

Saved!

"I refused to be operated on, the morning I heard about Cardui," writes Mrs. Elmer Sticker, of Terre Haute, Ind. "I tried Cardui, and it helped me greatly. Now, I do my own washing and ironing."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is a mild, tonic remedy, purely vegetable, and acts in a natural manner on the delicate, woman-by-constitution, building up strength, and toning up the nerves. In the past 50 years, Cardui has helped more than a million women. You are urged to try it, because you are sure that it will do you good. At all drug stores.

The Higher Slang
 Marks—The conductor on the Cambridge car this morning had a dispute with a passenger about his fare, and he kept exclaiming: "Transvent, transvent!" What do you suppose he meant? Parks—That's a new one to me, but for a guess he meant "Come across!"—Boston Transcript.

Only in Chemistry
 Tommy—Paw, doesn't precipitation mean the same as setting? Mr. Pige—It does in chemistry, but in business you'll find that most men in setting don't show any precipitation at all.

Unreasonable
 "See here, my friend, you must walk more."
 "Walk more? Why, doctor, I can't afford to walk. I own a $5,000 auto."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fit and need make all flesh kin
 There is no caste in blood.—Edwin Arnold.

Geo. T. Craddock, Rubie, Ark., says:
 "I was bothered with Jungero seven years so bad I could not work. I tried several kinds of kidney medicine which gave me little or no relief. Two bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me and now I can do any kind of work. I cheerfully recommend them to my friends." The Dickson Drug Co., Manning, S. C., Leon Fischer, Summerton, S. C.

Renewed His Courage
 "Jabe Mathis, of the Tidewater Georgia was a good soldier," said General Longstreet, "but one day, when the Confederates were retreating from the gory field of Gettysburg, Jabe threw his musket on the ground, sobbed himself by the roadside and exclaimed with vehemence: 'I'll be dogged if I walk another step! I'm broke down. I can't do it.' And Jabe was the picture of despair."
 "Git up, man," exclaimed the captain. "Don't you know the Yankees are following us? They'll get you sure."
 "Can't help it," said Jabe. "I'm done for. I'll not march another step."
 "The Confederates passed along over the crest of the hill and lost sight of poor, dejected Jabe. In a moment there was a fresh rattle of musketry and a renewed crash of shells. Suddenly Jabe appeared on the crest of the hill, moving with hurricane swiftness and followed by a cloud of dust, as he dashed by his captain that afternoon."
 "Hello, Jabe! Thought you wasn't going to march any more?"
 "Thunder" replied Jabe as he hit the dust with renewed vigor. "You don't call this marching, do you?"—Kansas City Star.

Simplicity of Jenny Lind
 Jenny Lind must have been the most simple, unpretending prima donna that ever lived. When she first visited England she was bound to sing only at the Royal Italian Opera House, and when commended to sing at the queen's concert she was obliged to refuse. Very contrary she was compelled to notify this, she ordered her carriage and drove straight to Buckingham palace. She handed her card to an official, who, not ungenerally, declined to take it. A higher authority happened to pass and took it upon himself to present it. As soon as her majesty saw it she said, "Admit her by all means." Jenny Lind appeared and said simply that she was so very sorry to be unable to sing at her majesty's concert that she thought it better to call herself and explain. The queen was charmed with her natural manner, gave her a cordial reception and promised to be her friend.

Fortunes in Faces
 There's often much truth in the saying "her face is her fortune," but his never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25 cents at all drugstores.

Qualified to Instruct
 Mr. Green—What a lot I seem to have learned tonight! How I have benefited by this conversation with you, my dear Miss Roberts! Somehow your intellect seems to appeal to mine. Are you a literary lady? Miss Roberts—No; I am a teacher in an infant school!

Easy
 "Woman must be independent," said the suffragette orator. "But the question is, How can we get the same wages that men do?"
 "Marry them and be on the job Saturday night," suggested a mean man in the audience.—Exchange.

Misunderstood
 "Before you were married he said he would go through fire and water for you, didn't he?"
 "I thought he did, but I think now that I misunderstood him. I think he must have said fire water."—Houston Post.

