The Christmas trade in Manning was very satisfactory, but some of them say the volume of business done did not equal last year.

Isn't it awful that we must settle between now and Friday? Wont some of those we indulged come across and give us a little help?

Those that have chances on the black horse and wish to be here when the draw takes place will come to Manning Wednesday, January 5th.

The marriage that we asked our readers to guess, failed to materialize because of the groom not showing up and the bride not having anything suitable to wear. Both of these things were necessary for the trick to be turned.

The street ornament used as a place to protect the police from the elements is not a permanent fixture, it may be some time before it is moved away, but it will be moved, if by order of the next Manning council, the distinction of being the only town in the world that has its police protected from the weather will be on duty.

Capt. D. J. Bradham requests us to announce that he will be in the auditor's office every Saturday during the month of January to attend to pensions. Those interested in this matter should come to the court house any Saturday during January.

On and after January 1st, those who order liquor will be violating the law if they have the stuff shipped in assumed names; this will be hard on the sly drinkers, who order in the name of other names than their own to keep from being known.

Rev. L. A. Cooper, the new pastor of the First Baptist Church will occupy his pulpit next Sunday morning, and Sunday evening the other churches will attend the First Baptist church and preachers will extend a welcome to the new minister.

Col. Geo. Scarborough of Darlington, is in Manning on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Harlee. Mr. Scarborough is a brother of Hon. O. C. Scarborough of Summerton, but coming from Darlington he claims to be the best looking, this however, is disputed by O. C.

The Columbia State was not issued Christmas day, and it was greatly missed by its patrons here for notwithstanding that newspaper assumes much it is not entitled to, it is a splendid newspaper and we all love to read it, even if at times it gets us fur turned the wrong way and needs reorienting with.

The lady referred to last week as having lost her temper with her rubber shoe, took us to task for eye-dropping her, and wants us to understand that she does not say such things in her husband's presence, but when any such emotions come to her she has a cat that does not mind, in other words she cusses the cat.

The annual election of officers for St. Peter's Lodge of A. F. M. was held last Wednesday night, and the following were elected for the ensuing year: F. L. Wolfe, W. M., L. J. Harvin, S. W., T. F. Coffey, J. W., R. R. Jenkinson, Treasurer, Fred Lessee, Secretary, E. C. Horton, S. D., G. M. Smith, J. D., J. M. Barwick, Tyler.

Clarendon county is in better shape now than it has been in many years, the people are enjoying an era of prosperity and its effects is being felt on every hand. It is very noticeable that more money is being invested in lands and in farm improvements. Most of the farmers have bank accounts and are ready for the coming year to go to work with great enthusiasm.

We have heard of depositing whiskey in government warehouses for storage, but never before we heard that banks receive the stuff on deposit, as was told us by a friend of our local banks one day last week. The depositor did not however hand it in through the cashier's window, but made the deposit on the floor, "and cast a downward glance and smiled a smile."

There is a prospect of Manning getting an ice factory this summer. One of our enterprising young men is in correspondence with a concern with a view of locating an enterprise here that will manufacture ice in competition with the monopoly now forcing our people to pay exorbitant prices for ice, they are taking advantage of our necessity and of their monopoly.

It has been customary for the Senator to ask the people to meet with the delegation to confer about county matters just before the legislature assembles, but inasmuch as there is nothing of special importance, and the people are expected to be at the county seat on next Wednesday to participate in the ceremonies of laying the corner stone, and dedicating the court house, it has been concluded not to have the delegation's annual meeting.

This is the last issue of THE TIMES for the year 1909, and we wish to thank our patrons for the liberal patronage given to us during the year. Every effort was made to give the people a paper second to none in the State, and this effort was successful. It is the purpose of THE TIMES to improve and keep abreast of the times, and we hope that our readers will aid us in making THE TIMES for the year 1910 even better than it has ever been.

It is with regret that Clarendon loses such a citizen as Mr. D. C. Shaw, who has moved to Sumter from Alico, we never did think he should live at Alico, and when he was here he gave us a move to Sumter it came near breaking our heart. Mr. Shaw is a good man and he deserves a better fate than to carry his excellent wife and promising children to such a place, when Manning is here ready to receive him always. And he will be here, it is too late and before the wickedness of Sumter takes a hold.

