His Excuse.
"You seem like a spiritless creature. I don't believe you've got ambition to open your door when opportunity knocks."
"Don't be too rough on me, ma'am; I ain't never had a door."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Warning.
Every man should have an aim in life, but he should not spend too much time in aiming.—New Orleans Picayune.

A Spendthrift Duke.
The sixth Duke of Devonshire, son of the "Gainsborough" duchess, came into a colossal fortune on attaining his majority. The whole of his property was in his own hands. The estate had been cut off, and his father's death had interfered with the resettlement. "There was, therefore, no curb on his extravagance," says his biographer, "and so great were the inroads that his mode of life made on his wealth that toward the end of his life he felt constrained to sell the Yorkshire estate of Londesborough." This famous and foolish duke believed in keeping up the dignity of his position and would drive to race meetings in a coach and six with twelve outriders. When sent as ambassador extraordinary to St. Petersburg for the coronation of Nicholas I, he spent £50,000 in excess of the sum allowed him by the government.—London Globe.

Keep Pots and Pans in Sight.
The efficient kitchen should be so arranged that it is not necessary to hide all the pots and pans under doors and in cupboards away from sight. Did you ever visit a factory or large establishment where the boilers and the cauldrons and the belting and the thousand tools were stuck away from sight when not in use? Your kitchen equipment should be so attractive and good that it looks well and doesn't need to be tucked away. Every time a pot is pushed into a slim closet we increase the dangers of uncleanness, and it takes us twenty unnecessary motions to stoop to place it in a low cupboard and fish it out again. Hang up, place on shelves, put knives in strips of canvas, screw eyes on small pieces, use no closet doors if possible and let your kitchen be a real workshop.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Haiti's Mysterious Booms.
"Gouffre" is a term applied in Haiti to mysterious acoustic phenomena, probably of subterranean origin, belonging to the class of sounds known as "brontides" or "brontides," reported from various parts of the world. They seem to be much more varied in character than the typical brontides of Italy or Belgium. Sometimes they resemble the boom of cannon, but again are described as deep rumblings, howlings, a rushing sound, as of wind, a deafening crash, "as if a mountain of glass were shattered." They have been known in Haiti from early times.

Rats in Tokyo.
A price is set on the head of the rat in Tokyo, and according to the Far East, "the sight is frequently seen in the side streets of the city of some blooming damsel slung by a string tied to its tail, to the police box. Here an official receipt is given for the rat, which entitles the holder to 5 sen, and so the plague is combated and the people protected against foul epidemics."

Making It Hard to Be Happy.
"Why should you be complaining? Think of all the blessings you've got."
"Oh, it's all right to say that, but how can I think of my blessings when the neighbors are always taking the trouble to flaunt theirs before me?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Picture of Life.
A colored philosopher is reported to have said, "Life, my brethren, am mos'ly made up of prayin' for rain and then wishin' it would clear off."—Presbyterian.

He who seeks a brother without a fault will have to remain without a brother.—Palmdam.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble.
When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give relief. Mrs. G. Stenzle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Everything I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's advertising booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For sale by all dealers.

Circumstantial Evidence.
"I guess she will marry Noodle after all."
"Did she say so?"
"Not in so many words, but she asked me if I knew anything about the most effective method of training a puppy."—Yonkers Statesman.

Her Sympathy.
Adolphus—It's an awful shame. My little nephew got hold of that poem I wrote to you and tore it to shreds. Augusta—So the little fellow can read already.—London Opinion.

Another Mouth to Feed.
Father—And did he give you any encouragement, dear? Daughter—Yes, father; he asked me if you and mother were pleasant to live with.—Yonkers Statesman.

The world knows nothing of its greatest men.—Van Artevelde.

For Cuts, Burns and Bruises.
In every home there should be a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, ready to apply in every case of burns, cuts, wounds or scalds. J. H. Polanco, Delvalle, Tex., R. No. 2, writes: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve saved my little girl's cut foot. No one believed it could be cured." The world's best salve. Only 25c. Recommended by all druggists.

Not Well Pleased.
"I had to kill my dog this morning," said the boob.
"Was he mad?" asked the cheerful idiot.
"Well, he didn't seem any too well pleased," replied the boob.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Best Medicine in the World.
"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her, and I can truthfully say that I think it is the best medicine in the world," writes Mrs. William Orvis, Clare, Mich. For sale by all dealers.

"Theford's Black-Draught is the best all-round medicine I ever used," writes J. A. Steelman, of Pattonville, Texas. "I suffered terribly with liver troubles, and could get no relief. The doctors said I had consumption. I could not work at all. Finally I tried

THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Lemonade a Curative.
Lemonade made with soda water, seltzer or carbonic water is one of the most perfect curatives that can be taken into the body, according to the London Lancet.

"I have always been convinced that New York takes the lead in most things," said the comedian, "but I was unaware until lately that the clothing salesmen here are expert anatomists also."

The King of All Laxatives.

