Easter Sunday was spent in the worship of military and dresses. There were all kinds of hats and frocks on exhibition at the church. There was the toque, sailor, merry widow, catcher and everything else to make woman's appearance contrast with her early and former looks. They were had on their best dykes, new hats and dresses, shoes, parasols, gloves, teeth and complexion were seen at all the devotional exercises, but it was a fine sight, and it would not hurt anybody but man if Easter came about every month.

The Art Exhibit will begin at the Institute hall next Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. The doors will be open from four to six o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. The admission price for the exhibit will be 15 cents. The price of admission for the entertainment at night will be announced later. The Art catalogue gives a full description of each picture, and if you will bring a catalogue with you your visit will be made more interesting and profitable.

That Sheriff Gamble is on the alert for criminals is evident from the fact that he has just returned from Pennsylvania with two prisoners, and on last Friday a negro was arrested at Ellmore, according to a message from Mr. J. T. Gable to the sheriff. The sheriff has in charge a negro suspected of having committed a murder near Summerton. He gave his name as George Dyson, also Gabriel Conyers, but from his description as furnished by Strat Johnson who killed Gabe Guest by chopping him in the head with a rake, at a hot supper at Ed Tindall's house near Summerton in March 1906.

There was a gentle reminder of old times in town yesterday when the Republican county convention was held at this place. The convention was organized with County Chairman R. A. Stewart in the chair and with J. J. Gable presiding from all parts of the county. Upon the report of a nominating committee appointed by the chair the following delegates were declared elected: State convention—R. A. Stewart, J. DuRant and J. C. Cooper; alternate, John Dowd. Congressional convention—R. A. Stewart, W. D. Davis and M. W. Wainwright; alternate, W. D. Mounzon. There was a promiscuous kick about these alleged elections, but the convention was declared adjourned before any violence developed. Thereupon a second meeting was held at the Syfax Milton in the chair. After considerable discussion the following delegates were elected: State convention—G. J. McCoy, Rev. C. W. Wells and S. M. Walker; alternate, S. J. Smith and John C. Gable. Congressional convention—H. Spann, D. D. Douy, Quitman Hawkins, T. W. Tindall and L. H. Ballard. It is understood that the first set of delegates are administration supporters, but those who held the second meeting claim to be regulars. Some of the Stewart faction claim the Syfax Milton meeting as "condemned followers of Prioleau."

Sheriff Gamble accompanied by Mr. H. O. Simpson returned from Quaker town, Pa., last Saturday night, with their prisoners John and Mary Bates, charged with the killing of Morgan Richardson. The prisoners came back without putting the sheriff to the necessity of having the requisition of South Carolina's governor honored, and from what we can learn they were anxious to return to South Carolina. The chief of police at Quaker town charged the sheriff fifty dollars for making the arrest, but when Sheriff Gamble arrived neither of the arrested parties were locked up, on the contrary they were going about their employments as a matter of course. The population of Quaker town is largely Italian, and these two negroes must have made a great many friends among them from the demonstrations they were making when about to depart; the negroes seemed very much interested, for they offered no violence their excited behavior and peculiar demonstrations did not make our officers feel as comfortable as if they had understood these garlic eaters. Sheriff Gamble left on an early train for Columbia, but a large crowd at the station to see his prisoners off, where they embraced them and made much ado over them. John Bates and his wife Mary are now in jail awaiting trial, what evidence there is against them we do not know but we are told it is not so strong. The fact of their escape is being talked about, and the killing is probably one of the strongest circumstances pointing to guilt.

The Confederate veterans met last Saturday for the purpose of reorganizing and electing officers, also to determine whether or not to go to Greenville to the State reunion. Major A. J. Richbourg spoke to his comrades with much feeling, and at times he became eloquent as he depicted the days that are gone and the hearing of the old to come. The camp decided not to go as a body to the State reunion, but instead to have an adjourned meeting on May 9th, to consider the advisability of having a county camp. To have a two or three days outing at some lake, or mill pond, with addresses each day and camp fires at night. It was agreed that as the veterans were getting old and many of them infirm, a State reunion held at a distance would be fatiguing and would not give them the pleasure as would a gathering at home where all could feel free and easy. It was also said that at the State reunions the main attention was shown to the big officers while the common soldier was made to get along as best he could and in many instances old men with the effect of wounds upon their bodies suffered from inattention, improperly fed and uncomfortable sleeping quarters. The camp elected temporarily the following officers subject to the action of the meeting on May 9th: Commander, A. J. Richbourg; Adjutant, I. N. Tobias; Secretary, Geo. R. Jones.