Don't Be Too Expert
 Having graduated from a business college with honors, the young man thought himself competent to tackle any problem in banking that could be learned without actual experience, but the old clerk knew better.
 "Can you make an estimate so neatly that it would take an expert to tell where it had been done?" he asked.
 "Yes, sir," said the young man, with conscious pride.
 "Well, for heaven's sake don't tell your prospective employer so or you will be looking for a job this time next year," the old clerk said.
 "Employers are afraid of too much skill in that direction. It gives such enormous opportunities for fraud that they will fight shy of hiring you."
 "I found that out in my young days. I also was an expert with the ink eraser and proudly proclaimed my accomplishment. Finally when I found myself toiling the starvation mark I ceased to boast and have held a good position ever since."—New York Times.

Advertising Brought Up to Date
 The president of a Pittsburgh savings bank called in his advertising man one morning and said:
 "What institution wants is some striking advertising material, something that will catch the eye and command the mind. Fix me up an ad. that will make a hit when it is published in the morning papers."
 Two hours later the advertising man laid this on the bank president's desk:
 "If Elijah were living today there would be no ravens to feed him. That brand of raven has gone to roost forever."
 "The only bird that will feed you now is the eagle on the American dollar. Catch the eagles. Save the dollars. If you do you and your family will never starve. You will have Elijah backed off the boards."—Popular Magazine.

Saved by His Wife
 She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. R. "for a dreadful cough which I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—croup, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50c and $1.00 Guaranteed by all druggists.

Battle of Armageddon
 Readers of the Bible know that the battle of Armageddon, which in the revised version is Har-Mageddon, is to be the last conflict between the hosts of the Lord and all the powers of darkness. It is prophesied in Revelation, xvi. 16. "And he gathered them together in a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon." The name comes from har megiddo, the mountain land of Megiddo. There is where the stars fought against Sennacherib, as narrated in the book of Judges, and where Joshua, rebellious king of Judah, was slain by Pharaoh, king of Egypt. The "battle of Armageddon" is used symbolically to describe any great conflict, but in its original meaning it referred to the final struggle which is to precede the millennium.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Consolatory
 A correspondent of an English paper tells how some one visited a wild beast show and saw a countryman come in bearing unmistakable signs of having had a glass too much. A tiger scratched the back of the hand with which the man grasped a bar of the cage. The laceration was severe, and the pain was great. The sufferer danced about and tried his shillalah, crying: "Let him out! Let him out! I'll have me will or him!" A companion tried to soothe the irate dancer with this neat impromptu: "Never mind Pat. Sure, he only wanted to scrape acquaintance wid ye."

Whittier's Good Wishes
 A young woman once sat at a boarding house table beside a reserved and awkward country boy whom she delighted to tease. When she left she asked him to write in her autograph album. The poem which John G. Whittier wrote there stands as a warning to other young ladies that she who laughs first at a seemingly dumb countryman may be herself laughed at many years later. The quaint concluding stanza is:
 "My life—may nothing vex it,
 Thy years be not a few,
 And at thy final exit
 May the devil miss his due."

Mrs. Peter Holan, 11501 Buckeye Rd., Cleveland, O., says:
 "I was bothered with kidney trouble, indeed I can remember Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. My little boy had a bad case of whooping cough, some time he was blue in the face. I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and it had a remarkable effect and cured him in a short time." Contains no harmful drugs. The Dickson Drug Co., Manning, S. C., and Leon Fischer, Summerton, S. C.

No Answer Handy
 This is only worth the telling, writes a correspondent, because it contains a retort which, though a triumph of inconsequence, seems to me quite unanswerable. I happened to be reading some obvious newspaper proofs in a train when the good natured man next to me, with the intention no doubt of making himself agreeable, asked, "Ah, are you connected with the press?" I intimated briefly and perhaps not over-courteously that it was none of his business. He persisted that it was a quite civil inquiry, and that he was "quite sure" that I had not asked him whether he was a clerk or a shop assistant. As he was obviously neither, this nettled him. "If I knew," he said, "what newspaper you belong to I would never buy it again."—London Chronicle.

A Famous Widow
 One of the most famous widows of antiquity was Agrippina, the widow of Germanicus. During the lifetime of her husband she attended him in all his campaigns and shared his dangers. Suspecting that her husband had been poisoned, she had his presumed murderer assassinated and was herself soon after treated with such indignity by Tiberius that she was driven to despair and starved herself to death.

Mr. Jas. V. Churchill, 90 Wall St., Auburn, N. Y., has been bothered with serious kidney and bladder trouble ever since he left the arm, and says: "I decided to try Foley Kidney Pills as they had cured so many people and I soon found they were just the thing. My kidneys and bladder are again in a healthy condition. I gladly recommend them." The Dickson Drug Co., Manning, S. C., Leon Fischer, Summerton, S. C.

