LOUIS-BROOK, Manager.

May Improve in Time.
The wife of a downtown merchant was horrified the other day when her six-year-old son was overheard to turn loose a succession of mixed words and slang phrases which would have done credit to a street gamin. That night when her husband came home she told him of the wonderful vocabulary which their only son and heir had acquired.
"Is it true that you have learned to swear?" the merchant asked his son. He was astonished when the youngster straightened up and said, "Yes, but I haven't learned to do it good yet."
It required several applications of the strap before the youngster knew that swearing was not an accomplishment.—Kansas City Journal.

An Arab in the Rain.
"Those who are not accustomed to rain are frightened by it," says a writer. "I once saw an Arab raised upon for the first time. He was subjected to a drenching and demanded to have his passage paid from the country—Sicily—in which the dread phenomenon occurred. He had been conveyed from the Sahara, I think, by a European, whose servant he was, and he evidently thought his master was behaving abominably to him in permitting him to get wet. By the first steamer he returned to his native desert, abandoning excellent wages and shaking the raindrops furiously from his slippers' feet."

The Bow and Arrow.
The first mention of the bow and arrow is found in the book of Genesis, where it is written that Ishmael, the son of Abraham, "dwelt in the wilderness and became an archer." "A bow shot," too, is mentioned as a measure of distance. In the scriptures sates found at Khorsabad and Nineveh representations of archers frequently occur, and the bow seems to have been a weapon in the Assyrian and Persian armies.

Sympathy.
Regular Customer—I shall want a large quantity of flowers from you next week for my daughter's coming out. Flower Woman—Yes, mum. You shall 'ave the very best for 'er, pore dear. Wot were she put in for?—London Punch.

One View of It.
Little Waldo—Papa, what is public spiritness? Mr. Grumpman—It is that which prompts a man to try to mind everybody else's business before minding his own.—Satire.

Strong One Way.
Wife—My husband is not well. I'm afraid he'll give out. Wife's Mother—Well, he may give out. He certainly never gives in.—Town Topics.

Political Carentry.
Caller—What's all that pounding in the back room? Senator Talkem's Office Boy—Dunno. I heard the boss say he'd got to frame a speech, and I guess he's doin' it.—Exchange.

Painfully Polite.
Old Gentleman (to boy on twelfth birthday)—I hope you will improve in wisdom, knowledge and virtue. Boy (politely)—The same to you, sir.

For Men Only.
She—Why did you call this painting "Peace"? He—Observe the absence of female figures from the picture.—Illustrated Bits.

When a Har speaks the truth he finds his punishment in the general disbelief.

Are Ever at War.
There are two things everlasting in war, joy and piles. But Buckle's Arnica Salve will banish piles in any form. It soon subdues the itching, irritation, inflammation or swelling. It gives comfort, invites joy. Greatest healer of burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises, eczema, scalds, pimples, skin eruptions. Only 25 cents at all druggists.

He Was Posted.
A six-year-old boy was taken to the zoo by his forty-year-old father. They saw the elephant, they saw the monkeys, they saw the ox. Finally they got to the ornithological collection. The kid noticed an interesting bird in the eagle cage, and he asked:
"Papa, what's that bird?"
Papa looked at the label and replied, "That is an Austrian eagle."
"Gwan," said the boy. "It ain't no such thing."
"Yes it is. It says so in the catalogue."
"I don't care what it says in th' catalogue. I got eyes. This here bird ain't got but one head. The Austrian eagle has two heads, an' I know, fer I've saw a pitcher of it on flags"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

For Fast Shooting.
The rifle for rapid firing should have shotgun weight, shotgun balance, shotgun trigger pull, shotgun fit, and the sights must be such as can be caught instantly without effort in alignment. The hands grasp the piece firmly, not with the rifleman's loose grip, but the right draws back, and the trigger is pulled by transferring the drawing back force to the trigger finger and not by any conscious crooking of that finger. The moment the hand covers the mark the bullet must be under way, be the aim good or bad.—Outing.

A Mother's Answer.
When Earl Ferrars had been convicted of murder great efforts were made to obtain a pardon on the ground that he was insane. His mother being appealed to and requested to write a strong letter on the subject, answered, "Well, but if I do how am I to marry off my daughters?"—Green Bag.

Headstrong.
Mrs. Homer—Don't you thing your husband is rather headstrong for an invalid? Mrs. Neighbor—Yes, and the doctor is to blame for it too. Mrs. Homer—Indeed! And why, pray? Mrs. Neighbor—He won't allow him to take any nourishment but goat's milk.

