WOMAN NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH

What Came From Reading a Pinkham Advertisement.

Paterson, N. J. — "I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me well and healthy. Some time ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the aforesaid ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles as they did me." — Mrs. LUSIE J. VAN DER SANDE, 36 No. York St., Paterson, N. J.

communications and hospital facilities has made the death rate in Russia extraordinarily high. Their dead total 1,500,000, their wounded 784,200, and their prisoners and missing 800,000, which is said to be much lower than the probable number.

France has suffered the second highest casualties with a total of 1,810,800, largely because of the early retreat to the Marne and the terrific losses in the defense of Verdun. Her dead total 870,000; her wounded 540,800, and her missing and captured 400,000, though this last figure is believed here to be improbably high.

England's total falls far below, being about one-third France's and one-sixth Russia's, owing, of course, to her late sending of a continental army. From now on, however, her losses are expected to keep fairly close to those of the French, who have seriously felt the drain on man power. England's total comes to 515,400, with 205,400 dead; 102,500 wounded, and 107,500 captured and missing.

Rumania, though entering the war only last summer, has lost half a million men through her fatal attempt to cross into Transylvania when the Central Powers were outflanking her through the Dobrudja. Her dead are given as 100,000; her wounded as 150,000 and her captured and missing about 250,000.

Italy has been saved from extreme casualties through the impossibility of open operations of her mountainous frontiers. Her total reaches 209,000, including 105,000 dead, 49,000 wounded and 55,000 captured and missing.

Belgium and Serbia, the only two small States overrun by the German machine after desperate resistance, have lost very heavily in proportion to population. Belgium's casualties come to 112,000 with 50,000 dead, 22,000 wounded and 40,000 captured and missing. Serbia's dead come to 60,000 and her wounded to 28,000, making a total of 88,000, with the number of missing and captured large, but unknown.

Germany, among the Central empires, is given as by far the largest loser. Her total casualties are 1,585,200, or 225,000 less than France's. Her dead come to 893,200, which is slightly higher than France's while her wounded are set at 450,000 and her captured and missing 245,000, proportionately the lowest of the nations. Germany, because of her fighting on interior lines without having suffered a bloody retreat, and with a highly efficient medical service, has lost very few in captured and wounded, but her offensive have led her into heavy losses in dead. Nearly one-third of her losses are estimated to have been suffered around Verdun.

Austria is only slightly less heavy a loser than Germany with a total of 1,469,100. Her dead, however, only number 523,100 and her wounded 355,000. Her captured and missing run up to 591,000, owing to the heavy losses of prisoners in the two retreats before the Russians.

Turkey also has been a heavy loser, having a wide sweep of front from Gallipoli through Syria, Arabia, Mesopotamia and Armenia with serious pressure from British, Russian and native armies. Her total is given as 307,000, with 127,000 dead, 110,000 wounded, and 70,000 captured and missing.

Bulgaria is the smallest loser, with the meagre total of 20,500, largely because the Serbian campaign was won merely by the threat of her entrance into the war. Her dead total 7,500; her wounded 7,000, and her captured and missing 6,000.

RUSSIA HEAVIEST LOSER

French Casualties 1,810,800; England's About One-third of France's; Rumania 500,000.

Washington, March 11.—More than 10,000,000 men are recorded as killed, wounded, captured or missing in the European war, in the first complete tabulation of official and authenticated semi-official reports of the various belligerents received here.

Among the military proper 4,441,200 are reported dead; 2,598,500 wounded, and 2,567,500 captured, and missing. Among civilian, especially on the Russian and Balkan fronts and in Armenia, another 400,000 are figured as either dead or wounded through the war. These figures are admittedly only approximately and in some instances necessarily several weeks old. They are not called exact in any sense, but are known to be so nearly correct as to give a fairly reliable picture of the war's results. The figures as certainly minimum figures, and then on a careful re-checking with all available authentic information.

Losses on Each Side.

The Entente's losses are given as 6,318,400, as against 3,384,800 for the Central empires. One reason for the great discrepancy between the two is believed to be the relative unpreparedness of the Entente, the disastrous retreats in France in the beginning of the war, in Russia, from the Mazurian lakes, and the Carpathians and Rumania.

The Entente's dead total 2,890,400, against 1,550,800 for the Central empires; the Entente's wounded total 1,676,500, against 922,000 for their enemies; and their captured and missing 1,652,500, against 912,000 for the Central empires. These losses are based upon the assumption that in Germany 90 per cent of the total wounded return to the front and 80 per cent in all the other countries.

Russia is infinitely the heaviest loser so far, with a grand total of 3,084,200 men. The bulk of these losses occurred in the Mazurian lake disaster and the two retreats from the Carpathians. Moreover, lack of
