The court of general sessions was called Monday and then adjourned in honor of Jefferson Davis' birthday, a legal holiday in this State.

Major Abe Levi left Manning Monday in his automobile for Abbeville to attend the Levi-Roseberg marriage that takes place this evening.

The court now in session has a heavy docket which will probably take up the entire week, but Judge Wilson is disposing of the cases in rapid order.

Died in the Bethel section of Williamsburg county yesterday, Capt. W. J. Burgess, aged 80 years. The deceased had many relatives in this county.

It is reported here that a negro was shot Saturday night in the Pinecroft section, but we have been unable to learn who the parties to the shooting are.

Married last Sunday at the residence of the bride's father, Miss Willie E. Hamilton and Mr. Johnson Morris. Judge Richardson of Foreston performed the ceremony.

Prof. J. C. Daniel has gone to Spartanburg in his car. He will go to that city this morning to spend the greater part of his vacation. We hope should he take this trip he will be able to speak his mother tongue without the French accent when he gets back.

Died suddenly Monday afternoon Mr. James P. Andrews aged 50 years. The deceased leaves a widow and three children. He had been in bed, health for several years, having been stricken with paralysis. Monday he stopped to rest on Dr. C. B. Geizer's office steps and another stroke came, he was taken to his home and in a short time he passed away.

The State Executive Committee at its meeting last night has fixed the itinerary for the speaking campaign. The first meeting will be at Sumter on the 18th inst., and at Manning July 3rd. It is hoped when the meeting takes place in Manning there will be a large attendance and that Clarendon will set the example for good order and a respectful hearing to all of the speakers.

Sneak thieves are operating in Manning. They have recently entered upon the premises of Mr. E. L. Wilkins and stole from a private house some money and articles. On Monday night they entered the room occupied by Mr. J. C. Campbell at the Nevea Hotel, stole his pants and took 20 cents and a pocket knife from the pockets, and then left the pants, fortunately for the owner.

The sheriff had very little sale work last Monday. The property sold for delinquent taxes, some of which may be that white has received the surveys for the lumber interests. The Michigan scheme of surveyors making plats of swamp lands for their own profit, and leaving the bona fide owners and employees, and force the actual owners to a compromise or a new sale, has been reported in this section of the country. The scheme has been practiced for the past several years. It is therefore an almost certain swamp lands offered at public sale must run the gauntlet of the Michigan surveyors. The bona fide owners are afraid to bid when swamp lands are offered for taxes or as unknown.

In Loving Remembrance.

In loving remembrance of our dear one, Mrs. Sue Stone, wife of S. S. Stone, who departed this life at her home in Paxville, Friday, May 29th, her remains were laid to rest in Home Branch cemetery the following day at 11 A. M. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband and eleven children; she was a loving wife and a devoted mother. She had been confined to her room for the past nine months and here God's affliction fell, she turned to the bright side of life to her friends, was always in good humor, and had a dear sweet smile on her face like an angel. Those about her were being constantly cautioned not to fret for her but to so live they could meet her in heaven, and on her last day she said her husband good-bye, said she was happy and saved. She sang all day Friday until the end came two of her favorite songs were "Over There" and "Some Day We Will Understand." At her request her daughter, Bertha, had these songs sung at the funeral. God bless this loving family, the younger being only nine months old. Rev. M. J. Kiser conducted the funeral service and he preached an appropriate sermon.

Through all pain at times she'd smile, A smile of heavenly birth, And when she leaves her earthly home, She smiled farewell to earth.

Heaven retained her our treasure, Earth the lonely casket keeps, And the sunbeams love to linger, Where our sainted Cousin sleeps.

They gentle voice now is hushed, They warm, true heart is still, And on thy young and innocent brow Is resting death's cold chill.

They hands are clasped upon thy breast: We have kissed thy lovely brow, And in our loving hearts we know, We have no darling—Sue—now.

