PINEWOOD. On the evening of July 19th quite a pleasant function was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Graham, of Pinewood, in honor of Mr. Allen and Mrs. Jewel Graham. Every one enjoyed the occasion. The party repaired to the front yard under the beautiful oaks where they played games, until a rain caused them to go into the house where music and singing was indulged in. Mr. Lawrence Barwick, of Paxville, played some very pretty pieces and altogether the evening was most enjoyable. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Graham, of Orangeburg, Misses J. Ardis and Sallie DuBoise, of Foreston, and Messrs. Watson Ardis and M. Frierson, of Foreston.

Miss Connie Griffin, of Paxville, returned home after a delightful visit to Miss Jewel Graham. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Graham, after a visit to their parents left Monday night for their home in Orangeburg, accompanied by their sister, Miss Jewel Graham. We are having a fine season in this neck of the woods and the crop prospect is all that we can wish for.

Hunting a Hat. A woman cannot stick a hat on her head as you stick a stamp on a letter. There is an ingenious machine that sticks stamps on letters at the rate of several thousand an hour. But nobody has invented a machine for sticking hats on the heads of women. A man can buy a hat in five minutes, but no woman would dream of buying a hat in less than an hour. Often a woman will acquire a splitting headache in her attempt to find one hat to suit her out of a hundred, and not seldom she carries away the headache without a hat on it. The hat hunt is only a small part of the daily agony of shopping, and yet many a man would rather cut his throat than engage in a hat hunt as a dispassionate spectator. Men prefer to hunt the fox or the stag, the tiger or the lion, the grizzly or the grouse. A tiger hunt is not nearly so perilous as a hat hunt—London Opinion.

Persistence Won. Jones, a former man about town, had become so poor that often, donning his shabby evening clothes, he had either to bone his friends for a dinner or go hungry. Thus Jones dropped in on a former croup one evening and said: "I thought I'd just drop in. I knew you were giving a dinner, and I heard that your guests were just thirteen. So, as your wife is superstitious about that number, I thought—ha, ha—I'd just drop in." "But," said the host, "you're quite wrong, Jones. We are not thirteen. We are just twelve." "Well, I'll stay anyhow, if only to laugh your wife out of her superstitious whim."—Washington Star.

How Spaniards Eat Eggs. A Spaniard would not dream of allowing an egg to boil three minutes. One minute at the outside is enough, the egg, in fact, being just shown the hot water. It is then broken open and the contents poured into a glass, the Spanish epicure drinking it off as though it were a draft of wine. If he hasn't a glass handy he simply breaks open one end of the egg and gulps the contents down that way.

That is a Pedant. "Pa, what's a pedant?" "A pedant, my son, is the sort of man who sees a little boy about or asks, 'Young man, why this lugubrious face?' Then the little boy is almost frightened into a spasm by the thought that something terrible has happened to his face."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Indiscretion. "The Parvenus are positively furious at that society reporter for saying 'there was a jarring note' in their 'last affair'." "I suppose the poor wretch didn't know they made their money in pig services."—Town Topics.

The Difference Between "The Summer Girl" and "The Summer Woman." While the former is having a "good time" the latter is too often straggling around nervous, run down, tired out, with aching back and weary limbs, sleepless and wretched. Often is the kidney trouble not female trouble and Foley Kidney Pills are a direct and positive help for the condition. For sale by all dealers everywhere.
