Dr. Chappa, who has been in charge of the prescription department of Dickson's drug store, has resigned and left Monday night for Augusta, where he will engage in business for himself. Rev. Henderson of Jordan came near having a serious accident last Friday night, when on his way to the hot supper at Wilson. Mr. Henderson was going around a sharp turn when a buggy appeared, and in order to miss the buggy he drove his big Buick into a ditch, where it remained all night, fortunately none of the occupants or the car was hurt.

From what we can learn there came near being a serious automobile accident last Monday afternoon on Black River. It seems that Mr. Dunbar was driving his car right to the back of Mr. Mack McElveen's machine, when very suddenly Mr. McElveen stopped for some hours that ran out into the road and Mr. Dunbar's car plunged through the back of Mr. McElveen's car, throwing the occupants out, but not hurting anyone. The two Fords were badly broken.

In the train wreck Sunday night in Columbia several from Manning were on board. Deputy Sheriff Thames had one leg broken, Constable Frank King, colored, had a leg sprained, and Messrs. Julius Davis and H. D. Clark were shaken up considerably but not hurt.

Mr. Davis' loss was a good omen, as he was riding back to his position, when the crash occurred. He was kissed him right in the cigar has never

The Rev. R. J. Beloe, who was pastor of Fairmount Baptist church, in Spartanburg county, has entered suit against the church for $500, which he claims the church owes him for salary promised to him by the officers and members of the congregation of the church while he was pastor there. The suit was tried in magistrate's court here yesterday, and the magistrate awarded the Rev. Beloe a judgment for the amount of the charge. This is the first time that the officials of the law have had to enter suit for such a charge in the history of the city.—Spartanburg Journal.

If some people owning automobiles in Manning, that entrust their cars to colored drivers, don't mind the will have a big damage suit to pay. These darkies when on a back street run at a speed from twenty five to thirty miles an hour, and on several occasions, have come very near running into people by their reckless driving. It is hard for the officers to catch them there. It is when out of sight of the officers. Unless something is done, it will be dangerous for a lady to go on our streets with her car, as one of these fellows is liable to run into her. Are you to pay the taxes for the upkeep of our streets and town and then step aside for these negroes to take charge? Something must be done.

Wesley Wilson, colored, was killed on Saturday afternoon at about 6:15 by an Atlantic Coast Line train, his body being severed nearly in two beneath the wheels of the coaches. The accident occurred in the C. L. passenger station yard and only about two car lengths east of the station. It is supposed that he got on the Wilmington train intending to take the train for Charleston, his home being at that place. He was found that he was on the wrong train, he attempted to jump. A pile of loose dirt was by the track at this point, where changes are being made in the Coast Line yard, and it is thought that this gave way under his weight and Wilson slipped under the wheels of the passing coach. The negro's body was badly crushed. He was said to be a man of about 55 years of age.—Sumter Item.

Death of Mrs. Jennie Chandler McLeod. One of the saddest deaths which has occurred in Manning in a long time was that of Mrs. S. Murray McLeod at her home on Church street early this morning. The news of Mrs. McLeod's death was a shock to her many friends, as it was not generally known that she was ill. It was not until last night that she became critically ill, death coming at about 9 o'clock this morning. The funeral services will be held at the residence of Mr. J. H. Chandler, 231 Church street, at 11 o'clock tomorrow, Tuesday, morning and the interment will be at the Sumter cemetery. Mrs. McLeod was well known in Manning and she was loved for her bright, unselfish disposition by all who knew her. Her death has brought a feeling of grief and bereavement to a wide circle of friends, although sorrow for her loss is more keenly felt by the members of her family and those who knew her best. As Miss Jennie Chandler, who was married in last December, her life being cut off just as she was entering the bloom of womanhood and a broader field of usefulness seemed opening before her. She is survived by her husband, S. Murray McLeod, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chandler, two brothers, Dr. James J. Chandler of Baltimore, who has been notified of her death and is expected here tomorrow morning, and Norman Chandler, who is with the Sumter Light Infantry at El Paso, Texas, and one sister, Miss Teresa Chandler.—Sumter Item.

