The last man on earth will likely be a surviving pensioner.

This is probably about as good a time as the State House would find to fall.

According to the Abbeville Medium they have niggers in Anderson county and colored people in Abbeville.

Congress seems to be able to appropriate about as much money in a short session as in a long one.

Why will a circuit judge sentence a prisoner to seven or ten years, or for life for that matter, and then in a few years recommend a pardon by the governor.

Do they learn something about the case after a lapse of time that they couldn't see when the case was tried?

A South Carolina Senator from Edgefield, Preston Brooks, is principally remembered for having administered a caning to Charles Sumner.

Now it is announced that a daughter of Senator Tillman, of Edgefield, is going to marry Charles Sumner Moore.

Will this be in the nature of compensation or retaliation, or how?

A man named John Alexander Cicero Scipio Everso Poor, Baron Disease, or something like that, had greatness thrust upon him last week by marrying a young girl named Gold, or something like that, in New York.

They went on a bridal trip down to Jekyll Island, but whether he will prove to be a Dr. Jekyll or a Mr. Hyde remains to be seen.

The Baptist Courier approves the enactment of a marriage license law in this state and says there is one feature about it that ministers will gratefully recognize—that of having the judge of probate to share with them the responsibility of marrying run-away couples.

The best feature, however, about the law is the required registration of all marriages, which will be a great improvement on the slack custom that has heretofore obtained in this state.

Let this be followed up by a law requiring registration of all births and deaths, then we will have a positive basis on which to establish heredity that will be appreciated in future years.

That squabble between Governor Blease and the Supreme Court, as to which had the right to name a special judge, developed one important fact that has escaped general comment, and that is the fact that there was no occasion at all for the appointment of a special judge.

But for the collision between the high-ups a special judge would have drawn an extra salary while Judge Watts, unengaged, would have taken things easy while drawing his regular pay.

These extra terms of court and special judges bob up with striking frequency, since we have established twelve circuits with twelve regular judges, while we hardly ever had one when we had only eight circuits and eight judges. Why is this thus?

CAPITOL CORRESPONDENCE.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 11, '11.

When the general assembly first convened a resolution was adopted in the Senate, which I opposed, to adjourn on the 10th of this month.

I opposed it on the ground that it was impossible to know the date of adjournment at that date, and time has shown my position to be correct.

The fact is, in my opinion the mover of the resolution was playing to the galleries for popular effect.

Even at this late date it is not certain when an adjournment can be reached on account of the election of an associate justice.

There are now three candidates in this race running neck and neck, and unless one of them get out of the way, or there is a loughing off from one of them, we may be in session until next Saturday night, and may have to continue into the week following.

The friends of each of the candidates believe their man will eventually win, hence they cling to him; last week I said that it was my opinion that Judge Memminger would win, but while I still think so, the chances of Judge Watts have brightened considerably, and some think that Mr. Fraser may finally land. Personally I am voting for Memminger.

I believe the election of either of the three will be alright as they are all men of high character, and are good lawyers.

I hardly know how to write a letter this week without covering that which I have heretofore written about. There has been nothing done in the past week which I regard of general importance, in fact, aside from the local legislation nothing has been done which is interesting.

The appropriation bill is now in the finance committee of the Senate, and notwithstanding it is the largest budget the State has ever carried, the majority of the committee is not disposed to cut it; for one, I have protested against a number of items in the bill, but my objections were overruled by the majority, and those of us who insist upon cutting these items will have to carry our objections to the floor where we hope to secure some concessions.

I am almost sure that Governor Blease will veto several items in the appropriation bill if he carries out his platform, and I think he is the kind of a man who will do just what he promised on the stump, and when he does, his action will meet with the hearty approval of the masses I am sure.

The tax question is one that is giving the people great concern, and unless there is a halt in these tremendous appropriations there will be a revolution in the State, one that will sink into insignificance compared with the revolution of 1890.

If provision is made for the present budget so as not to have a deficit, it will take a seven mill levy. There should be a limit to the improvements that are contemplated at the educational institutions, and those other institutions seeking to expand.

I am not opposed to progress, but I am opposed to a progress which goes so fast it reaches beyond the means of those who have the burden to bear.

I am glad to report the fish bill, through the activity of the delegation, has had its third reading in the House, and it will come back to the Senate with some minor amendments which will be concurred in, and then it will be ratified and made ready for the signature of the Governor.

The amendments are merely to admit Dorchester and Orangeburg counties into the measure, and some trivial amendment to section 2 which does not affect the general principle of it, but before it can be enrolled for ratification the bill must come back where it originated for these amendments to be concurred in.

