

Special Offerings at Jenkinson.

In order to get in on the ground floor on prices it is necessary to buy many lines of goods early and in large quantities. We began making preparations for the fall last May, anticipating a bumper crop and big business. Owing to the short crop business has not panned out as expected. We have the goods at the right prices and they must be disposed of. Beg to name the following specials for your consideration:

- 3 1/2 inch Sea Island Homespun... 5c yd
- The above is a very good Homespun in lengths from 10 to 20 yards.
- 36 inch fine yarn heavy Sea Island Homespun at... 6 1/2c yd
- One case 10c Shambray and Gingham. And Gingham at... 7 1/2c yd
- The above was bought in cash lots and is positively as good as you ever bought at 10c per yard.
- One case of Mens' 10c Jaeger fleeced lined Undershirts and Drawers to match at 8c the garment... 70c suit
- One case Mens' pure bleached fleeced lined Undershirts and Drawers to match at 8c the garment... 90c suit
- One case pound prints 30c the bundle (about 20 yards) value... 50c
- One lot Ladies' Messaline Satin Waist in white black and colors, value $3.00 will put on sale at... $1.75

Ladies we have a swell line of Coat Suits and they must be sold. We are going to name prices to move them. See what we have before you buy. Beg to announce that we have secured the agency for Butterick Patterns. We have right here in the store a stock of $350 worth of patterns for you to solicit from. Also take subscriptions for Butterick publication, THE DELINEATOR, two years for $2.00.

Antiquity of the Saw.

The saw is the earliest tool that has been traced in Egyptian history. It was found first in the form of a notched bronze knife in the third dynasty, or about 5,000 years before the Christian era, and was followed in the fourth and fifth dynasties by larger toothed saws, which were used by carpenters, but there are no dated specimens until the seventh century before the Christian era, when the Assyrians used iron saws. The first knives on record were made out of flint and were in fact saws with minute teeth. They probably were used for cutting up animals, as the teeth would break away even on soft wood. Rasps, which are but a form of saw, were first made of sheets of bronze, punched and cooled round, but the Assyrians in the seventh century used the straight rasp made of iron similar to the modern type. In the present day the saw is probably used more than any other tool. It has taken three distinct forms for the working of both wood and metal: the straight saw, the band saw and the circular saw.

The Canvasback.

Of all the wild fowl family the canvasback duck is easily the king. Its flesh is matchless in sweet flavor unless it be that of the redhead, and the extremely high price of it shows how precious and rare it has become. Not many years ago there was little difficulty in procuring a good bag of this bird on the shores of the Chesapeake, where it feeds upon the wild celery that gives it distinction to its flesh. Today the canvasback is a rare avish. Indeed, it is going the way of all flesh, only faster than most, and its disappearance will be, unlike that of the dodo, a gustatory calamity. Its funeral procession follows close upon the obsequies of the prairie hen and the wild turkey. Voracious man, gun in hand, has been as thoughtless as a gluttonous child and sought to eat all his cake at a gulp.—Philadelphia Press.

A Very Lucky Smoke.

A curious story comes from Vienna. A young man, the representative of a famous firm, who carried a large sum of money with him, spent the night at a hotel at Pressburg. According to his usual custom, he remained some time smoking in bed. Suddenly the burning cigar fell to the floor. He bent over to extinguish it when he saw a hand project from under the bed and put out the fire. It made him very uncomfortable, and he lay for fifteen minutes thinking. Then he said aloud: "How very cold it is! I must get my fur coat." Jumping out of bed, he ran to the door, opened it and shouted for help, and the robber was caught. He confessed his crime and then added that he had been a fireman formerly and could not resist the impulse to extinguish the burning cigar.

Got His Answer.

A grocer said to a little girl one election day: "Who is your father going to vote for this morning, my dear?" "I don't know," the little girl answered. "Will he vote the Republican ticket?" "I don't know." "I wonder if he'll vote Democrat?" "I don't know." "He wouldn't vote Prohibition surely?" "I don't know." The grocer as he tied up the little girl's package sneered: "Well, you don't know much, and that's a fact." "You know less," the little girl answered, "or you wouldn't be askin' so many questions."—Exchange.

Fulminate of Mercury.

A peculiarity of fulminate of mercury is that it produces a shock to which all other substances are sensitive, and its supreme value as an explosive rests in this fact, and in the known liability of all explosives to be detonated by more or less distant explosions. There is a current of sympathetic influence in these terrible chemical compositions that is as strange as it is dangerous. What is required to produce explosion is the rapid generation of great heat along with large quantities of oxygen. In gunpowder, for instance, the nitrate of potash (saltpeter), which is the chief ingredient, is practically imprisoned oxygen, and when it is decomposed along with charcoal an immense heat is developed, which causes the gases to expand suddenly, hence explosion.

Mourful.

Emma sent her plate back three times to be filled with turkey, and she was helped bountifully each time. Finally she was observed to look regretfully at the unfinished portion of her dinner.

"What's the trouble, Emma?" asked Uncle John. "You look mournful." "That's just the trouble," said Emma. "I am more'n full," and then she wondered why all the others laughed.—Youth's Companion.

The Return.

"I believe," said the cheery philosopher, "that for every single thing you give away two come back to you."

"That's my experience," said Phamley. "Last June I gave away my daughter, and she and her husband came back to us in August."

FOR SALE

EXTRA FINE COTTON SEED.

We have about 500 bushels of specially selected long staple cotton seed that we are offering, and which we can safely guarantee to the farmers of this county. The following letter from one of the best cotton brokers in Charleston is self explanatory:

Charleston, S. C., November 15, 1912.

Messrs. C. M. Davis & Son, Davis Station, S. C.

Dear Sirs:—We beg to say that the 800 bales of cotton that you sent us for sale is as handsome extra staple cotton as we have seen grown in this State. The staple is 1 5/8 and 1 1/2 inch and the staple is sound and even and such seed is very valuable.

Yours Truly, E. H. Frost & Co.

We urge those who desire to secure this seed to apply at once as 500 bushels will not last long.

Price $2.00 Per Bushel.
