TANLAC'S SUCCESS IS DUE TO REAL MERIT

Hot Air Will Put a Balloon Up But Won't Keep It There.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

But Success Is Impossible Unless There Is a Dollar-for-Dollar Value Behind the Article Advertised.

There is an age of advertising, and everyone is familiar with the popular saying, "It pays to advertise." Advertising is a business force. So potent is the charm cast by its spell it has been shown to perform marvelous feats and to accomplish phenomenal results. It cannot be truly said, however, that everyone who advertises succeeds, for unless full value underlays the article advertised, the advertising would ultimately fall of its own weight. In this connection we must not forget the words of the immortal Lincoln, who said: "You can fool some of the people all of the time; you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all of the time." So if there is not behind every advertisement a dollars and cents value to the article advertised, no amount of advertising will stimulate the sale on such an article beyond a certain point. This applies to every line of business, and the modern business man or firm can only succeed through honest advertising and fair dealing.

Hot air will put up a balloon but it won't keep it there. So, when the manufacturers of Tanlac placed it on the market something over 2 years ago, they did so with the firm conviction that they were offering to the people the best and purest product of its kind on the American market today. They did not hesitate, therefore, to expend vast sums for advertising, because they knew that the more the people heard about Tanlac the more they would buy it. The success the preparation achieved was immediate, and people everywhere were quick to recognize its genuine merit.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a "cure-all" or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and constructive. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a businesslike way in a manner that has commanded confidence in the conservative claims set forth. Underlying these claims there has been real value, not from a dollars and cents point alone, but from health as well. And that's just where Tanlac has scored. And there's why it is here to stay.

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is sold by Dickson's Drug Store, Manning; L. W. Nettles, Jordan; Shaw & Plowden, New Zion; Farmers' Supply Co., Silver; D. C. Rhame, Summerton.—Adv.

"I never felt better," Means said shortly after he rose today. Later his wife and baby girl, Julie, visited him with several other members of his family. During the hours when he had no visitors Means spent his time reading newspapers and magazines.

While members of Means' family were visiting him, Means' large automobile, which carried Mrs. King, Means, and several others on the trip that ended in the woman's death, was wrecked as it turned a downtown corner. Ernest Eury, negro chauffeur, who drove the car that evening, was driving it again today, when he crashed into the curbing, smashing two wheels. No members of the Means family were in the car at the time.

Course of the Bullet.

William H. Burmeister, attached to the office of Coroner Hoffman, at Chicago, who caused the body of Mrs. King to be disinterred, arrived today for the hearing. Mr. Burmeister, it was said, made an extended examination of the course the bullet took and was relied upon by the State as one of the witnesses to prove that the pistol could not have been discharged in the hands of the woman. Means testified at the first inquest that Mrs. King accidentally shot herself, the ball entering the back of her head. Medical experts and pistol experts from New York also are expected to take part in the testimony.

TROOPS TO GO TO FRANCE

Secretary of War Reviews the Rainbow Division.

Camp Mills, Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 23.—"The rainbow division," made up of National Guardsmen from twenty-seven States, who are to go to France, was reviewed by Secretary of War Newton T. Baker here today. For one hour and twenty-three minutes Mr. Baker, with Major Gen. Bliss, the new chief of staff, former Major Gen. W. A. Mann, commander of the division, and Major W. J. McArthur stood under a perfect September sky and watched the 27,000 men march past. It was the first time Mr. Baker ever had seen a division of United States soldiers on review.

"It is the most impressive sight I have ever witnessed," said Mr. Baker. "The troops are in admirable condition and in the highest of spirit. The country is to be congratulated on this manifestation of strength and unity. This division, drawn from all parts of the country, represents in a significant way the national enterprise in which the country is engaged. I have warmly congratulated Major Gen. Mann on the excellent condition and showing made by the men of the 'rainbow division.'"

After the review Secretary Baker visited among the various camps.

All the marching units, except the 168th regiment, formerly the Third Ohio, wore olive drab woolen uniforms with coats and the nattiness of the entire personnel—their trim figures, swinging step, sun-tanned faces and general appearances of health and strength—evoked continuous rounds of applause from thousands of spectators.

SHORTAGE OF FALSE TEETH

Paris, Sept. 23.—There is a shortage of false teeth in France. The army is taking all the visible supply. A single dental school, working for the hospitals, has supplied 14,000 sets. All the other schools and dental establishments are utilizing such quantities that the importations from the United States and England are no longer sufficient and the only French porcelain teeth factory has been closed since the mobilization.

The military authorities have been asked to release the manager and enough workmen to utilize this factory.

CRIME EXPERTS AT WORK ON KING MURDER CASE

Preparations Made for Preliminary Hearing of Gaston Means on Murder Charge.

BEFORE MAGISTRATE TODAY

Means Car, in Which Mrs. King Last Rode, Wrecked by Chauffeur Sunday.

Concord, N. C., Sept. 23.—Preparations went rapidly forward here today for the preliminary hearing tomorrow of Gaston B. Means, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude King, near here, August 29, last.

Federal and State officials, including Solicitor Hayden Clements, of the Fifteenth judicial district of North Carolina; Assistant District Attorney Dooling, of New York, and C. B. Ambrose, of the federal Department of Justice, were closeted almost the entire afternoon with a corps of crime experts here from New York and Chicago, the wealthy widow having resided in both places.

Counsel for the defense, including a number of local attorneys and two from Charlotte, held no formal conferences as far as could be learned, and Frank I. Osborne, of Charlotte, regarded as leading counsel for Means, did not come to Concord during the day. He said over the telephone that he would be here tomorrow, but declined to indicate just how deeply the defense would go into its side of the case.

"I cannot say publicly what steps we will take until I hear the solicitor's open statement tomorrow," he added.

Prosecution Reticent.

Solicitor Clement and others representing the prosecution were equally reticent. Steps they might take at tomorrow's hearing before Police Magistrate A. B. Palmer were as carefully guarded as was their decision suddenly announced Saturday, not to hold a second coroner's inquest, but to swear out a warrant charging Means with murder, and thus bring him before a police magistrate.

It was said today, however, that this decision came after the State had reason to believe that the defense would seek to free Means by high proceedings should a second inquest connect him with Mrs. King's death. The first inquest verdict was that Mrs. King was accidentally shot, and that verdict still remains on record.

Magistrate Palmer might either free Means of connection with the death of Mrs. King or he might bind him over to the grand jury. The former action, however, would not prevent the grand jury taking independent action, if it saw fit.

Means Cheerful.

Means' first night and day in confinement were described as quiet ones, and at the jail it was stated his demeanor was cheerful.