The Medicine Dropper.
A medicine dropper is very useful in the pantry for measuring flavoring extracts, coloring matter and so forth. Many a delicate cake has been spoiled because too many drops of flavoring got into the icing.—Woman's Home Companion.

Pretty Sad.
"After all," said the ready made philosopher, "humor and pathos are very closely allied."
"That's right," replied the comedian. "I don't know of anything sadder than to tell a funny story that doesn't get a laugh."—Washington Star.

Happy Ending.
"Did the play have a happy ending?"
"Comparatively so. All money was refunded after the second act."—Exchange.

Starvation furnishes us food for thought.—Chicago News.

Correct your habits and take Chamberlain's Tablets and you will soon be well again. For sale by all dealers.

Most Interesting.
Woman is the most interesting thing ever invented. One half the world spends its time writing about her, and the other half spends its time reading about her.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Never spend your money before you have it.—Thomas Jefferson.

A Horse and the Cow in the Field.
"The horse and the cow is in the field," read the teacher. "Mary, what is wrong with that sentence?"
Mary, says the New York Tribune, was evidently more versed in the rules of politeness than in the rules of grammar, for she answered promptly: "The lady should be mentioned first."

Of No Practical Value.
"These school books are a regular fraud," said Mrs. Nuritch.
"What's the matter with 'em?" her husband asked.
"Look at this goggerly of Willie's. There ain't a single road map in it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Light Matter.
"Madam, you do not seem to attach any weight to the amount of the gas bills."
"No; I consider them a very light matter."—Baltimore American.

A Paradox.
Shaw—Why did you give that dog of yours the name of Paradox? Shute—For the reason that as a politician he's decidedly a disappointment.—Boston Transcript.

Saying and Saving.
Tommy—Mamma, what is economy? Tommy's Mamma—Economy, my son, is what a husband preaches and a wife practices.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Borneo's Tobacco Fields.
Tobacco is the chief product in North Borneo, and as land produces but one crop of tobacco in seven to nine years new fields must be cleared every year. After the jungle is cut and burned an army of Chinese coolies is turned on the land with hoes to dig it and prepare it for planting. No fire and plow are used. The young tobacco plants are set out by hand and kept clean with hoes. It is necessary for a tobacco planter to possess thousands of acres of uncultivated land in reserve and to employ 500 to 1,000 coolies.

The Book He Liked.
The late Joaquin Miller, says a writer in the Christian Register, was indifferent to books, but was fond of newspapers. "He scanned the newspapers with avidity and made copious clippings. He preferred communing with nature to books. The only volume in his den was a Bible."

A Good Investment.
W. D. Magli, a well known merchant of Whitewater, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. For sale by all dealers.

No Wonder She Behaved.
"I believe," said the minister, with a twinkle in his eye, "that the saying that children and fools tell the truth" is true. The other day my wife and I were invited out to dinner. The children of the family were so remarkably well behaved that my wife remarked: "What lovely, well behaved children yours are, Mrs. Brown?"
"Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown beamed at this approval of their offspring, when up piped little Mary. 'Well, pa said that if we didn't behave he'd knock our blocks off, didn't he, pa?'"—Mothers' Magazine.

Royal Informality.
At Cuddebe, Emperor William's model farm in West Prussia, where he loves to tramp about in rough clothes and high top boots, there is a certain blacksmith whose hand is never too busy for his kaiser to shake. The Princess Victoria Luise from earliest years has shared her father's liking for the man's sterling qualities. One day the emperor and princess, in company with a high official, called at the smithy. As its owner turned from work to welcome them the kaiser introduced him as "a special friend of my daughter's."—Pictorial Review.

Toasted Bugs.
An insect much resembling the June bug and found in great quantities in the high plains about Quito, capital of Ecuador, is toasted and eaten as a delicacy by the natives of that country. It is sold in the streets in the same manner as are chestnuts in the cities of this country. The roasted bugs taste very much like toasted bread.

FORD MOTOR CO.,
AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURERS.
Detroit, Michigan, U. S. A.
June 3rd, 1913.

To Dealers, Sub-Dealers, Limited Dealers and Branch Managers—
For fear that you have not noticed Page 253 of the Ford Times of May, wherein an emphatic denial is made of certain silly rumors concerning a change of ownership in the Ford Motor Company and a consequent reduction in the price of Ford Cars, we call to your attention the following plain statement of facts:

- 1st. The Standard Oil Company or any other company has not bought the Ford business or even a single share of our company's stock, as we have no interest to sell.
- 2nd. We have no connection whatever with any other automobile concern.
- 3rd. We will not sell three cars for one thousand dollars.
- 4th. We will not market our product through mail-order houses or direct to the retail buyers, or through any other channels except regularly licensed dealers.

We expect and want everyone connected with the Ford organization to deny rumors of this character, resting assured that when any changes are made in Ford policy our organization will be the first to know of it.

A dealer need only to read his contract and do business accordingly, as his contract furnishes him ample guarantee that such rumors are without foundation.
