The Golf Ball's Story.

Evolution has played a great part in the history of the golf ball. The first balls mentioned in the chronicles of the game were made from leather and feathers. A double handful of feathers was steamed and packed into a small case of leather. The case was then sewed up and painted white, and the feathers in drying expanded and gave the ball resiliency. The next ball was composed of solid gutta percha, but it was heavy, unreliable and was for a time abandoned. One day, however, a player noticed a cadie putting up a creditable game with one of these balls and on closer inspection found that it was very much cut about. Realizing that these cuts and scratches brought about the fine flight of the ball, he commenced hammering gutta percha, and this was the origin of the hand hammered ball. After a time molds were constructed, and balls were produced with the square marking. Then came the ball with the rubber core, which gives elasticity, and this type still remains.—Pearson's.

Down the Scale.

A Knoxville bride is very much in love with her husband and very willing to admit it. She likes to sound his praises to her mother and to her girl friends, which is quite as it should be. She has a number of original expressions. When her husband is good she says he is "chocolate cake three layers deep." When he is very good he is "chocolate cake four layers deep," and so on up the scale. Occasionally, however, things take a turn. The bride's mother dropped in the other day. The bride was a trifle peevish, but her mother pretended not to notice this. "And how is George today?" was her inquiry. "Chocolate cake four layers deep?" "No." "Three layers deep?" "No." "Two layers deep?" "No." "What is it with a put?" "Don't know." "Then what is it?" "Dogs biscuit!"—Pittsburgh Post.

Heard the Same Sound Twice.

In the New York Telephone Review is a striking illustration of the speed with which sound travels over telephone wires as compared with the speed with which it travels through the atmosphere. The manager of a large manufacturing plant in Paterson, N. J., was standing at the telephone in his residence, which is about two miles from his factory, speaking with the superintendent of the works when the whistle of the factory blew for 1 o'clock. The sound came to him very distinctly over the wire, lasting about five seconds, then ceased, and a few seconds later the same sound of the whistle blowing came to him through an open window near which he was standing, this time coming via the slower route—the sound waves of the atmosphere. He thus actually heard the same sound twice.

To Annoy Napoleon.

A curious anecdote is illustrative of the disposition of Talleyrand. It was resolved that each of the allied powers should designate a commissioner charged with the surveillance of Napoleon at St. Helena. Talleyrand proposed to the king for this office M. de Montcheu, described as "an insupportable babler, a complete nonentity." On being asked why he had selected this man Talleyrand replied: "It is the only revenge which I wish to take for his treatment of me. How ever, it is terrible. What a punishment for a man of Bonaparte's stamp to be obliged to live with an ignorant and pedantic chatterer! I know him. He will not be able to support this annoyance. It will make him ill, and he will die of it by slow degrees."

People Who Do Not Whistle.

Arabia must be a heaven for those whose lives are made a burden to them by the whistler. The Arab maintains that a whistler's mouth cannot be purified for forty days and nights, and they assert of the whistler that Satan has touched his body and caused him to produce the offensive sound. Then there are the natives of the Tonga Islands, Polynesia, who hold that it is a sin to whistle, as it is an act disrespectful to God. Even in some districts in north Germany villagers declare that if one whistles in the evening it makes the angels weep.

Feminine Financier.

Mrs. Kidder—Charles, can't you give me another check? I see you have a whole book full. Mr. Kidder—That doesn't signify, dear. I have used up my balance at the bank. Mrs. Kidder—Then why didn't you give up your check book? Now, it's no use for you to tell stories, Joseph Kidder. If you mean to say I shan't have any money, why don't you say so right out, like a man?—Boston Transcript.

Inconsistent.

"Oh, George!" exclaimed the young wife. "It was nearly midnight before you got home last night!" "Well, well!" exclaimed the husband. "You women are so inconsistent. Before we were married you didn't care how late I got home."

More Than a Match For Him.

Tom—Somebody ought to warn Mrs. Prettiface that that fellow Smirks, who's paying attention to her, is a miserable flirt. Jim—Hem! Better warn Smirks. Mrs. Prettiface is a widow.

Luxury and Labor.

Alexander the Great, reflecting on his friends degenerating into sloth and luxury, told them that it was a most slavish thing to luxuriate and a most royal thing to labor. Barrow.

THOUGHTS ON LIFE.

Why all this toil for triumphs of an hour? —Young
Life's a short summer; man is but a flower.
—Dr. Johnson
By turns we catch the fatal breath and die. —Pope
The cradle and the tomb, alas, how nigh! —Prior
To be is better far than not to be. —Sewell
Though all man's life may seem a tragedy. —Spenser
But light cares speak when mighty griefs are dumb. —Daniel
The bottom is but shallow whence they come. —Sir Walter Raleigh
Tyranny is the common fate of all. —Longfellow
Unmingled joys here no man befall. —Southwell
Nature to each allots his proper sphere. —Congreve
Fortune makes folly her peculiar care. —Murchill
Custom does often reason overrule. —Rochester
And throw a cruel sunshine on a fool. —Armstrong
Live well; how long or short permit to heaven. —Milton
They who forgive most shall be forgiven. —Bailey

WEALTH CONCENTRATION.

A power has risen up in the government greater than the people themselves, consisting of many and various and powerful interests, combined in one mass and held together by the cohesive power of the vast surplus in the banks.—J. C. Calhoun.

IRELAND.