She Quotes an Authority.
Elsie—When I grow up, mamma, I'm going to be extravagant like you. Mamma—What makes you think I'm extravagant? Elsie—Well, I'm sure I've heard papa say so lots of times.

How She Caught Him.
"What would you do if you caught your husband flirting?"
"I'd wig, my dearest, that's just the way I did catch him!"

Between two girls choose neither. Between two goods choose both.—Edwards.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

County of Clarendon.

By James M. Windham, Esq., Judge of Probate.

WHEREAS, G. Henry Curtis, made suit to me to grant him Letters of Administration with the Will annexed, of the estate and effects of Charles K. Curtis.

These are therefore cited and admonished all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said Charles K. Curtis, deceased, that they be and appear before me, in the Court of Probate, to be held at Manning, S. C., on the 25th day of July next, after publication hereof, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said administration should not be granted.

Given under my hand this 6th day of May, Anno Domini, 1911.

J. M. WINDHAM,
Judge of Probate.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND LAR

for children's safe, sure, no operation

The Supreme Court.
Only four times has the supreme court responded to the outward voice of fashion. The first occasion was when it was decided to elevate the bench from the floor, for in the old days the judges occupied the same level as the lawyers and audience. At another time the carpet on the floor was changed after forty years of service. The next revolution occurred when reporters were allowed to take notes within the supreme court room. Before that the attorneys in the supreme court had to depend entirely on their memories to answer arguments of opponents who cited previous decisions. Another important change occurred when it was decided that the jurists of the highest tribunal should not by reason of the short recess suffer the pangs of hunger or tide themselves over with a snatched luncheon of sandwiches. Therefore the court now adjourns in state for a midday meal.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in News-Letter.

Very Cautious.
Little Ethel had been very naughty. It was certainly wrong of her to be the cat's tail to the chair leg and pour ink into her father's slippers. She deserved to be punished. So her mother sent her from the room without any dinner, but when the pudding came on the scene her conscience smote her, and she determined to give Ethel another chance.
"Tell Ethel if she will be very, very good for the rest of the afternoon she may have some pudding," she said to the servant.
The servant delivered the message and returned in a few minutes with the reply, "Please mum, Miss Ethel wants to know what kind of pudding it is before she makes any promise."

Expressed His Feelings.
"This story proves the falsity of the old theory of teaching children words without meaning," said a university professor. "I visited a school where the teacher was giving words to her pupils to be pronounced, spelled and defined. One boy gave the word 'ferment.' 'It means to work,' said the boy. 'All right,' said the teacher, 'please give me a sentence.' This was the sentence: 'I would rather play outdoors than ferment in the school.'"

Sincere Admiration.
"Why do you insist on keeping a parrot?"
"Because," answered the lonely man, "I like to hear it talk. The parrot is the only creature gifted with the power of speech, that is content to repeat just what it hears without trying to make a good story of it."—Washington Star.

Man and the Dog.
We are alone, absolutely alone, on this chance planet, and amid all the forms of life that surround us not one, excepting the dog, has made an alliance with us. A few creatures fear us, most are unaware of us, and not one loves us.—From a Masterlink Essay.

Slightly Puzzled.
"Say pa?"
"What is it?"
"Which union does a jack of all trades belong to?"—New York Press.

Two Relatives.
Eess—Charlie will you tell me what time it is? I've left my watch at my aunt's. Charlie—Awfully sorry, but I can't. I've left mine at my uncle's.

Indian Killed on Track.
Near Rochelle, Ill., an Indian was killed on a railroad track, and was killed by the fast express. He paid for his carelessness with his life. Often its that way when people neglect coughs and colds. Don't risk your life when prompt use of Dr. King's New Discovery will cure them and so prevent a dangerous throat or lung trouble. "It completely cured me, in a short time, of a terrible cough that followed a severed attack of Grip," writes J. R. Watts, Floydada, Ark. "and I regained 15 pounds in weight that I had lost." Quick, safe, reliable and guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

A Dead Give Away.
Wife—What would you do, George, if you were left a widow? Hub—Oh, I suppose the same as you would if you were left a widow. Wife—You horrid wretch! And you told me you could never care for anybody else.—Boston Transcript.

Looking Forward.
"I didn't know your husband had been so ill."
"For two weeks he was so bad that I began to think of remarriage."—Journal Amuseant.

Presence of Mind.
She—What do you mean by saying that Elsie is "more or less pretty"? He—Well, she's more pretty than most girls and less pretty than you!—Simplicissimus.

One Way.
Madge—Did you tell her she was older than you? Marjorie—Oh, no; that wouldn't be polite. But whenever we meet in a car I offer her my seat.

Conceit may puff up a man, but can never prop him up.—Ruskin.