On and after January 15th all persons who are over one year in arrears to this Station will be forced to pay in advance. It is timely notice in order that they cannot have the excuse to say they did not know they would be cut off. It is impossible for us to carry a dead-beat set of readers. If the paper is worth receiving it is worth paying for, and we should rather have 1,000 paying subscribers than 2,000 on our list and one-third of them dead-beats, a dead-beat is the most contemptible creature on earth, and it is surprising how many of these cattle there are.

The patriotic sentiment of the people is appealed to for contributions for the confederate monument. So far the money is coming in slow but we hope the list will swell and grow longer now that the Christmas season is over. This movement is not a Manning affair any more than any other part of the county, the whole county is interested, and all should share in commemorating the deeds of the brave patriots who gave their lives for a cause they believed to have been right; they responded to their country's call, and their deeds of valor are glistening on the pages of history, it is due them that their children should erect a monument to their memory, will they do it?

Why, yes, Clarendon has been under a prohibition law ever since November, 1908, and Summerton is a part of Clarendon, so is Pinewood, Faxville and Davis Station, and all of these places are on the Alcolco Railroad, and the Northwestern Railroad in the county, and we are surprised that you should not have noticed that prohibition is in vogue in Clarendon. This is intended as a reply to inquiries, if the express agents at all the stations will send us a statement of the liquor receipts at their respective offices, we will go over the dispensary books for the year ending November, 1908, and in this way it can be found out whether there is as much liquor brought into the county since we have been under prohibition as there was before. There are many who believe there is fully as much since the dispensary closed.

The F. N. Wilson Insurance Agency at its annual meeting last Monday re-elected its officers and declared a dividend of 33 per cent., paying its stock holders 25 per cent., and turning the remainder into surplus. A company that can make such a showing has nothing but the best of companies to give to its patrons. When a risk is taken by this agency the insured can feel perfectly safe, that is the case of troubles will be paid. There is no agency anywhere that has a stronger line of companies, it will handle none but the best, they can secure other companies that may pay better commissions and thereby make more money for the company, but the management and the directors want the safest and the best to offer the insuring public, hence the large and increasing volume of business.

Christmas day passed off quietly in Manning. The town council had forbidden the shooting of fire crackers on the streets and the day was very quiet, all of which had much to do with making the day quiet. The only signs of a Christmas racket was soon in the morning when the booze fighters were lined up at the express office for their packages. The sight looked like the crowd at the ticket wagon just before the performance was to begin at a circus. Much of the obnoxious was distributed, and as each one got his package he hiked up and looked before some rousing season, and some whites who had also imbibed too much of the Florida fire-water. Otherwise Manning enjoyed an ideal Christmas.

Those desiring to apply for the position of township commissioner for the coming year should send their applications to Mr. W. J. Storen, Supervisor of the Census, Charleston, S. C. We desire it understood that THE TIMES editor has nothing to do with the appointments, and will make no recommendations unless asked to do so by the Supervisor. If that officer refers an application to THE TIMES editor he will then answer the questions asked by the official. We mention this matter now because there seems to be an impression on the minds of a number of people that we have appointments in our hands, which is a mistake, nor do we wish to have anything to do with them and will not have any more than courtesy demands. We have troubles of our own without adding more to them. Therefore, stop writing to us on the subject and communicate in your own hand writing direct to Mr. Storen who is getting paid to listen to the woes of those wanting jobs. If this suggestion is acted on it will save the applicants the anxiety of waiting for a reply from us.

The legislature convenes January 11, and so far as we know the delegation from this county has no local matters to get through, and the only business to be made provision for the Paxville school district, and possibly some little legislation to give the council power to assess property for public improvements—such as sidewalks, water works and building up the highways. If it can be done without a veto, the constitution, Manning will not have any patch work concrete sidewalks, council will be given the power to force property owners to pay what is required for public improvements. It was hoped that it would not be necessary to have legislation, and that the owners of property would be willing for the general welfare to help pay for these improvements, but it seems that there are few who will do nothing without being forced, and forced they will be, if the constitution will permit, we are told by a reputable lawyer that notwithstanding the opinion of the town's attorney, the constitution will allow the right kind of an Act and that it will give the power needed to prevent a few property owners from stopping progress.

