THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

any surplus after canning and preserving is done.

Through this regulation it is hoped by the Food Administration that that there will be a supply of sugar sufficient to meet the needs of the people for canning and preserving, which is regarded as a very important means of conservation of food.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Commencing May 1, the price of War Savings Stamps will be $4.16 each, instead of $4.15, the price during April. The price advances one cent each succeeding month during 1918. This is because the stamps increase in value, and while they cost more, they can likewise be redeemed for more. A stamp purchased in April for $4.15, for instance, can be redeemed in May for $4.16. The price of Thrift Stamps will be the same—25¢—all the year.

Charleston—"County organization is the key to success in the War Savings movement," was the message brought to South Carolina by P. M. Rea, State Vice-Director of War Savings, on returning from a convention of State Directors, held last week at Birmingham. Mr. Rea stated further that in the matter of county organization South Carolina compared very favorably with any of the Southern States.

While Mr. Rea was at the convention, the news reached him that South Carolina had at last passed the $100,000 mark in weekly sales of War Savings stamps and it was very cheering news. Mr. Rea found that the War Savings organization in South Carolina was superior to several of the Southern states, and from the views and experiences aired at the meeting it was agreed that effective county organizations were needed above all other things by the Southern states. Several of the county War Savings committees in the state are in splendid shape, but others are defective. It is hoped that in a short while every county in the state will have an aggressive, efficient committee.

"The signs in South Carolina are very encouraging," Mr. Rea stated. "We have two big goals: first, to get everybody started in the purchase of War Savings stamps; second, to remind them to purchase constantly. This is absolutely necessary if South Carolina is to absorb its quota of $32,000,000 worth of stamps."

Princess Marie Antoinette Warned to Leave Country

Paris, April 28.—The Princess Marie Antoinette, mother of Empress Zita, is ordered to leave Austria within twenty-four hours and not re-enter that country until the termination of the war, according to a dispatch from Geneva.

Empress Zita has been blamed by the pro-German party in her husband's empire as being responsible for Emperor Charles' now famous letter to Prince Sixtus, of Bourbon, his brother-in-law, which he made overtures for peace to France.

HOLDS DOWN BOMB AND WINS MEDAL

Washington, Apr. 28.—A glimpse of the strenuous life aboard the submarine chasers in the war zone was permitted today when the navy department announced the award of the medal of honor and a prize of $100 to John McKenzie, chief boatswain's mate, who wrestled into submission a huge depth bomb which broke its moorings on the deck of the U. S. S. Remlik during a heavy gale on the morning of December 17. Mackenzie sat on the bomb and clung to a rail line until the bomb had been made safe. It is believed he saved the ship from destruction.

The Remlik, which spelled backward gives the name of its former owner, Willis Sharp Kilmer, wealthy New York state yachtsman and horseman, who presented the trim speedy vessel to the navy's patrol service at the outbreak of the war, was tossing in a heavy sea when the bomb, weighing several hundred pounds, broke from the box where it was lashed near the stern.

As it bounded across the deck, the safety pin broke from its socket. The loss of the safety pin made the bomb "alive." As the cry of alarm went up Mackenzie yelled, "watch me; I'll stop her."

Three times he tried to get a strange hold on the unwieldy and slippery engine of destruction, but each time it broke away. The yacht, built for speed, and of narrow beam, rolled heavily, but Mackenzie kept after the bomb. On his fourth trial he held the big explosive container and despite the weight and the heavy seas which broke about him maintained his post until lash ropes had been fastened. Mackenzie's home is in South Hadley, Mass.

GREAT LOSSES IN BIG OFFENSIVE CAUSES DEPRESSION IN GERMANY

Internal Conditions Frankly Portrayed in Article By Capt. von Salzmänn in Vossische Zeitung

London, April 28.—(To Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—A telegram from Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam says:

"Extraordinary nervousness and depression prevailing in Germany, owing to losses in the western offensive, revealed with remarkable frankness in an article by Capt. von Salzmänn in the Vossische Zeitung, in which he endeavors to restore their lost confidence to the Germans by emphasizing the capture of Kemmel hill.

