

Saved His Wife's Life. "My wife would have been in her grave to-day," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time. Infalible for coughs and colds, it's the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, laryngitis, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Spoiled It All. A farmer went to hear John Wesley preach. Wesley said he would take up three topics of thought. He was talking chiefly about money. His first was, "Get all you can." The farmer nudged a neighbor and said: "This is strange preaching. I never heard the like before. This is very good." Then Wesley discoursed on "Industry." "Activity." "Living to Purpose," and reached his second division, "Save all you can." The farmer became more excited. "Was there ever anything like this?" he said. Wesley denounced thriftlessness and waste, and he said that the willful wickedness which lavishes in luxury, and the farmer rubbed his hands, and he thought, "All this has been taught from my youth up," and what with getting and what with hoarding it seemed to him that "salvation" had come to his house. But Wesley advanced to his third head, which was "Give all you can." "Ah, dear, ah, dear," said the farmer; "he has gone and spoiled it all!"

A Deceptive Fish. A naturalist who is familiar with Ceylon writes: "In the clear water of Colombo harbor it is not uncommon to see fallen and faded leaves of the jake tree floating a short distance below the surface or sinking slowly to the bottom. Certain small fish, commonly known as sea bats, mimic these leaves both in form and color in order to escape detection. Both in shape and color they look when in the water like waterlogged leaves, but when removed from their native element this resemblance is immediately lost. They float in the water half sideways and all swim in the same direction, turning simultaneously. On one occasion Mr. Willey attempted to capture one of these sea bats in a rock pool and directly he made a plunge with the hand net saw nothing except what he took to be a jake leaf slowly and inertly sink to the bottom. To his astonishment, as he withdrew the net the supposed leaf righted itself and darted away."

Foley's Kidney Remedy is particularly recommended for chronic cases of kidney and bladder trouble. It tends to regulate and control the kidney and bladder action and is healing, strengthening and bracing. W. E. Brown & Co.

The Clear Infinity. That which we foolishly call vastness is rightly considered, not more wonderful, not more impressive, than that which we insolently call littleness, and the infinity of God is not mysterious, it is only unfathomable; not concealed, but incomprehensible; it is a clear infinity, the darkness of the pure, unsearchable sea.—Ruskin's "Modern Painters."

Revenge by Proxy. Celtic Stranger—Tim Hennessy has just bin arrested. What will ye charge to defend him? Very Young Lawyer—Ten dollars is my fee in police court cases. Celtic Stranger—Well, here it is. I've had it in for Tim this long toime, an' tis worth tin dollars to git even wid him!—Puck.

Makings of an Artist. He who works with his hands only is a mechanic; he who works with hand and head is an artisan, and he who works with hands, head and heart is an artist.—Ruskin.

Little things are little things, but to do little things faithfully is a great thing. F. S. Rexford, 615 New York Life Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., says: "I had a severe attack of a cold which settled in my back and kidneys and I was in great pain from my trouble. A friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills and I used two bottles of them and they have done me a world of good." W. E. Brown & Co.

Anniversary thoughts. "Hubby, dear, do you know that we will have been married ten years next Tuesday?" "Yes; I realize that we are getting along and should begin to economize for the needs of the future." "It is not the future that I am thinking about, but the present."—New York Herald.

Truly Remarkable. "Quite a remarkable thing happened at the banquet last night." "Did somebody tell a story that was new?" "No; the stories were all old, but one of the speakers who said he had nothing to say sat down immediately after saying it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Short Story. "My new novel is a story of married life," said Scribbler. "Bolt it down," admonished the publisher. "Married life is a short story nowadays."—Philadelphia Record.

Had Him. The Client—I won't pay your bill; it's extortionate. The Lawyer—What will you do? Hire another lawyer to contest my claim and pay his?—Exchange.

A Peek Into His Pocket would show the box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve that E. S. Loper, a carpenter, of Marilla, N. Y., always carries. "I have never had a cut, wound, bruise, or sore it would not soon heal," he writes. Greatest healer of burns, boils, scalds, chapped hands and lips, fever-sores, skin-eruptions, eczema, corns and piles 25c at all druggists.

Lincoln Told a Story. At one time a friend complained to President Lincoln that a certain cabinet officer was administering his office with unusual energy with the hope of securing the presidential nomination. "That reminds me," said Mr. Lincoln, "that my brother and I were once playing a field with a lazy horse, but at times he rushed across the field so fast that I could hardly keep up with him. At last I found an enormous chip on him and knocked it off. Now, I am not going to make that mistake a second time. If the secretary has a chip on him I am not going to knock it off, if it will only make his department go."

Little Dr. Holmes. Thomas Wentworth Higginson in speaking of Dr. Holmes said: "He was a very small man physically. Though one of the greatest physicians in the country and one of the greatest wits and writers, he had almost a boyish appearance. I remember when he returned to Harvard to attend a meeting of the Phi Beta Kappa he had a poem to recite, and he had to stand on a table so that all might see him. "Dr. Holmes had studied in Paris—a remarkable thing in those days—and his services as a consultant in serious cases were always in demand. In one serious case the patient was a woman. As her own family physician entered the room with Dr. Holmes, who had been called in, the patient turned around in bed and said indignantly: "Doctor, why do you bring that boy into this room?" "Why," expostulated the family physician, "that's Dr. Holmes." "He isn't a doctor," answered the patient peevishly. "Take him out!" "And Dr. Holmes had to leave the room, much to his annoyance. Then the family physician got a chance to explain matters, and Dr. Holmes went in, but he confessed to me afterward, with very bad grace, he didn't like to be taken for a boy even by a very sick woman."—New York Tribune.

