WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1917.

Our food reformers are doing about everything, it seems, except reform.

Order your egg in advance, sister. A record price is predicted for next winter.

Time was when everybody reached out a greedy hand when the word "draft" was mentioned—but not today.

The United States is now making its own dye stuffs. Germany, however, seeks to spell it d-i-e.

Just now, however, we're wondering what scheme the income tax collectors will evolve for rounding up the head waiters.

Crop prospects are not so bad, it seems, and the speculators are taking prompt advantage by hogging everything they can get their clutches on. The poor man will pay.

Vice President Marshall suggests sending some of the windy senators to France with the aviation corps. He had thought of recommending another place, but His Satanic Majesty objects.

THE GRINDING OF THE GODS.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceeding fine." Never was the truth of the foregoing more apparent than at the present time.

In 1914 the world was plunged into war by the action of Austria—insolent and domineering—insisting upon the chastisement of poor little Serbia, a nation over which she had tyrannized for generations, and which she was even then holding in forced and unjust subjugation. But in her haughty disregard for the rights of others, Austria sowed the wind from which she is now reaping the whirlwind.

Recent and persistent press dispatches indicate that the empire is in a bad way. Rent and torn by the strife she herself precipitated, she now would be only too glad to make peace on any terms that would leave her ever the semblance of a nation.

But peace for Austria will mean practically extinction as a nation. In the very improbable event of a German victory she would be all but devoured by that aggressive neighbor in pay for "services rendered." On the other hand, a complete entente victory will mean that she will be almost totally dismembered and her ill-gotten territory restored to the different peoples from whom she wrested it.

The way of the transgressor is hard, for nations as well as for individuals.

FREE OF CHARGE.

Why suffer with indigestion, dyspepsia, torpid liver, constipation, sour stomach, coming-up-of-food-after-eating, etc., when you can get a sample bottle of Green's August Flower free at Huggin's Pharmacy. This medicine has remarkable curative properties, and has demonstrated its efficiency by fifty years of success. Headaches are often caused by a disordered stomach.

August Flower is put up in 25 and 75 cent bottles. For sale in all civilized countries.—adv.

Very Unfair Indeed.

Agent Clabaugh, of the department of justice, who has done signal work in the white slave blackmail cases, said in Chicago the other day:

"The Mann act lends itself too easily to blackmail. The Mann act is as unfair—unfair for the blackmailers' benefit—as the proposition of the hamfat actor.

"A hamfat halted before a barber shop with the sign, 'Shaving, 15 cents. Haircut, 25 cents.' He read the sign, then he walked in.

"'Prithee, friend,' he said, 'couldst shear about 25 cents' worth off this pate of mine?'"

"'Sure, Mike!' said the barber gayly.

"At the end of the operation the hamfat rose from the chair.

"'Hast taken off just a quarter's worth of hair, sirrah?' he said.

"'Sure, Mike!' repeated the barber, laughing delightedly.

"'Well, then,' said the hamfatter, 'keep it for thy trouble—and so, give ye good day!'"—Chicago Tribune.

Wanted to Be Friendly.

"I ain't got no money, your worship," exclaimed a coster who was fined 10s the other day for disorderly conduct, "but if you'll take it out in bloaters, things could be harranged as hamical as possible."—Los Angeles Times.

Indirect Action.

Weeks—I suppose you have to mind the baby occasionally.

Weeks—Yes—that is, I mind my wife when she tells me to mind the baby.—Houston Post.

SUMMERTON SCHOOLS

Summerton, Sept. 11.—The Summerton graded and high schools opened here yesterday morning for another year under very favorable auspices. Quite a number of patrons and friends of the school assembled, and the number of pupils beginning the year was fully up to the average, while the exact number enrolled is not known just now. The school for the next year will be under the superintendency of Prof. T. E. Lide, of Darlington, with a competent and experienced faculty.

Mr. W. D. Allen, chairman of the board of trustees, made a short business talk, then the Rev. M. W. Gordon and the Rev. Mr. Tremble made short talks. The complete faculty for the new school year is composed as follows: First and second grade, Miss Cora Cantey, of this place; third and part of the fourth grades, Miss Doris Hartzel, of Cheraw; balance of fourth and fifth grades, Miss Agnes Riggs, of Orangeburg; sixth and seventh grades, Miss Frances Loftin, of McClellanville; eighth and ninth grades, Mssi Frances Gervin, of Clinton; tenth grade, Prof. Lide.

The Summerton school stands high in reputation for the character and preparation of its graduates, and there is every reason to believe this record will be fully maintained in the future.

Often Enough.

"How often does your road kill a man?" asked a facetious traveling salesman of a central branch conductor the other day.

"Just once," replied the conductor sourly.—Railroad Magazine.

"Nothing But the Truth."

The management of the Academy of Music, at Sumter, will offer local theatregoers their first glimpse of James Montgomery's hilarious farce next Wednesday night, September 19. This is the one pronounced and emphatic hit of last year in New York where it was played to capacity houses 490 times. This year G. M. Anderson and L. Lawrence Weber, who direct its destinies, determined to present it all over the land with the same excellent cast of players as seen in New York. It is a play of plot and story, and while the theme is an unusual one—the attempt on a wager of the hero to speak nothing but the truth—the skilful way the basic elements have been handled has given the stage a play so prolific in mirth provoking qualities, that an audience is hastened from laughter to screams. In fact, the play is said to be one prolonged laugh. What better way to pass an enjoyable evening than with "Nothing But the Truth."