Dear land of song and bard whose lays
Ring for all time and story,
Whose saints and martyrs' burning words
Are for a single world's glory,
Ah, who shall voice the heart's desire
In such strange, tender strain
Or lift the laughter of glad life
Or bunshee's weird refrain.
Call dancing elves beneath the moon
Or wraiths of warriors bold
With just the music of thy tongue?
That Celtic speech of gold,
O land who stood so high and free,
Untouched by Roman yoke,
When Britain loved beneath their chains
Thy pride they never broke.
Where Finn, like David, fought for right,
Where Moore and Goldsmith sang;
Where Emmet spake with tongue of fame,
Where Patrick's message rang,
Shall not thy harp sound forth again
From Tara hill's new birth?
Shall not thy sons know their own land
'Mong nations of the earth?
—Alice E. Ives.

SOLITUDE.

Solitude is not measured by the miles of space that intervene between man and his fellows. The really diligent student in one of the crowded hives of Cambridge college is as solitary as a dervish in a desert.—Thoreau.
Solitude is the home of the strong, silence their prayer.—Ravignau.
Solitude, the safeguard of mediocrity, is to genius the stern friend, the cold, obscure shelter where molt the wings that will bear it farther than suns and stars. He who would inspire and lead his race must be defended from traveling with the souls of other men, from living, breathing, reading and writing in the daily time worn yoke of their opinions.—Emerson.

TO THE VIRGINS.

Gather ye rosebuds while ye may,
Old time is still a-flying,
And this same flower that smiles today
Tomorrow will be dying.
The glorious lamp of heaven, the sun,
The sooner will his race be run
And nearer he's to setting.
That age is best which is the first,
When youth and blood are warmer;
But, being spent, the worse and worst
Times still succeed the former.
Then be not coy, but use your time,
And while ye may go marry,
For having lost but once your prime
You may forever tarry.
—Robert Herrick.

Now Well

"Theford's Black-Draught is the best all-round medicine I ever used," writes J. A. Steelman, of Pattonville, Texas. "I suffered terribly with liver troubles, and could get no relief. The doctors said I had consumption. I could not work at all. Finally I tried THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT and to my surprise, I got better, and am to-day as well as any man." Theford's Black-Draught is a general, cathartic, vegetable liver medicine, that has been regulating irregularities of the liver, stomach and bowels, for over 70 years. Get a package today. Insist on the genuine—Theford's. E-70

Papa Was to Economize.

Small Boy (handing druggist a half dollar)—"Five five-cent cigars, and give me the change." Druggist—"But, Bob, your father always smokes ten-cent cigars." Small Boy—"Well, he isn't going to this time."—Life.

Drives Off A Terror.

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. Geo. W. Place, Rawsonville, Va. "and for my son's colds and coughs we have never found a better remedy." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists. adv.

Novelty for the Invalid's Chair.

A most expensive but charming tiny set for invalid's tray is a glass combination creamer, sugar and butter dish. The little crystal sugar is covered by the butter plate (as a lid), and it in turn fits over the creamer, so that all three may be fitted one into the other and take but little space on the tray.

Not Beyond Help at 87

Sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, stiffness in joints, weak inactive kidney action and rheumatic pains, are all evidence of kidney trouble. Mrs. Mary A. Dean 47 E. Walnut St. Taunton, Mass. writes: "I have passed my 87 birthday, and thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley's Kidney Pills have proved most beneficial in my case." For sale by all dealers everywhere. adv.

Loose Screw.

Very often a screw hole is so loose that the screw will not hold. To remedy this cut some strips of cork and fill up the hole completely, and then force the screw in. This will prove just as tight as if driven into a new hole.

Guarding Against Croup

The best safeguard against croup is a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house. H. G. Gibb, Middleburg, Ga., writes: "My children are very susceptible to croup, easily catch cold I give them Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and in every instance they get prompt relief and are soon cured." We keep it at home and prevent croup." For sale by all dealers everywhere. adv.

Tommy Knew.

Dr. Fiftly—"Dear, I do wish I could think of some way to make the congregation keep their eyes on me during the sermon." Little Tommy—"Pa, you want to put the clock right behind the pulpit."—The Pathfinder.

ALL GRADES MEN'S RUBBER BOOTS.

Our Rubber Department is complete for all members of the family.

We have a full line of Ladies Shoes

in all grades from $1.50 upwards in Dress and Work Shoes in all Leathers.

Instructions how to use our own measure so as to enable Bultman Bros., to fit you as you should be.

Place the foot in the center of the paper and mark around same, letting the pencil be straight up and down, then take the tape and measure as cut indicates.

We are agents for the Boston School Shoes in all the different leathers and everything in them that it takes to make a good wearing shoe.

Try a Tape once in a while. The Ball measurement should allow foot, freedom enough to properly perform its natural functions and not hold the foot in a vice like grip destroying the circulation that carries waste tissue away and brings nourishment to the active parts of the body. The ball measurement that is too small may cause a rupture of the little oil sacks that lubricates the joints and results in stiff joints that are soon non. This may also be caused by short shoes. The Transfer measurement that it runs across the foot as the ball becomes wrinkled by having the ball measurement too small. If a shoe is fitted too full at the ball, the foot is allowed to slip and slide and will be nearly as harmful. If the ball measurement is measured carefully and in a common sense way good results will follow, and increase satisfaction to all parties.

RUBBERS FOR ALL MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY.
