

Every Month

writes Lola P. Roberts, of Vienna, Mo., "I used to be sick most of the time and suffered with backache and headache. My Mother, who had been greatly helped by the use of Cardui, got me two bottles, and I have been well ever since."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is a gentle tonic for young and old women. It relieves and prevents pain. It builds strength. It feeds the nerves. It helps the whole system.

Made from harmless roots and herbs, it has no bad after-effects, does not interfere with the use of any other medicine and can do you nothing but good.

Try Cardui. It will help you. Your dealer sells it.

Touch Not the Queen.

Under this title a Paris journal professes to give an account of the tragic death of the queen of Siam, who was as greatly loved as her consort. Some years ago her majesty was boating with ladies of the court in a lake in the gardens of the palace at Bangkok. The boat overturned, and the queen could not swim. She was surrounded by numerous persons who could have saved her life, but no one has the right to extend the hand to the queen. The king alone could have held her up and prevented her from sinking, and he was nowhere at hand. Respectfully the court allowed the queen to drown.

Chippendale's Own.

"Is it genuine Chippendale?" "Absolutely, sir." "But this looks like a crack right across." "Done by Chippendale himself, sir, in a fit of rage when he heard the queen had called the men out."—London Punch.

The Other Was Important.

"Two great desires of my life have been gratified. One was to go up in an airship." "And the other?" "To get safely back to earth."—Exchange.

A Real Pretty Excuse.

Bessie's Mother—Bessie, did you let that Mr. Snuggles have a kiss? Bessie—Yes, mamma. He said it would be a goodby kiss, and I was just dead anxious to have him go—Puck.

ECONOMY!

ECONOMY!

WHY?

A revelation in perfection, ease of operation, comfort and beauty. The Economy is built for REAL SERVICE, built in such a way that you will positively know and appreciate after operating it, that in it we are giving a REAL DOLLAR'S worth of value for every dollar invested—built so that it is not simply a "good roads" vehicle, but so that it will serve you on and over most of roads, built not only to run in fine and fair weather, but so that it is EVER READY for service, both in winter and summer. Built so that it matters not whether you have either sand, deep snow or mud roads to travel, you can always start up with assurance and satisfaction of knowing that you can go when you please, where you please, and yet feel as near certain as one can be of anything in this world that with an Economy you can and will get back—the power is in the Economy.

Do You Help Others? It has been truly said that for every one who stands alone there are twelve to lean against him. How is it with you? Are you one of those against whom others lean for help and encouragement, or are you leaning against some one and drawing your inspiration and courage from him? It depends entirely on yourself whether you take a positive attitude in your work or whether your negative characteristic shall dominate. It is much easier to go through life making as little effort as possible, but it is a poor way if we are going to make life yield even a small modicum of what it holds for us. If you are working earnestly and hoping for success there is only one way to attain it, and that is the way your positive characteristics.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Julius Cascaer. Cascaer was assassinated March 15, 44 B. C., and was at the time of his death fifty-six years old. It is not alone as a military genius that his fame endures. By almost common consent he was the most remarkable all round man of antiquity—masterfully great not only as general, but as writer, statesman and administrator. In addition to these high accomplishments he was a great mathematician, philologist, architect and jurist. His conversational powers were extraordinary, and from all accounts he was in his manner one of the most attractive of men.

Henry of Navarre and the Red. Henry IV. of France was a firm believer in the adage, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." In a letter to the governess of his son he wrote in October, 1607: "Madame—I have to complain that you have not informed me of having flogged my son. I desire and request that you will flog him whenever he is disobedient or otherwise troublesome, knowing as I do that nothing will do him more good. I speak from experience, as at his age I was frequently birched."—Paris Galette.

Just Made It. Farmer Giles (who has just cashed a check)—I don't think this money's right. The Cashier—Would you mind counting it again, sir? I think you'll find it correct. Farmer Giles (having done so)—Yes, but you be careful, young man; it's only just right.—London Sketch.

Foley's Kidney Remedy—An Appreciation. L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." W. E. Brown & Co.