"Capt. von Salzmänn enumerates a few of the series of rumors current in Germany. All these stories are prefaced by the remark 'in the Reichstag, it is said,' and go on to say: "Our losses have been enormous. The offensive in the west has arrived at a deadlock. The enemy is much stronger than the supreme command assumed. We are unable to continue the offensive owing to lack of horses. The whole country between our Amiens front and Paris is mined and will be blown up."

"The people," continues Salzmänn, "have begun to lose their nerve. Replying in the Reichstag, the minister of war said something like this: "It goes without saying that there are big losses in such a struggle. Our losses in one part of the front have been very heavy. Two-thirds of the company leaders in many regiments have fallen."

"It is said that a certain deputy thereupon told his electors in a North German town:

"The minister of war has openly declared our losses to be so heavy that the offensive must be abandoned."

RED CROSS NOTES

In spite of the fact that the Red Cross has received a great many applications lately from people who wish to go to France for various kinds of service, there are still a number of places open for Canteen workers and Stenographers. Ronald Ransom, Director of the Southern Division, Bureau of Personnel, has issued the following call for workers:

"We are anxious to recruit women for the Foreign Canteen and Stenographic Services. Applicants for Canteen Service should be between 25 and 35 years of age, robust in health, willing to volunteer their services, and pay all their expenses, if possible. They will have to sign a contract for a term of six months' service, if volunteers, or a twelve months' service, if their expenses are paid by the Red Cross.

Applicants should understand that they will have hard and continuous physical labor under uncomfortable conditions. They should have good temper and discretion and be self-reliant. A knowledge of French is desirable for this service.

Stenographers should be between 25 and 40 years of age, have robust health and be willing to sign a contract for a minimum term of twelve months' service wherever assigned. Only expert stenographers are desired.

Applicants cannot be accepted for either branch of the service if they have a brother, husband, father or son in the United States Service, either in this country or abroad. In both services, uniforms are worn only on duty. Three references are required, all of whom are American citizens, not related to the applicant, and at least one must be a woman.

Like the Canteen Service, applicants for the Stenographic Service should understand that they will have hard and continuous labor under uncomfortable conditions. Seriousness of purpose is essential in both services.

Applicants must be entirely free from any enemy relationship either by blood or marriage."

SUGAR FOR CANNING

Columbia, S. C., April 25.—The form of certificate, upon the signing of which retail dealers will be authorized by the Food Administration to sell sugar for canning and preserving in larger quantities than the regulations now permit consumers to secure, has been determined upon. These certificates read as follows:

1918

I hereby declare to the United States Food Administration that I desire to purchase from _____ (Name of Dealer) an amount of _____ (number of pounds) of sugar for my use for preserving and canning fruits and vegetables only, and that I shall return to the dealer any surplus sugar I do not use for these purposes.

(Name of Buyer)

(P. O. Address of Buyer.)

The Food Administration will work through the county and district food administrators in handling the sugar situation during the canning season. Sugar certificates will be furnished the retail dealers everywhere by the county food administrators, and the retailers will be required to have these certificates properly signed by all who purchase sugar for canning and preserving, and to mail the signed certificates to the Food Administration at Columbia once a week.

Unless certificates are signed, grocers are prohibited from selling more than two to five pounds of sugar to consumers in cities and towns, and more than five to ten pounds of sugar to people living in rural communities. The sugar secured on certificates for canning and preserving must be returned to the grocer from whom it is bought if there should be

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Manning people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. W. R. White of So. Boundary St., Manning, endorsed Doan's ten years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

Mr. White gave the following statement March 19, 1908: "I suffered with kidney trouble for some years. I would have to get up a good deal during the night to pass the kidney secretions which were highly colored and contained a brick-dust like sediment. I suffered constantly with backaches and there were sharp pains across my loins. My back ached badly and I certainly was in misery. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me splendid relief, making me feel better in every way."

NEARLY TEN YEARS LATER, on February 15, 1918, Mr. White said: "It is always a pleasure to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I found them the only remedy that did me any good; in fact, Doan's cured me of all my trouble."

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. White had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.