Last night was quite an event with Clarendon Lodge of Knights of Pythias. The castle hall had a fairly good turnout, one candidate took the lead in the quire, got a good safe deliverance and did not ask for any change. This being the time for the annual election, the following were elected for the coming year: A. C. Bradham, Chancellor; Commander: Frank Moffett, Vice Chancellor: Dr. J. M. Cole, P. T. Tolson, O. W. Widham, Master of Work; A. O. O'Brien, Keeper of Record and Seals; Eddie Cutino, Master of Finance; Thomas Nimmer, Master of Exchequer; E. B. Brown, Master of Arms; R. L. Bell, Inner Guard; W. T. Tobias, Outer Guard. After the election and the initiation the Knights repaired to the Dixie Cafe where a splendid supper was served. Clarendon 173 is now on the road to a flourishing condition. The new Chancellor is going to try to infuse new life into the Lodge, and if the members give him the aid he deserves and has a right to expect, there is no reason why Manning should not have as good a Lodge as any in the State. Come Knights let us all give Brother Bradham a good strong pull for a successful administration for the year 1910.

Tobacco.

Within the next few weeks seed beds for tobacco plants should be prepared and no one who contemplates growing a crop of tobacco this year should neglect to do this important work in the most thorough manner. Last year THE TIMES published one of the most comprehensive methods of doing this work, with the result that those who followed instructions secured fine plants and good stands when transplanting. The unfavorable seasons made the crop poor in grades, but this was owing to weather conditions which came about at long intervals. It might be well for those who plant tobacco by last year's crop to remember that the conditions were not local, but extended over most of the bright leaf tobacco belt, and by reason of this there is now a great scarcity of good tobacco. This condition will assure the planter better prices for a fair grade this season than has been paid in years. The present high price of cotton is very attractive but it would be suicidal to neglect the tobacco crop on that account, as it is not likely we will have so poor a crop another year. It will sell at prices that should induce the planter to plant in cotton this year than ever before and with favorable seasons a like larger crop will be produced. This condition would bring about the same result of some years back, when cotton sold at 17 cents, followed by a year of 6 and 7 cents cotton and we all know how impossible it is to grow it at that price and make a profit on our labor. Very many of our farmers have been at considerable expense for barns, tobacco sheds. All this would be a waste if tobacco is neglected. The necessity and inducement for growing grain and hay crops have never been so great in the history of our country as at this time. These commodities are selling at prices that should induce their production in greater quantities on every farm. The farmer who attempts to run his place and buy them is likely to be confronted with a deficit larger than he has dreamed of in years of almost total failure in crops. This will think back for a few years will realize that at no time has it been more necessary to conserve our resources and make the most of our opportunities by guarding the future by past experiences.

Summerton Masons Meet.

On December 9, Summerton Lodge, No. 105, A. F. M., elected and installed the following officers: W. R. Wood, W. M., E. D. Davis, W. T. Tobias, P. M., W. J. Q. Mathis, Treasurer; J. C. Lanham, Secretary; H. P. Troy, S. D.; J. F. Way, J. D.; C. W. Evans and W. R. Mathis, Stewards; J. E. Tennant, Tyler.

There has been a very successful year with the Lodge. Besides paying all debts and contributing to various worthy objects of charity, they have paid $50 to further the interests of the Masonic house to be built.

Last night they held a regular communication and conferred the Third degree on four candidates, after which the annual banquet was enjoyed at Summerton Hotel.

Big Day Next Wednesday.

The corner stone laying of the court house and the school house to take place next Wednesday will be attended by a large crowd from all over the county. The visiting Masons will be entertained by the local craft, and the Grand Master, Governor, Supreme Court Justices, the visiting lawyers and the visiting county officials will be the guests of the local delegation, court house commission, and county officers and the local lawyers. Every preparation will be made to make this an event to be remembered.

The laying of the corner stone of the court house is a matter that the whole county is interested in and every citizen should help by his or her presence to make it the greatest day of Clarendon's history. We hope the whole county will turn out, there will be good addresses, the Governor and the Chief Justice will make addresses, both of these distinguished gentlemen in coming, are honoring the people of Clarendon and we are satisfied if the weather permits the people will show their appreciation by attending the ceremonies, and we think that where possible the school children of the county should come here in bodies representing their communities. Let the 5th day of January be a day set apart by the whole county for the celebration of the laying of the corner stone of the best and prettiest court house in South Carolina.

The Confederate Monument.

The movement so long neglected has at last begun to erect a monument to the memory of the heroes who wore the gray, soldiers whose record was the marvel of the civilized world. Clarendon now proposes to place upon the court house a suitable mark of its patriotism by having erected a shaft in honor of those who responded and laid down their lives upon their country's altar. All contributions sent to THE MANNING TIMES will be acknowledged through this column.