I have received some letters regarding this measure, and in order that the people may know just what it provides for, I herewith republish it as it finally passed both Houses, and would suggest that this letter be preserved by those interested in the fishing laws:

A BILL For the Protection of Game Fish in the Counties of Berkeley, Bamberg, Colleton, Chester, Clarendon, Dorchester, Orangeburg and Williamsburg Counties, and for the Repeal of Certain Laws Relating Thereto.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina: SECTION 1. That in the counties of Berkeley, Bamberg, Colleton, Chester, Clarendon, Dorchester, Orangeburg and Williamsburg, for the purpose of classification, the following fish shall be known as game fish, viz: Jackfish, trout, striped bass or pond fish, war-mouth, robb belly, robb, creek, copper-head or ball-bream, banded bream, yellow-belly perch, sun perch, red fin trout or yellow perch, rainbow trout, speckled trout, hyer, crappin, rock bass, rockle-eye and white perch.

SECTION 2. That hereafter, during the months of April, May, June and July, no person or persons shall cast, draw, fasten or otherwise make use of any seine or drift net, fyke net or any other device, or use any other appliances for the catching of game fish, except hook and line and ordinary bait, or by spoon, or by artificial fly, or by phantom minnow, or by artificial bait.

SECTION 3. That in the counties of Berkeley, Bamberg, Colleton, Chester, Clarendon, Dorchester, Orangeburg and Williamsburg, for the purpose of classification, the following fish shall be known as game fish, viz: Jackfish, trout, striped bass or pond fish, war-mouth, robb belly, robb, creek, copper-head or ball-bream, banded bream, yellow-belly perch, sun perch, red fin trout or yellow perch, rainbow trout, speckled trout, hyer, crappin, rock bass, rockle-eye and white perch.

SECTION 4. No navigable stream in the counties of Berkeley, Bamberg, Colleton, Orangeburg, Dorchester, Clarendon and Williamsburg shall be obstructed by dam or otherwise unless there be provided a fishway in same.

SECTION 5. For the violation of this section the person or corporation so violating shall be fined not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars for each day that such obstruction shall exist without said fishway in same after having been notified in writing by any person that such obstruction exists.

SECTION 6. Any nonmigratory fish, except game fish, may be caught at any time or in any manner not prohibited by this Act. Migratory fish may be caught in accordance with the several provisions of this Act hereby enacted.

SECTION 7. That for the violation of any provisions of this Act not otherwise provided for, upon conviction, he shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars, or be imprisoned for not less than ten days nor more than thirty days.

SECTION 8. It shall be unlawful to throw, place or put dynamite or any explosive in any lake, stream or inland water in Berkeley, Bamberg, Colleton, Chester, Clarendon, Dorchester, Orangeburg and Williamsburg counties for the purpose of taking fish.

SECTION 9. That all fines collected for the violation of any of the sections of this Act shall be turned into the county treasury to be disbursed the same as any ordinary county fund.

SECTION 10. That this Act shall take effect immediately on its passage and approval by the Governor.

I understand there is some criticism of my action in having Clarendon exempted in the drainage Act. Well, I cannot expect to have everything I do to meet with the unanimous approval, and do not attempt to trim my acts to do so.

I try my best to use sincere judgment and do what I think the people ought to have done regardless of whether it meets with approval or not.

The drainage bill is a very long one, and it was impossible to give it consideration in its entirety.

I therefore looked into some of its provisions and reached the conclusion they would not suit conditions here, or rather I had a doubt, and rather than to take any chances I had Clarendon exempted in order to see how such a measure will work elsewhere first, and then, if I come to the conclusion it is a good thing, and the people have need for such legislation it will be easy to amend the Act so as to let it operate in this county.

There is no doubt that drainage is a great thing, and that it not only improves the lands affected but it improves the health conditions as well.

The only question with me is, are our people ready for such legislation? It is a safe assertion that there will be no general school legislation at this session, as the Bill introduced in accordance with the suggestions of the School Law Commission has been carried over to the next session, and the proposed amendment to the High School Act has been killed.

I have been flooded with applications for the position of Notary Public the past week, and in each case I referred the applications to the governor with my endorsement; owing to the hitch in getting the law passed, there has been a little delay about getting out the notices of appointments, but by now every applicant who is fit to be appointed will receive a formal notice from the Secretary of State, together with a blank oath.

Capt. D. J. Bradham who for many years was one of the trustees of the State Colored College at Orangeburg has resigned, and the general assembly unanimously elected Mr. E. Dudley Hodge for the position.

I do not know whether or not Mr. Hodge will accept, as he is one of the Board of Registration; if he accepts the trusteeship he will have to give up the other position.