Paxville. On last Monday morning, the Paxville graded school began its session under the most favorable circumstance. A large number of patrons and friends of the school were present at the opening exercises. These were presided over by Mr. T. Reynolds Owen, chairman of the board of trustees. After the singing of "America" by school and audience, Rev. M. J. Kysner of the Baptist church read the Scripture lesson, followed with prayer by Rev. W. M. Jordan of Summerton. Splendid addresses were made by Sum. E. Brune, of the Clarendon County, and Rev. S. D. Baily of the Methodist church. Miss Miss Leathia Edwards of Columbia college is the principal, and comes highly recommended. She is being assisted by Miss Alice Broadway and Charlene McClain. This session promises to be one of the best for many years, and if the patrons will give the teachers and trustees their hearty co-operation, the former record of the Paxville school will be re-established. Rev. M. J. Kysner spent the past week-end in Orangeburg county where he preached on last Sunday. There were no preaching at the Baptist church here on Sunday morning. Mrs. Herbert Gibson is out again after a very serious illness. Miss Suddie Cotter of Sumter spent the past week-end at her home here. Rev. S. D. Baily preached a very forceful sermon at the Methodist church on Sunday morning. The discourse was much enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Thomas from Wedgefield is here at the bedside of her father who is still quite sick. Mrs. John E. Holladay went Monday to the Tourney hospital where she will undergo an operation.

We Thought Mother would Never Recover

Spartanburg Woman Suffering From Awful Malady. REMARKABLE RECITAL Daughter Says The Unexpected Happened And Tells Of Wonderful Change Brought About

How Tanlac had driven away all signs of malaria which her mother had so badly that the bones of her hands showed through the sores, and how the same medicine had given her great relief for the different troubles, was described in a very remarkable recital given by Mrs. Belle Hopper, of No. 9 Drayton Ave., Drayton, S. C., a suburb of Spartanburg. "I suffered from headaches and felt very badly," declared Mrs. Hopper, in her statement. "My system was in a badly run down condition and I was very weak. Tanlac had helped my mother so much that I decided to take it, and the Tanlac gave me a great appetite and I began to want to work all the time, though I had been too weak to work. The medicine got me in good shape in every way. My mother, whose home is at Cherokee, S. C., suffered from a very bad case of malaria and she had been in bed for two years before she began taking Tanlac and she had been almost helpless for a year or two before she had taken it. Her system was in a very much run down condition and her hands and feet were so sore that she could not move. She had no appetite at all and she had lost a lot of weight. "Really, my mother was in a terrible condition. The doctors told her she had the worst case they ever saw. The bones of her hands showed through the sores. She had taken a lot of medicine—almost every kind of tonic she ever heard of and had several doctors but she says Tanlac did her more good than all of the other medicines she took.

STOP MARCH FOR DEVOTIONS

Soldiers Halted to Light Candles at Wayside Shrine in Stricken Country of Montenegro. War is not all horror and death, as the following little story illustrates: On Christmas eve as a division of Hungarian Honveds marching through the Tara district in Montenegro was descending the serpentine road leading down steeply from the mountains the first regiment passed by a little wayside shrine of the Virgin and child. Two men stepped suddenly out of the ranks, lighted two small candles and placed them before the images. Many others followed their examples and the number grew to probably 1,000 altogether. It was dusk and the spectacle of the tiny flames flickering clear in the still wintry air was a dramatic spectacle to behold. "She has a good appetite now and has gained a lot of weight. She gained three pounds on the first bottle. We have never seen anything like it. It is hard to believe any medicine could do as much, but Tanlac sure did give her the most wonderful relief. "I am glad to recommend Tanlac because it just broke up the case of malaria, my mother had—at least, the sores were driven away and have not come back—and because it proved in my case a remarkably good medicine. My mother has not a single symptom of malaria now, so far as I can tell. "Tanlac," the Master's Medicine, is exclusively sold in Manning, S. C., by the Dickson Drug Store, in Summerton by D. O. Rhame, Jordan L. W. Wetles, New Zion Shaw & Plowden, Pineawest Farmers Supply Co., Silver Davis and Johnson.

TRAVELED BY PARCEL POST

Englishman Duly Forwarded to His Destination on the Payment of a Small Sum. The parcel post has made its usefulness felt in many ways, unexpected as well as foreseen. But the English parcel post does one surprising thing that has not yet been introduced into our own system.

An Englishman wished to reach a customer living in a remote part of Balham, one of the suburbs of London, and it was very necessary that he find him quickly. Knowing nothing of the district, he called at the general post office at St. Martin's-Grand to consult a directory. On explaining his case to a clerk he was amazed to learn that he could be sent to the address by parcel post by paying a fee of six cents a mile.

The gentleman had never heard of such a thing, and it is said that very few persons in England know that it can be done. He was placed in charge of a messenger who was familiar with all parts of the city, and was soon on his way. The boy carried a printed slip on which was written a description of the "parcel" in charge, under the heading, "Article required to be delivered," and before leaving the customer's house both the customer and the gentleman had to put their signatures on the paper. The limit in weight for anything delivered by parcel post in England is generally understood to be eleven pounds, but there is one clause that reads: "A person may be conducted by express messenger to any address on payment of the mileage fee."—Youth's Companion.
