Sims, Who Had Been Selected for

District Attorney and Marshal for South Carolina, Not Yet Sent in by the President.

The Washington correspondent of The Spartanburg Herald says "while bor does not. It will pay. Clear off it has been stated on apparently good authority, that Francis H. Weston, of banks and other hibernating places Columbia, and J. L. Sims, of Orangeburg, had been decided upon for the positions of United Ctates attorney and United States marshal, respeclina, the nominations were not made

Monday afternoon as was expected. "The senate was in session only a few minutes Monday afternoon when it adjourned until Thursday. Neither Senator Tillman nor Senator Smith who are interested backers of candidates for the two offices, has any-Press dispatches of Saturday night, while others, apparently equally well informed, declore that there are surprises coming before the matter is disposed of."

The Washington correspondent of The State says "with both President Wilson and Secretary Tumulty away from Washington Tuesday, there was little for those interested in the district attorneyship and marshalship fight in South Carolina to do but sit While it is believed that Francis H. Weston will be nominated for the 441 pounds of seed cotton per acre, there may be no nominations Thurs-

This is an absolute unmitigated lie and as Senator Tillman, Smith and Attorney-General McReynolds have been furnished with proof to that effect it will not have any effect on Mr. Sims' chances to land the marshalship. If he loses out, it will be for some other cause, and not because such a slanderous lie has been concocted against him. This is the way the matter stands at present. The Sims has made a clean, open fight for the place. He has made charges against no one. SUICIDES ON TRAIN.

Note Pinned on Her Waist Give Directions for Funeral. Mrs. Oscar Golden, of Doerun, Ga., committed suicide on a Georgia northern passenger train Monday morning by taking carbolic acid. She left a note saying she got on a train to take the poison to insure escape from medical attention. In the note, which was pinned on her waist, Mrs. Golden gave minute direction as to her funeral even naming the minister she wished to officiate, and asking that she be buried in a white shroud.
