THIS HUDSON-FULTON

Celebration is a big affair for all of us. It's a good thing to commemorate the daring courage of Hendrick Hudson, who sailed across the Atlantic in his queer little ship, the "Half Moon," to add to the knowledge about the new world. It is fitting to pay honor to Robert Fulton, whose crazy little steamboat, the "Clermont," which took two days and nights to go from New York to Albany and back, was the forerunner of our great fleets which cover the distance from Liverpool to Sandy Hook in about four days.

The thunder of the fleet which will salute these two historic crafts will be a tribute to courage and to progress. And if you'd like to see evidences of progress in other lines, compare
