STORAGE OF SWEET POTATOES.

Uncertainty of Being Able to Keep Tubers Through Winter Reduces Area Devoted to Crop.

If sweet potatoes are kept until February and March they will bring a much better price than in November or December. The uncertainty of being able to keep the sweet potatoes during the winter reduces the area planted. But sweet potatoes can be preserved quite satisfactorily if close attention is given to the subject. Those who are provided with suitable quarters for storage purposes and give attention to the details of digging and drying the tubers are well paid for their extra work.

The sweet potato has a thin skin which is easily bruised. Bruised potatoes are very susceptible to decay. When the potatoes cannot be subjected to artificial heat to dry they should be thoroughly dried in the sun. The temperature at which they seem to keep best is between 50 and 65 degrees F.

In some localities the common method of storage is to place the sweet potatoes in a cone-shaped pile containing from 1,000 to 2,000 pounds. The pile is then covered with a layer of dry, fine hay or straw, followed by a layer of corn stalks, and on top of all this two or three inches of sand or dirt is placed. Others make piles like an oblong pyramid three feet high and four by ten feet at the base. This is covered over by a frame properly built for the purpose, two or three inches of earth being placed over the frame. Stratifying the sweet potatoes in sand has also given satisfactory results.

GOOD SEED INCREASES YIELD

Safe and Sensible Way is to Clean Seed Thoroughly by Running Through Fanning Mill.

(By E. J. MILLER)
Many farmers still believe that wheat, under certain conditions, will turn to cheat. Be on the safe and sensible side, and clean your wheat seed well by running it through a good fanning mill or other seed-cleaning machine.

If you clean all of the cheat and other weed seed out of it, and there is no cheat in your fields, take my word for it, your next year's wheat crop will be clean wheat.

If your own wheat seed is poor, by all means purchase good seed, not only for a good crop next year, but for the seed and the crops for the following years. One of the best investments that any farmer can make is in good seeds of all kinds. There is no mistake about this.

Arouses the Liver and Purifies the Blood
The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC, arouses the liver to action, drives malaria out of the blood and builds up the system. For adults and children. See Peculiarity of the Mississippi.

One of the most peculiar things about the Mississippi river was figured out by a government engineer. He says that it would be possible for a man to take a light canoe at Greenville, Miss., and by floating down stream 40 miles and portaging four times he would find himself 40 miles upstream from where he started.

Bad as the Canada Thistle.
Licorice root is a pest in some parts of Turkey and Russia, interfering with the cultivation of the land.

No One Told Him.
A man was caught in the yards of the Premier Motor Manufacturing company the other day while helping himself to a liberal supply of coal. His captor, grabbing him by the collar, asked: "Who told you to pick up that coal?" "Nobody told me, sir," replied the man. "I just needed it."

New Hope for the Bald.
An Australian has obtained a United States patent for a process for transplanting living hair on bald heads.

Happy Days Coming.
In that happy day about to dawn, as is predicted, when ministers of the gospel after their sermons will lay aside their vestments to umpire Sunday baseball games, muscular Christianity will wear a mask and teach the players to respect the preacher's will.

In Homeopathic Doses.
"Well, Uncle Josh, how do you feel?" "Rotten; that beer don't seem to help none." "How did you take it?" "Tablespoonful afore meals."

Is This One Old?
A correspondent writes us of a Sunday school child who was asked, "What is the chief end of man?" and who replied promptly: "To glorify God and annoy him forever."

Could Hardly Claim Credit.
Minister—"So you've turned over a new leaf, Sandy. I was indeed glad to see you at our prayer meeting last night." Sandy (village reprobate)—"Is that whaur I wis? I didna ken whaur I had been after I left the pub."

Proper Focusing of Binoculars.
In focusing binoculars the tubes should be extended to their limit before placing to the eyes and then adjusted, for, if extended afterward, an optical nerve strain is caused that sometimes results seriously.

German Newspaper Readers.
Pupils in a German school were recently tested as to their reading of newspapers. In the highest elementary class of 44, 25 read a newspaper every day; 15 at least once a week, and four less frequently.