Call not back the dear departed, Anchored safe where storms are o'er, On the horizon land she has left us, Soon to meet us in part no more.

When we leave this world of changes, When we leave this world of care, We shall find our missing loved one, In our Father's mansion fair.

Precious Cousin, she has left us, Left us, yes, forever more, But we hope to meet our loved one, On that bright and happy shore.

Lonely the house, and sad the hours, Since our dear one has gone, But, Oh! a brighter home than ours, In Heaven is now her own.

We miss thee from home dear Cousin, We miss thee from thy place, A shadow on my heart is cast, We miss the sunshine of thy face.

We miss thy kind and willing hand, Thy fond and earnest care, The home is dark without her, We miss her everywhere.

Earth has lost its look of gladness, Heaven seems to us more bright, Since the spirit of our dear one Took its happy homeward flight.

And we long to cross that river, Long to rest upon that shore, There to see and know and love her, With the Saviour evermore.

She has gone from her loved ones, Her children, her husband, Whom she willingly tolled for, And loved as her life.

Oh, God! how mysterious and how strange are thy ways, To take from us this loved one in the best of her days.

Oh, that dear one, how we loved her: Oh, how hard it was to give her up, But God saw fit to send angels down for her, And remove her from her flock.

HOME MISSIONS.

MANNING AUXILIARY

The missionary enterprise began in a germ of divine life. It must grow, for the things of God cannot come to naught. It must grow in our individual lives; otherwise there is spiritual decline. A vision of faithfulness, obedience and love to God, love for mankind; a true purpose in life; a strong faith in eternal truth, an earnest desire for the extension of the Kingdom of righteousness, means in individual enlargement of missionary effort, by giving unshingly a definite portion of his time and money.

Seeking the best use of time, strength, time talents, and money.

What we are to do as individuals should be done at once, for the awakened, I cannot, I dare not, go to judgment until I have done the utmost God enables me to do to diffuse his glory throughout the whole world.

Commencement of Davidson College.

The Davidson College came to its close on the 25th of May. This was its 75th anniversary, the ending of three quarters of a century of useful work. This was an exceedingly interesting occasion, and was largely attended. There have been 345 students in attendance during the past year, 39 of them have just graduated. Two promising boys from Manning, Messrs. J. T. Stokes, Jr., and Grady Bowman are among the students who expect to return to school.

The college conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon three ministers this year, one of them was the Rev. Davidson McDowell Douglas, who graduated from it some 10 years ago. He is now President of the Presbyterian College at Clinton, S. C., which is prospering greatly under his administration.

Dr. Wm. J. Martin, who has been an able professor in Davidson College for a number of years, was elected its President at this commencement, and entered upon his duties, in the place of Dr. Henry Louis Smith, who recently accepted the Presidency of Washington and Lee University in Virginia. The election of Dr. Martin has given great satisfaction, and the prospects for the future of the college are very bright.

Old World Armorers.

In olden times the armorer's work was not of a rough and ready description, but generally bore the signs of highly wrought workmanship. The various pieces of a suit fit into their positions to a nicety, there are no rough edges and, as a rule, very little that is merely careless decorative work. Fashion and reputation have left their mark on the armor of each period, and, like most other industries, it had its distinguished masters. The name of Jacob Topf is, for example, still famous in England, and such names as those of Lorenzo Colman of Augsburg, a German armorer of the sixteenth century; Lucio Pincinolo, a Milanese, and the Wolfs of Landau, a family of armorers that are supposed to have worked for Philip II. of Spain, are celebrated in their own countries.—Argonaut.

A "Fowl" Ball. A ball game between two semipro teams, one colored, was played on the north side and attracted a numerous following of negroes, who went a long way to root for their team. They occupied a section by themselves, says the Chicago Post.

A fowl ball went in among them and did not come back, causing a red haired contender to go to that part of the stand and yell: "Throw that ball back. What do you think it is—a chicken?"