Two in Company. "Have you ever loved before?" asked the coy maid. "Yes," yawned the worldly young man, "but—never before a chapman, two small brothers and a pet bulldog."

And then she suggested a trip down the old road to see the stars.—Chicago News.

A Sugar Coated Pill. "How did you persuade your daughter to learn kitchen work?" "By calling it domestic science."—Pittsburg Post.

INCURABLE. Some Interference Wireless Operators Cannot Overcome. Few are the steamer passengers who fail to visit the wireless office aboard ship to watch the operation of the instruments and to question the operator. Needless to say, the technical understanding of the well meaning visitors is a variable quantity. The operator must listen to wondering explanations, original suggestions for the improvement of the service, discourses on the relations between wireless telegraphy and spiritualism and other doubtful topics with uniform courtesy. At times, however, the strain is too great. It was a lady passenger with an eye for details who came to the wireless room and looked wonderingly in. "Oh, here's the wireless! May I come in? Isn't it wonderful to think of sending those waves—you call them waves, don't you? How fascinating to work at this! Are those jars filled with water?" "Those are condenser jars, madam, quite empty." "Really? I don't believe I could ever understand it. That coil of wire looks like a birdcage." "That is the inductance helix." "What are those things over your ears?" "The receiving telephones." "Then you have telephone connection too. One can hardly keep up with the times these days. What does that coil do?" "That is the receiving tuner and interference preventer." "Wonderful! Does it keep out all interference?" "Not all," replied the operator wearily. "Some kinds of interference can't be tuned out; we just have to stand it."—Youth's Companion.

Come In And Ask About it We want to tell you about the latest and newest labor saver for the farmer—a marvel of mechanical genius—a regular "Jim Dandy"—the light, handy and simple Fuller & Johnson Farm Pump Engine. You never saw anything like it before—nothing like it has ever been made. It makes a windmill pump into a perfect Power Pumping Plant in a few minutes, and besides pumping, it runs separator, churn, grindstone, or any machine ordinarily run by hand. You do the attaching yourself. Costs less than a windmill! It's well worth a special trip to learn about the most wonderful invention you ever heard of. Next time you are in town come in sure. We want to give you a catalog free.

His Critic. "The greatest compliment that I ever received," says Opie Read, "was a criticism. Several years ago I went to Arkansas and visited the scene where one of my stories is laid. The landlord of the little hotel said to me: 'Here comes a little old fellow to whom I loaned a copy of your book. He can't read, but his wife reads to him. Let's see what he says about the book.' 'Hello, Jason, did your wife read that book to you?' 'Maw'nin', sah. Yes, she done read it to me.' 'Well, what do you think of it?' 'Huh? That ain't no book at all. I done lived here for forty years an' I done hearn folks talk that a-way all th' time.'—Cincinnati Inquirer.

A Reliable Cough Medicine. Is a valuable family friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfills this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." W. E. Brown & Co.

Not a Born Forger. The indorsement of checks is a very simple thing; but as the following story will show, it, too, has its difficulties: A woman went into a bank where she had several times presented checks drawn to Mrs. Lucy B. Smith. This time the check was made to the order of Mrs. M. J. Smith. M. J. were her husband's initials. She explained this to the paying teller and asked what she should do. "Oh, that is all right," he said. "Just indorse it as it is written there." She took the check and after much hesitation said, "I don't think I can make an M like that."

Fearless Queen Sophie. In 1809, when the combined armies of Victor Emmanuel and Garibaldi attacked Gaeta, Queen Sophie of Naples conducted the defense, her husband, Francis II., being utterly unaverted. Most of her time was spent upon the ramparts, where she remained during the hottest fire. She was absolutely without fear. Once when a bomb burst in the room where she was dining with her husband and his suit she walked to a mirror that hung on the wall and, noticing that her hair was whitened by the plaster the bomb had scattered, remarked: "What a pity powdered heads are out of fashion! White hair suits me admirably."

Ends Winter's Troubles. To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost-bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold-sores, red and rough skins prove this. But such troubles fly before Buckle's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of burns, boils, piles, cuts, sores, bruises, eczema and sprains. Only 25c at all druggists.
