The Eastern Star lodge gave ther an nual banquet last Friday night, and without exception the supper was one of the best we have ever attended. Everything was elegantly prepared, matter in and the ladies who had this hand deserve much credit for their labors. After supper, Capt. W. C. Davis, acting as toastmaster, in a few well chosen words, assured the meeting that there were other good things in store, and called on Mr. J K. Breed in to respond to a toast in behalf of the town whose remarks were entertain-ing, and well received. The next to respond was Mrs. G. M. Smith, the luties of a worthy matron, which was very much enjoyed and well taken in by her sister members—J. W. Wideman was next called on as "The Goat" and as he had a very hard subject to handle, he was forced to make several excuses, but at the same time kept his audience in an uproar, and wound up by making another member "the goat" This is a bard old world, if you don't Mr. H. "Birth of a Nation," Columbia Theatre.

D. W. Griffith's mighty spectacle 'The Birth of a Nation" will be presented at the Columbia Theatre, umbia, Monday, Tuesday and Wednes-day, November 22, 23, 24, exactly as it is shown in New York, Chicago, Phildelphia, Boston, and other large cities where it has been running for several months. The spectacle will be accompanied by a symphony orchestra of thirty and the services of fifty people will be employed in each presentation.
As most playgoers know "The Birth of a Nation" is a picturization of the Dixon's stories of the Reconstruction, "The Clansman" and "The Leopard Spots" but the Dixon plays and novels have been thoroughly dwarfed by comparison. Griffith employed 18,000 peo-ple and 3,000 horses and spent $500,000 in making his production with the great outdoors as his stage. He has reproduced the Battle of Petersburg, Sherman's march to the sea, the meeting of Lee and Grant at Pppomattox and the assassination of Abraham Lin-

What Others Say of Him:

Columbus, Ga., Ledger:-"Dr. Swadener's address was one of the most brilliant ever heard in the city."

Augusta, Ga., Tribune:-"A cultured and appreciative audience had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Madison Swadener deliver a thoroughly enjoyable lecture last evening. The lecture was not only rich in thought, but it fairly bubblen over in humor. It was a rare mingling of inspiration, tender pathos and clean humor by a master hand. Dr. Swadener has an attractive personality, and posseses the elements of an orator. His voice is powerful and pleasing. His utterances indicated a man of broad intellectuality and big heart."

Franklin, Ohio Chronicle:- "Those attending were amused or interested from the first sentence uttered by the speaker to the close of the lecture. As a platform orator, Dr. Swadener posseses wonderful power; he has a pleasing voice, a magnetic presence, a keen comprehensive mind; these, coupled with yearr of experience among all classes of society, enables him to bring us 'in touch' with the strong and beautiful, the true and good. It was a fine lecture, tender in pathos, bright and wholesome in humor, keen in satire, eloquent and impressive trending upward and onward. Life is larger and richer for such a message."