The position of trustee of a college is an honor only conferred to select men, and while this is a colored college, it is a State institution, and must be under the guidance of white trustees; they are the representatives of the people of the State, and responsible for its financial management.

Mr. Hodge has always manifested an interest in school matters, and I believe he would make a first-class trustee. The fact that he is from this county, he would have the advantage of the experience of Capt. Bradham who was regarded by the educational authorities as one of the best trustees the institution had.

The selection of Mr. Hodge by the general assembly is a high honor, especially as it was unsought by him, but came to him as a surprise.

I have also had applications for the position of supervisor of registration, but will state, the commissions of the incumbents do not expire until next February, one year hence.

There will be no appointment for this place until next year, unless Mr. Hodge resigns. In that case the appointive will be selected from the western part of the county.

At present there is one member of the board from Salem, another from the Forreston neighborhood, and Mr. Hodge from the Fork; his successor, should he resign, will come from a section not already represented.

The delegate on for recommendation to the governor for appointment as members of the county board of commissioners, Mr. W. M. Davis, of the Fork section, Alcolu postoffice, and Mr. T. Brooks Mims of Pine-wood. Both of these gentlemen are good business men, and are much interested in road development, as well as the county's financial affairs, they come from sections where the roads have not had the attention they need.

There is no complaint of the administration of the former board but it was thought best by the delegation to get men from sections that have not been on the board lately, and, too, the members of the former board had expressed a doubt of their serving again.

The affairs of the board for the past year have been as well managed as any previous board, and I hope the new board will do as well.

A bill seeking to improve the jury was up for discussion this week which makes practically a clean sweep of the exemptions. I took the position that school teachers, ministers and newspaper men should not be required to serve upon juries, but the senate took a different view and included all three to be liable for jury duty.

My reason for wishing newspaper men exempted was that by the nature of their business they are disqualified, for the reason that they are in a position to form an opinion before the case is tried; when a crime is committed, they seek all the information they can get for their newspapers and naturally form opinions; school teachers too should be exempt for the reason that they frequently are teaching alone, and in such a case service upon the jury would interfere with the school work, and the same reason applies to preachers. There is a clamor to purify the jury, but in my opinion, the Act, if it becomes a law, will not make the juries any better, and the very men the Bill seeks to put upon juries will be objected to nine times out of ten.

If I should publish a full account of a crime that has been committed, the lawyers interested on the other side will certainly not want me to sit in judgment, and they are right as it would be unjust to their clients.

This letter is not as full as I usually write, and the reason is explained in the beginning, there is very little to write about that has not been previously covered in my communications. However, I will soon be back at my post, and I shall then, from time to time discuss the various measures that have been enacted into law.

The mileage break bill has not found its way upon the statute books yet, and may not at this session for the reason that the railroad commission are opposed to the bill because it takes from that office its jurisdiction, and they are now working upon a scheme which will remedy some of the complaints that have been made along this line.

I believe, however, that the introduction of the bill has had a good effect and will result in some changes in freight rates whether the legislature does anything or not, as the commission realizes that such action is demanded.

The mileage bill which passed the senate is in the house with a hard fight before it, if it is reached at all; the conductors have been up before the house committee urging the legislature to let the law alone, and I was told that traveling men also objected to the contemplated legislation.

It is my opinion the railroads will not put into effect mileage books to be pulled on the trains, they will take them off entirely if the bill goes through as originally introduced.

The bill to prevent the formation of "ill shaped counties" has passed and it will have the effect of putting a crimp upon those who are constantly agitating new counties, causing the taxpayers a heavy expense for the gratification of a few persons who have political or financial interests to gratify.

The Heyward county proposition has cost the people of that section thousands of dollars without results. The Rutledge county affair has cost us much money for nothing, and the contemplated Beulah county will cost a whole lot of money before it is ended if the projectors insist upon their scheme.

I voted for a bill to put the expense of new counties upon those who are furthering the scheme because I do not think it is fair to make the old counties pay for this sort of thing.

I see where two new banks have been organized in Manning. I hope they will prove my conjecture wrong, but I cannot see how so many institutions in a limited area can possibly succeed.

Both of these new institutions are well officered and they may see farther ahead than I can. I hope so.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from this vicinity.

Mrs. M. S. Montgomery, Railroad avenue, Kingstree, S. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly in return for the great benefit I have received from their use. I had a lame-ness across my joints and such severe backaches that I could not turn in bed. Mornings on arising, I was so lame and sore that I could hardly dress myself and it required considerable effort for me to get about. That my kidneys were out of order was shown by the unnatural condition of the secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills not only removed the backache, but restored my kidneys to a normal condition."