There should be more interest manifested in these meetings of the old soldiers. They are not going to be with us much longer, and while they remain the spark of patriotism should continue to sparkle. The keeping up their meetings is an inspiration to the young as well as to the old. We had a full attendance on the 9th of May, and fire the meeting with old time enthusiasm. If Harry Bebbow camp decides to go into camp in the county we can assure them of the support of nearly every man and woman in the county. We are going to be helped by all means, and when you do, let every old soldier throw his haversack and blanket over his shoulder, kiss the old lady and children and hike out for three days of the greatest pleasure of his life.

The farmers of Plowden Mill and Harmony townships are requested to meet at Trinity school house Saturday May 2, for the purpose of organizing a farmers club.

Wood-cutter Jim is now setting the style for ladies hats, put a wreath of flowers on Jim's tin hat and it would be about as becoming as that merry widow worn by the walking-shirted boy for a short while, and his many friends were delighted to see him on our streets, and we give him the gland hand. We wish he would come back here to stay before the cotton season opens. He, and more like him will help this market.

School closing will soon be here, and we wonder how many of the scholars of our local school remembered, and made an effort to win the ten dollar gold cash prize. THE TIMES editor ventures to guess that a girl will carry off the gold. Boys can you not agreeably surprise us by waking up and coming out ahead?

We have received a telegram from Miss T. Nance, president of the school improvement association, informing us of her inability to attend the New Zion school picnic, as she has an engagement for that date. We regret this as we had built a hope on seeing the people of the Salem section a rare treat. However, Miss Nance says at some future date she will be pleased to come, as the following subsequent letter from her indicates.

Columbia, S. C., April 18, 1908. Dear Senator Appel: Your kind invitation reached me at Fountain last Thursday afternoon. I thank you sincerely for inviting me to come to your county to make an address at New Zion school and I would have been delighted to accept if I had not had a previous engagement for that date. If at any other time I can serve you or your county in any way I shall be delighted to do so. Very Sincerely Yours, MARY T. NANCE.

Appointment Explained. Inasmuch as we mentioned last week that we regarded as a discourtesy, not having our convenience with him, and in this reply we take it that the appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. S. P. Holladay was made before the Senator and Representative Woods had any knowledge of the resignation or why should Mr. Martin communicate with the State board, asking if they wanted to "change their votes from Mr. Browne to Mr. Bowman." Evidently the State board had voted to appoint Mr. Browne before Clarendon's delegation had any knowledge of the vacancy. The following is the letter: Columbia, S. C., April 15, 1908. Hon. Louis Appel, Manning, S. C. Dear Senator: Your favor of the 15th inst. with reference to the vacancy in the office of County Superintendent of Education, is to hand and in reply will say that I received your two letters and also your telegram recommending Mr. Bowman. These communications were considered by Mr. Martin and myself and a letter was written to each member of the board stating that in addition to Mr. Brown Mr. Bowman was also recommended for the position and that if it was desired to vote for Mr. Bowman to change their votes from Mr. Browne to Mr. Bowman, we would be glad to hear from them in the matter. There was certainly no intention to ignore your and Mr. Woods' recommendation and the same was voted to each of the members of the board by a communication from Mr. Martin's office.

I should have acknowledged receipt your letters and telegram, but in the multitude of business, the same was overlooked. Rest assured there was no intention on our part to ignore you in the matter. Yours Very Truly, M. F. ANSEL, Governor.

To the Voters of the Town. I desire to express to you my thanks for your hearty support of our ticket during the late municipal election, and at the same time define my position as to the second race. Had this ticket been elected, under the constitutional prohibition against holding two offices, I would have had to resign from the Board of Trustees of this School District as it was not, and as we are right now in the midst of negotiating the bonds for, and selecting people for, our new school building, I feel that I would unnecessarily complicate matters by coming of the Board of Trustees, when the town can so easily find some one else to serve it as Alderman. I have therefore determined to withdraw from the race, and would like to ask my friends to give their support to my personal friend, Mr. C. R. Spratt, who tied the vote with me in the first race. I wish our former competitors, and your choice on next Monday, a successful administration. Respectfully Yours, W. C. DAVIS.

We are still comparatively a young man, and the same vim, energy and determination to succeed that has characterized our efforts in the past will be manifested in the future.
