The Bank of Manning is taking subscription for "Liberty Bonds," and to show the patriotism of this institution, they have subscribed $5,000. This is a great move, and everybody that buys a bond shows his patriotism and love for his country. At the same time it is absolutely a safe investment. Any information desired will be gladly given by the officials of this bank.

WOMEN can't help feeling attracted to a beautiful shoe—and this is one decided factor in our success with Regal shoes.

There is such a range of attractive styles in the new spring Regals, both in dainty pumps and smart high shoes.

But today appearance isn't everything: Women are demanding some assurance about leathers and it is mighty difficult for most shoe dealers to give it just now. Especially is this true of shoes that have no great institution back of them that stands ready to make good both to the women and to the dealer. Regal shoes have a great institution back of them, and you know and we know that they can be depended upon under all circumstances.

This is bringing new customers into our store daily; for the name REGAL stamped on a shoe is worth while looking for. The prices for women's Regals range from $5.00 to $8.00.

COMMUNICATED

Editor The Times: The colored ministers and leaders in every community in Clarendon county should leave no stone unturned in having negro men between the ages of 21 and 30 present themselves at the polls June 5 to register for the selective draft according to the proclamation of the president and the law of the Congress. Our men should be made to feel the risk they run in evading the call. Our people are not all newspaper readers. Hundreds of us are unable to read, and others may feel that it is a light matter that can go unnoticed. It is a serious offense to ignore the law in this matter. To insist the work it would be much help indeed if every colored preacher in our county churches would explain the matter from their pulpits next Sunday. Let it be known that in Clarendon county the negro men heard their country's call and answered like patriotic men. That in no township was the law violated in this all important matter.

I. M. A. Myers.

Clara Kimball Young considers the role of Sonia Sokoloff, which she portrays in "The Badge of Shame," to be seen at The Pastime Theatre on next Friday night, the greatest part in her film career. As an ambitious and noble hearted Russian girl persecuted by the dread Secret Police of that dark nation, Miss Young has a part that gives her full scope to display every phase of her remarkable dramatic gifts.

SENSATION IN SUMTER

Rev. R. T. Belvin, of Walthalla Taken Into Custody for Fighting His Wife at Atlantic Coast Line Station—Charges of Disorderly Conduct and Carrying Concealed Weapons Docketed Against Him.

Rev. R. T. Belvin, of Walthalla, a member of the upper South Carolina Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was arrested by the city police at the Atlantic Coast Line station at 11 o'clock this morning, the charge against him being disorderly conduct (engaging in a fight with his wife) and carrying concealed weapons, to-wit, a pistol of unlawful size. He was taken to the police station, his gun confiscated, and he was placed under bond for appearance for trial on June 7th.

But this is not all of the story, nor the beginning of the row that culminated in a free fight at the station for the possession of their 2-year-old child, during which Mrs. Belvin was knocked down and rendered unconscious for several minutes. While the fight was in progress the station agent telephoned for the police, but before they arrived the fight was ended by Mrs. Belvin being knocked down and Rev. Mr. Belvin started to board the train for Columbia that came into the station just then. In the excitement occasioned by the unusual spectacle of a man and a woman fighting, a crowd gathered and as some of them seemed to block the way to the train, Rev. Belvin drew from his pocket a pistol of large size and business-like appearance and ordered the crowd to clear the road—and the road was promptly cleared. But the police arrived on the scene just then and Rev. Belvin was taken into custody.

But this is not all of the story. It seems that Rev. and Mrs. Belvin have had some differences and could not live together in peace and amity, so Mrs. Belvin taking their two-year-old child left her husband's home at Walthalla and came to stay with her sister who lives in the country near this city. This morning Rev. Belvin arrived at the home of his wife's sister. He walked in and took the child in his arms, got into the automobile and came to this city. His wife followed quickly and as soon as she reached town applied to Magistrate Moore for a warrant for Rev. Belvin's arrest for abduction of the child and carrying concealed weapons. The warrant was issued and Rev. Belvin was arrested. He gave bond and was released, Magistrate Moore placing him also under bond to keep the peace. He then proceeded to the depot where he purchased a ticket to Columbia. Mrs. Belvin followed and ascertaining from the ticket agent that her husband had bought a ticket to Columbia she purchased one to the same point. Immediately thereafter the struggle for the possession of the child took place with the result stated above.

After Rev. Belvin had made his bond in the police court he was re-arrested by order of Magistrate Moore for violating the terms of the peace bond. He is still under arrest in the custody of the sheriff.

Mrs. Belvin has employed D. D. Moise to represent her interests and to take action to regain possession of the child, which Rev. Belvin will not give up. Mr. Moise has gone to Manning to appear before Judge Wilson in habeas corpus proceedings to secure possession of the child. Rev. Belvin has retained J. H. Clifton to represent him. The rather remarkable proceedings that have taken place today bid fair to develop an interesting legal tangle.—Sumter Item.

Richness of scenic environment and a crescendo of startlingly dramatic episodes reaching a gigantic climax mark, "The Badge of Shame," the new picture of life under the lash of the Russian Secret Police, in which the Clara Kimball Young Service—World Picture—will present Clara Kimball Young at The Pastime Theatre on next Friday night.
