

DID SO MUCH TO AID HER BOYS AND GIRLS

Mrs. Catsey Tells of Results Tanlac Gave

"IT SURE IS FINE"

Anderson Woman Says She is "Glad to Recommend it Publicly"

"I am glad to recommend Tanlac to the public, for it has done so much to give back health to my boys and girls and other relatives. It sure is a fine medicine," declared Mrs. Josephine Cathey, of No. 12 R. St., Anderson, in a statement she gave May 25th. Her husband, a daughter, a son and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cathey said, had all been greatly helped by Tanlac.

"My husband suffered from indigestion and he was troubled a lot with headaches, and also his appetite was bad. He complained frequently of being weak and run down. My daughter, Mattie, had about the same trouble her father did—indigestion, nervousness and terrible headaches. Mr. Cathey thinks Tanlac is a mighty fine medicine, for it helped him so much. Now he never complains of this trouble for which he took Tanlac and Tanlac got him in fine shape. The Tanlac just made a new person of my daughter Mattie and soon had her in fine health. It sure is one more good remedy. One of my married boys and his wife also took Tanlac and it helped them a lot."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is sold by Dickson's Drug Store, Manning; H. W. Nettles, Jordan; Shaw & Plowden, New Zion; Farmers' Supply Co., Silver; D. C. Rheme, Summerton.—adv.

BIG CROPS WORTH $10,700,000,000—A RECORD

Farm Value of Nation's 1917 Production 2 1-2 Times That of 1900—Illinois Leads—Stop Leak to Rats and Mice

Thirteen principal farm crops in this country in 1917 had a value at the farm of $10,700,000,000, according to estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, or nearly 2 1-2 times the value for the census year 1909. This amount is about four-fifths of the value of all crops. These crops include seven cereals, flaxseed, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tame hay, tobacco and cotton lint. Three States stand out far in the lead in their share of this great and unprecedented total. Illinois is in the front with a value of $775,000,000 for these crops, Iowa is next with $712,000,000, and Texas is third with $647,000,000.

The position of Texas is determined by the cotton crop, which was much damaged by drought; in 1915 and in the average of the preceding five years Texas led all the States in the total value of these crops, and this without including cottonseed in the value of the cotton crop. The States that follow in order after Texas in 1917 are Ohio, Missouri, Indiana, Georgia and Minnesota, with values ranging from $170,000,000 to $118,000,000.

These figures represent a giant achievement by the nation's agricultural forces, and the workers well deserve to be cited for commendation. But it is not the time to rest on these gains. It is a time to plan for greater efforts this year, as Secretary Houston recently pointed out.

In comparing the geographic divisions of the country with one another for 1917, the great predominance of the North Central states is conspicuous, and their production is mostly human food and animal feed. The twelve chief crops produced in these states, for cotton does not appear, had a value that is nearly one-half or over 48 per cent, of the value of the thirteen crops for the whole country. Of this division, the section west of the Mississippi River produced the greater value, or over 27 per cent, of the nation's total, while the eastern section produced 21 per cent.

The entire South produced nearly three-eighths of the total value of the nation's thirteen crops or 36 1-2 per cent, and this fraction was divided among the three sections so that the South Atlantic States section east of the Mississippi River 9 1-2 per cent, and the section west of that river 13 per cent. The smallest share of the total value of the thirteen crops remains to the North Atlantic States, 7 1-2 per cent each.

The relative standing of the various divisions of States in value of chief crops may be better understood when it is remembered that the corn crop of 1917 has an estimated value of $4,054,000,000, cotton lint $1,452,000,000, hay $1,359,000,000, wheat $1,307,000,000, and oats $1,061,000,000; and that the North Central States enormously produce corn, wheat, oats, and hay, and the Southern States cotton, with strong support from corn, tobacco, sweet potatoes and rice.

COLE L. BLEASE CHOICE OF YORK DEMOCRATS

York, Jan. 18.—At a representative county conference of reform Democrats here today, presided over by Dr. I. J. Campbell, a resolution was adopted expressing it as the opinion of all present that Cole L. Blease is the choice of the reform Democrats of York county as the successor of B. R. Tillman in the United States senate and that regardless of faction John L. McLaurin is the best man in South Carolina for governor.

A full set of delegates was elected to the reform Democratic conference to be held in Columbia next Wednesday, and the sum of $25 was subscribed and paid in for the use of the reform Democratic headquarters in Columbia.