Seeing Your Own Brain. In Professor Lloyd's work, "The End of the World," the experiment of seeing one's own brain is interesting. The experimenter, with a lighted candle, enters a perfectly dark room. He stands before a black curtain or wall, so that details cannot be seen by the candle's feeble light. The candle is moved laterally to and fro in front of the eyes, keeping it about six inches from the face and just below the tip of the nose. In a few minutes something as if a thin mist, seems to grow before the eyes. It becomes more definite and gains outline, and then soon one may distinguish the venation and the division of the brain. The theory is that the moving light produces a counter irritation of the nerves that conduct the impression of sight to the brain. The current is reversed, and the brain is pictured on the retina. Then the impression returns through the nerves and affects the brain so that we see it.

Shepherd and Sheep. A minister was once addressing a Sunday school. It was a Sunday school of little children, and the minister in his address desired to compare himself to a shepherd and his congregation to the shepherd's flock. "What are these beautiful animals?" he said, pointing to a drawing on the blackboard. "Sheep, sheep!" chorused the children. "And the cloaked figure in the foreground—what is he?" "A shepherd!" the children cried. "Exactly," agreed the minister, beaming with satisfaction. "And now, dear children, can you tell me what it is that the shepherd does for the sheep?" A score of little mouths opened wide, and a score of treble voices cried shrilly: "He shears 'em!"

Quaint Cures of Old. For epilepsy wear a ring made from a coffin ring and take seven drops of blood from the tail of a cat. These remedies are equally efficacious either separately or in conjunction. For toothache carry in the pocket the tooth of a soldier killed in battle or eat mouse nibbled bread or trim your nails on a Friday. To cure warts, rub a potato and give the potato to a pig, or rub them with a piece of chalk, then put it in a little bag and throw it across crossroads. Holding the affected finger in the ear of a cat for half an hour was reckoned an excellent remedy for a felon.

Origin of the Word "Farm." The origin of the word "farm" is as follows: In the Saxons time the estates which the lords of manors granted to the freemen were at first but for a term of years, with a render of a rent, which in those days was of corn and other produce. The leases so made were called fermes or farmes, but times ensuing turned the produce into money and terms of years to terms of life and inheritance.—Westminster Gazette.

Hopeless. "I refuse your hand, Mr. Squash," the young girl said coldly, "for two reasons." "Name them!" Squash cried hopefully. "Name them, and perhaps—who knows?" "They are," she interrupted, "yourself and another man."—Exchange.

Wide Awake. Passerby—I thought you were blind. Medicant—Well, boss, times is so hard and competition is so great that even a blind man has to keep his eyes open nowadays if he wants to do any business at all.

Holding His Own. "Stingy, isn't he?" "You've said it. Why, he holds fast to everything he gets his clutches on and even bolts down his dinner!"

A Sticker. Ella—He is always hanging around. Stella—Yes; I don't believe you could lose him if he were an umbrella.—New York Press.

He that plants thorns must never expect to gather roses.—Pillar.

Calamities of Authors. Homer was a begger; Plautus turned a mill; Terence was a slave; Cervantes, the author of "Don Quixote," died of hunger; Bacon lived a life of meanness and distress; Raleigh died on the scaffold; Spenser, the charming, died in want; the death of Collins was through neglect, first causing mental derangement; Milton sold his copyright of "Paradise Lost" for £15; Dryden died in poverty and distress; Otway died prematurely and through hunger; Lee died in the gutter; Steele lived a life of perfect warfare with bailiffs; Goldsmith's "Year of Wakefield" was sold for a trifle to save him from the grip of law; Savage died in prison at Bristol, where he was confined for a debt of £8; Butler lived a life of penury and died poor; Chatterton, the child of genius and misfortune, destroyed himself.

Rheumatism Relieved in 6 Hours. DR. DETCHON'S RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM usually relieves severest cases in a few hours. Its action upon the system is remarkable and effective. It removes the cause and the disease quickly disappears. First dose benefits, 75c. and $1. Sold by W. E. Brown & Co.

Early Horse Race Prizes. Prizes for winners of horse races hundreds of years ago took curious forms. The earliest was the "briglia d'oro" or golden bridle. After this the prize in England was a bell. This idea was taken from the custom among owners of pack horses of decorating the best horse, which led the caravane, with a bell, so that on dark nights and in dangerous places the whereabouts of the leader might be known and the others follow boldly. At Carlisle silver bells were raced for by the moss troopers and dalesmen, and specimens of these bells are still retained in the town hall.—St. James' Gazette.

Card Playing. Card playing began in India in the fifth century. It was introduced into Europe by orientals some time prior to the thirteenth century. Saracens popularized the amusement in Spain and Italy. The taste for the game afterward spread to Germany, where it commenced to be indulged in about 1275. Its appearance in France was mentioned in the records of that country in 1393. Heraldic cards were first known in England in 1600.—New York Telegram.

His Trade. "And you say you have a trade?" asked the kind lady at the door. "Yes'm," said the tramp; "I'm a worker in precious metals and stones." "Indeed! And can't you get anything to do?" "No'm; de perlice and de jewelers are all on to me."
