The Press Trip.

The annual meeting of the South Carolina Press Association held in Gaffney was without any exaggeration the most successful and enjoyable in the history of the organization.

But he had a pinch. He could afford to make claim to be able to entertain the press association. He had a birch-wooded people at his back. The entertainment was no doubt quite an expensive affair, but that did not matter to such people, they were entertaining the press of the State and every man, woman and child went heartily to the task.

The party was quartered at Limestone College, an institution surrounded with historic associations. It is situated about two miles from Gaffney upon a high hill, surrounded with beautiful lawns, slopes and trees, the scenery is superb.

It is utterly impossible to do justice in these columns to the attempt we make in this article to describe the hospitality of the good people of Gaffney. Let us say with a heart full of gratitude and sincerity that the entertainment of the association at Gaffney exceeded any in the association's history.

The Irene Mill, owned by Mr. Wheat, manufactures various goods, table linens principally and the goods turned out here are not only very pretty but of excellent quality.

We are ahead of our story. A part of the gang arrived at Limestone Monday night and were met at the train by a reception committee with Ed DeCamp at its head.

Tuesday morning the sessions began, called to order in the grand auditorium by President Aull and opened with prayer by Rev. A. M. Sims, pastor of the First Baptist church of Gaffney.

Mr. D. B. Jones, of Baltimore, who has been visiting his parents at Davis Station left on his return trip this morning. His mother went with him and will remain in Baltimore a few weeks.

The congregation of the Clarendon Baptist church will hold services in the Manning Presbyterian church next Sunday afternoon at 4:15. Rev. Mr. Haynesworth will preach. The public is invited.

Mr. James S. Mahoney, of Leesburg, Florida, is here to spend several days and friends. He is an uncle of Mrs. J. M. Bradham, of Manning, and has with him other relatives in the county, all of whom are glad to see him.

THE TIMES editor has just returned from the meeting of the State Press Association which held its sessions at Gaffney, and then took a trip to Asheville, Hendersonville and Lake Toxaway. If THE TIMES this week is not up to the standard the readers will understand why.

It is our opinion, based upon what we could gather in the upper counties of the State that Senatorial situation continues with Smith and Evans the leading candidates, with some probability of Rhetz distancing one of the two for second place. Smith, Evans and Rhetz are the leading candidates.

The State campaigners arrived from Sumter last evening, and those running for the minor offices got busy right away distributing literature. Senator Bleas was the only candidate for governor to arrive last night, and several local gentlemen called to pay their respects. Governor Ansel arrived this morning however, which was very gratifying to his friends.

Mr. Ransom L. Logan, the oldest man living in this section, died last Friday after only a few days illness. 91st year of his age. Active and jovial, straight as an Indian, he was a familiar figure on the streets of Manning. He had lived here for the past five years, and in this county for many years more, though he was a native of Camden. Mr. Logan volunteered and served in the Mexican war in the latter 40's and in the Confederate war in the 60's. His remains were buried in the Manning cemetery on Saturday morning after a brief funeral service conducted by Rev. D. A. Phillips. Mr. Logan was twice married, and leaves his second wife, four sons and two daughters.

Notice is hereby given to the colored teachers of Clarendon county, and to those who expect to teach, that a teacher's summer school of two weeks' duration will be held at the colored graded school building in Manning, beginning on Monday, July 20th. Principal R. E. Brogdon will have charge of the school. E. J. BROWN, Co. Sup't. Ed.

and they were richly entertained by Miss Nance's eloquent and earnest appeal for the improvement of our public schools. The address of this cultured lady, an educational missionary, should be read in every household in the United States.

Wednesday morning was picnic day, and after an early breakfast we boarded the train and were taken to Gaston Shoals, eight miles east of Gaffney, where is the greatest power plant in the South.

The trip to Gaston Shoals was a revelation to many of us and it will be long before our minds are clear of the most profitable we have ever taken. Returning to Gaffney we were driven about the city, and wound up the day by witnessing a game of baseball between Spartanburg and Gaffney.

Friday evening a musical recital was tendered us by Miss Dew, of Limestone faculty, assisted by Mrs. Hames, and Mr. Lipscomb. Again the culture and refinement of Gaffney in the college auditorium. The program was delightfully carried out. Miss Dew's performances on the piano and pipe organ were of a very high and pleasing order.

In a special train in charge of Mr. J. C. Lusk we left Gaffney with the heavy handshakes and good wishes of the multitude, bound for Asheville. On the route everybody was so overwhelmed by the loving kindness shown them by the people of Gaffney that our train for several hours was one of sadness, but Mr. Rorer L. Bouis, representative of the American Type Foundry company, a favorite with the South Carolina Association and one of the most genial fellows that ever lived, overlooked the situation and soon had things in a whirl, and from then until the party bade each other good bye everything was merry.
