn't ye?" "Nope," said Billy. "Go jawed?" "Nope," said Billy. "What did she do?" they asked. "She didn't tell," said Billy; but it pays to advertise.

A Beautiful Wedding Ceremony.

On last Wednesday evening in the city of Sumter, one of Manning's rising young lawyers was joined in holy wedlock to one of Sumter's loveliest daughters. The contracting parties were Jacob Albert Weinberg, president of the Bank of Clarendon, and Miss Flora Moses, youngest daughter of Mr. Perry Moses. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Jacob Klein in the Temple Sinai. The synagogue was most elaborately decorated and the electrical effects were magnificent. The flowers, ferns, ribbons and electric lights were indeed an artist's dream.

After the ceremony at the Temple the guests repaired to the Moses home where an elegant collation was served, and the presents of the groom and bride were displayed. To the four sides of the library to accommodate the handsome and expensive presents that were the tokens of love from relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Moses assisted by their daughters. Mesdames Phelps and Jennings, entertained the large company of friends with that ease and grace characteristic of culture and refinement. The home decorations were beautiful, and with the parlors filled with elegantly arranged and in full evening dress, the scene was one of animation and joy.

The following account of the wedding is taken from the Sumter Item of the 27th inst: A wedding, beautiful in its every detail and elaborate in its entirety, was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Flora Moses, the youngest daughter of Mr. Perry Moses, became the bride of Mr. J. A. Weinberg, of Manning. The ceremony took place at Temple Sinai on Church street and Hampton avenue. The building was decorated in most artistic style with smiling and a quantity of beautiful ferns and other potted plants. The rostrum was a bower of evergreens and flowers on either side of which were three marble pedestals holding wax candles, which shed a soft and subdued light and added much to the solemnity of the scene. Immediately above the center of the rostrum was a true-lovers' knot of tulle in the center of which was a star of electric lights.

Mrs. H. M. Snuckey, who presided at the altar, rendered beautiful selections while the invited guests were being ushered to their seats. Promptly at 8 o'clock the wedding party entered the temple while the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march from Lohengrin. Two of the ushers, Messrs. J. H. Levy, Jr., and Mr. Lem Weinberg, were the first to enter. Then came the little ribbon bearers, Miss Doris Moses and Albert, followed by the Dames of Honor, Mesdames A. C. Phelps and R. H. Jennings, sisters of the bride, gowned in light blue silk and carrying large bouquets of white carnations and gardenias. Following them were the bridesmaids, gowned in white and wearing a lingerie gown elaborately trimmed with lace, her veil being held in place by natural orange blossoms and wearing a bracelet of diamonds and sapphires. The groom, Mr. J. A. Weinberg, followed by the bride, gowned in light blue silk and carrying large bouquets of white carnations and gardenias. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jacob Klein, according to the solemn rite of the Jewish church. The stirring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth as the bridal party left the temple.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The house was exquisitely decorated with greens and flowers and ablaze with electric lights. In the hall, over the staircase, was suspended the initials of the bride and groom formed of lights and cedar. In the drawing room, the young couple stood under a horseshoe of pink roses and electric lights to receive the congratulations of their friends. All of the electric lights were covered with pink shades forming tulips. The numerous elegant presents were displayed in the library, where the color scheme was red and green, being carried out with red roses and smilax. Refreshments were served in the dining room, which was attractively decorated in green and white. An arch of lights softened with wisteria and smilax extended across the room, under which the table was beautifully ornamented with a large mirror surrounded with small electric lights and narcissus. Punch was served in the dining room and hall. The young couple left on the 9:30 train for a two weeks' stay in tropical Cuba.

Two Fires at Jordan.

Dr. H. L. Wilson of Jordan had the misfortune to lose his barn by fire last Sunday morning, including three valuable horses, a jersey cow and two calves, several hogs, a new surrey, buggy, wagon, harness and farm implements, together with about 200 bales of hay, about 300 bushels of corn. There was $300 insured on the barn but no insurance on the contents. Deducting the amount of the insurance there was a net loss of about $1,500. The origin of the fire is not known, but there is no ground for supposing it to be accidental. Dr. Wilson has some 15 non-paying patients about 7 o'clock Saturday evening and put up his horses, and after that no one is known to have been about the barn until the fire was discovered about 4 o'clock Sunday morning. When discovered the fire had made such headway that it was impossible to rescue any of the stock. Dr. Wilson is a good citizen and has done a lot of practice for which he receives no compensation. It is deplorable that any one should be so deprived as to see fire to his property and destroy it in the dead hours of the night. Dr. Wilson has had a similar loss before and it is hoped that the perpetrator will be caught and punished this time.

On Monday morning at about 2 o'clock Mr. B. L. Bradham's store at Jordan was totally destroyed by fire. Mr. Bradham had not been about the store since Saturday night, having spent Sunday in Manning. Following so close after Dr. Wilson's fire it would be a strain on the imagination to suppose that Mr. Bradham's loss was due to any kind of accident. The stock of goods burned was worth about $8,000, on which there was insurance to the amount of $2,000. The store building was the property of Mrs. John June and was insured to some extent. It will be recalled that about a year ago the railroad depot at Jordan was burned with every indication that it was the work of an incendiary. If a shrewd detective should be put to work it would probably not take him long to locate the villain who is the author of this devilment. Manning Hardware Company, Gentlemen: The Cole Cotton and Corn Planter bought from you two years ago has given perfect satisfaction. Consider it the most perfect and accurate machine of the kind I have ever seen. I do not hesitate to recommend it as a labor saving and also as a most desirable planter for cotton or corn. T. C. Owens.

RHEUMATIC FOLKS

Are You Sure Your Kidneys are Well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive. Don't dally with "uric acid solvents." You might go on till doomsday with them, but until you cure the kidneys you will never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended.

Rupert B. Galvo, bookbinder, employed at The State Publishing Co. of official printers for the State of South Carolina, living at 1010 Lumber St., Columbia, S. C., says: I thought I had rheumatism and treated for it on that belief. I used all kinds of liniments. The pain was in my back and in my hips clear to the shoulders. The liniments did no good and I took to blood medicines but they did not help me. I took a long trip hoping that a change of climate might help me. I was away for three months but could see no change for the better. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and determined to try them, and got a box at a drug store they completely removed the pains out of my back and I have not felt a touch of the old trouble since I used them.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