Must Believe It

When Well-Known Manning People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Manning the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

William Hill, Manning, S. C., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a great deal of good and I am pleased to recommend them. My kidneys were badly disordered and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I also had backache and pains in my loins. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, I began their use and it was not long before the backache and lameness left me, together with the other symptoms of kidney complaint. I know what Doan's Kidney Pills will do and I am convinced of their merits."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Dilatory Painter
 One of the characteristics of Sir Thomas Lawrence, the portrait painter, was dilatoriness. "Lord Normanton," says a writer, "must have had the patience of a Job wedded to the politeness of a Grandison, for, although in 1818 Lord Normanton had already been sitting off and on for three years, I find him still in 1824 discussing in the politest manner what the background of her ladyship's picture shall be and only venturing in the mildest way to remind Sir Thomas that he had also himself been sitting to him ever since the year 1815!" The portrait was delivered in 1827.

Odd Marriage Belief
 An unmarried man or woman of marriageable age is something that is rarely seen in the Fiji Islands. The reason of this is not far to seek. The natives believe that if a person dies while in an unmarried state, his or her soul is doomed to wander about through endless ages of eternity in an intermediate region between heaven and hades. At the end of each moon they are allowed to look into heaven, but are never permitted to enter.

Fielding and Batting
 "What do you think of Fielding?" asked a young lady of a graduate of one of our universities with whom she had been talking about the early English novelists.
 "Oh," was the answer, "it's important, of course, but it isn't worth much unless there is good batting."

Too Much Horticulture
 "She had violet eyes, rosy cheeks and a dilly white throat," said a young man.
 "Yes, she'd be all right if she didn't have a voice like a raspberry bush."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Bluff
 "My dear girl," said her mother-in-law, "a woman would be satisfied with what John says he gives you."
 "So would I."—Puck.

A Log on the Track
 of the fast express means serious trouble ahead if not removed, so does loss of appetite. It means lack of vitality, loss of strength and nerve weakness. If appetite fails, take Electric Bitters quickly to overcome the cause by toning up the stomach and curing the indigestion. Michael Hoeselmer of Lincoln, Neb., had been sick over three years, but six bottles of Electric Bitters put him right on his feet again. They have helped thousands. They give pure blood, strengthen nerves, good digestion. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

Went Him One Better
 "Yes," said the visitor from Pumpville; "you have some pretty tall structures here, but our town erected a building with more than a thousand stories last summer, and—"
 "A building of more than a thousand stories!" echoed his friend. "What brand do you smoke?"
 "It's a fact," rejoined the Pumpville native. "I was referring to our new library."—London Tit-Bits.

Lost Interest
 "You were speaking just before the postman handed you your mail about our glorious institutions. Won't you continue the subject? I am interested."
 "No. Confound our institutions! I've just received notice to call and pay my taxes."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Golden Silence
 Wife—Silence is golden, they say.
 Husband—Gosh, yes! Think how rich I would have been if I hadn't asked you to marry me!

A Whirligig of Time
 Bobby—Ain't it fun, mamma?
 Mamma—What, dear? Bobby—Why, today will be yesterday tomorrow.—Exchange.

The most unrivaled picture gallery is the open street.
 Mrs. Paul Wehling, 316 Smith St., Peoria, Ill., had kidney and bladder trouble, with terrible backache and pains across the hips. Just imagine her condition. She further says: "I was also very nervous, had headaches and dizzy spells, and was fast getting worse when I took Foley Kidney Pills, and now all my troubles are cured. Foley Kidney Pills have done so much for me I shall always recommend them." The Dickson Drug Co., Manning, S. C., Leon Fischer, Summerton, S. C.

The Fire Eating Trick
 The first known fire breather was a Syrian slave named Eunus, a leader in the servile war in Sicily, 130 B. C. He pretended to have immediate communication with the gods. When desirous of inspiring his followers with courage he breathed flames and sparks from his mouth. In order to perform this marvel Eunus pierced a nutshell at both ends, and, having filled it with some burning substance, he put it in his mouth and breathed through it. The same trick is performed today in an improved manner. The juggler rolls together some flax while it is still burning. By this means the fire is retained in the ball for a long time. He tapers this ball into his mouth, unperceived and breathes through it. His ceivd and breathes the fire, and he sustains no injury so long as he inhales through his nostrils only.
