

Zulu "House Boys." The best of all servants in South Africa is a Zulu, especially if he is raw—that is, fresh from his native kraal and totally unspoiled by the wiles of civilization. Such a "house boy" is honest, sober, quick, clean and anxious to learn the ways of the white man. He soon becomes as deft as an English butler and as handy as the ideal housemaid. He does everything, from cooking to answering the door, and after a little practice he does it well. The boys have all manner of strange names, usually chosen by themselves from some one or other of the words they hear often used, such as sixpence, "ticky" (three penny piece), shilling, breakfast, kettle, silly foot, ugly, pint pot, scrubber, chopper or whisky.—Harper's Weekly.

The Lion's Taster. Miss Charlotte Mansfield in "Via Rhodesia" tells of a native South African boy who came to England and was taken to the Hippodrome. Instead of enjoying the entertainment, however, he begged, with tears in his eyes, to be taken out, and he said: "There are lions over there—pointing to the stage—and I am the only black man here." It is a well known fact that a man eating lion will make a meal off a black in preference to a white man if it is a question of choice. Perhaps the flavor is stronger and the taste for white flesh—like caviar—has to be acquired.

Why He Retracted. Kilmore—After all, Steedman isn't so bad a fellow. He came to me, man fashion, and took back all the things he had said against my people. Burman—Did it voluntarily? Kilmore—Practically that. It is true I threatened to shoot him on sight if he didn't retract, but that was only a matter of detail.—Exchange.

Anything to Oblige. Tourist (at Irish hotel)—You seem tired. Pat. Walter—Yes, sorry, my very early this morning—half past 6. Tourist—I don't call half past 6 early. Walter—quickly—Well, half past 5 'till.—London Punch.

Contradictory Admissions. Farmer (having caught his son in a lie)—Haven't I always told you to tell the truth? Son—Yes, father, but you also told me never to become the slave of a habit.—Boston Transcript.

Go to the Rescue

Don't Wait till it's Too Late—Follow the Example of a Manning Citizen.

Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble comes. Backache is kidney ache. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, Look out for urinary trouble—dropsy. This Manning citizen will show you how to go to the rescue. Mrs. L. Newman of Manning, S. C., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid backache and kidney remedy and I can say that they have been used in my home with excellent results. A member of my family had a lame and aching back, together with a kidney weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills were used in this case and they brought relief. I have never had need of Doan's Kidney Pills myself, but I have often advised their use, as I know what they will do."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color.

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying, which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray. When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be lifeless or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wreth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts. Wreth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.