FEW EXCELLENT FARM NOTES

Thousands of Injurious Insects May Be Destroyed by Raking the Place—Other Odds and Ends.

Put up new "Shooting Forbidden" signs.
One can destroy thousands of insects one cannot see by raking and burning all rubbish on the place.

An inspection of the chimneys now and a little mortar may save a had fire this winter.
Cut scions now for grafting next spring. Pack in sawdust or sand very lightly damaged.

Fasten down the tops of the hay stacks—or better still—cover them. It pays big.
Open up and clean out every drain ditch on the place.

Rush the work on the ice house, but do not put in the first ice that comes. Mutch the strawberry bed after the ground freezes, not before.

Push the turkeys for three weeks just before selling.
Keep some of your best turkeys and chickens for the Christmas market, and send them in early to avoid the glut.

Keep the paint brush used until every implement on the place is covered.
It will take a few hundred feet of tiling, some grading, and a little elbow-grease to make the feed lot dry during the winter, but it will pay big in the added comfort to the animals, which always means added flesh.

If we cannot afford a silo, we can certainly afford a field of horned turkeys or mangels. They are not equal to a silo, of course, but they do help to make dry feed palatable, and therefore increase its value.

The feed-cutter should be in use on every farm, the corn-shredder is an excellent thing, but why not put all of the corn crop in a silo as the best probable position to get every pound of value of it.

Cheaper Potash.
Deposits of nitrate of potash have been discovered at Priska, in northern Cape Colony, South Africa. The goods are being offered in small lots in England at $45 per ton against $55 for German and East Indian nitrate of potash. Standard potash nitrate contains 12 per cent. nitrogen and 45 per cent. potash. A reduction of one-half in wholesale price of these important elements would be a boon to agriculture the world over.

Water for the Wheat.
If an inch of water is worth two and one-half bushels of wheat to the acre, and the farmer wants to average 25 bushels of wheat, his problem is to secure and place at the disposal of his wheat plants, just ten inches of water. Simple, isn't it. It's just a matter of arithmetic—and using one's intelligence.

Increase of Horses.
Horses are not being driven out of the market by motor cars, as many persons believe. On the contrary, they are rapidly increasing in number and value.

Special Newspaper for Czar.
The czar of Russia has a newspaper of his own, specially printed each morning. It is the most exclusive paper in the world, for only two copies are supplied—one for the czar and the other for his private secretary.

The Ladies Outfitting Company, Inc.

"ONE PRICE, THE LOWEST and The Same Price to Everybody."

JOHN D. LEMMON, Manager.

Beginning today we have adopted this method of pricing our goods because we are confident that it will add a greater degree of satisfaction to shopping at this store.

Once it was customary for merchants to mark their goods in puzzling characters that only they comprehended and to charge as much as they thought the customer would "stand for," but that is all relegated to the past and has no place in modern business methods.

We have found by experience that the average person would prefer to have the goods marked IN PLAIN FIGURES and to pay the price marked, if they were satisfied that it was a fair price and that they were buying as cheap as anybody could buy.

Certainly nothing could be fairer than to mark goods in plain figures—mark them with a fair profit allowed us, and STICK TO THIS PRICE. Think of the satisfaction you will derive when you walk into this store, and have assurance that you may buy any high grade piece of merchandise at a close price—THE closest price, and therefore a price that CANNOT and WILL NOT be OUT for anyone.

We have had this step in view for sometime past—observations from our customers have taught us that it is a move on our part that will be met with appreciation and approval. THIS IS OUR FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

And remember—in connection with our low prices—we give S. and H. Green trading stamps, with each cash purchase. Right here we would say that we do this with a single purpose in view—to encourage cash trading. The biggest and most successful companies in the world have done the same thing year after year. TO FURTHER CASH BUYING, and certainly we are willing to share profits with our customers if they buy for cash, because cash buying enables us to care for our bills promptly, and hence a larger saving for you.

We invite you to visit us early and often with the assurance that you can buy here at ONE PRICE—THE LOWEST and THE SAME PRICE TO EVERYBODY.
