

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prine, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child...I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time... I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble', so he got me 5 bottles...After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved...before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ill-afflicting people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, rheumatism, sciatism, and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules im-him and his mind was saddened by the entrance of his country into the world war.

Although he had been in feeble health for more than two years, his final illness was brief—a matter of days. A severe cold developed quickly into bronchial pneumonia, the aged patient lapsed into unconsciousness and the end came as though it were the beginning of a deeper sleep.

Simple Funeral

No ostentation will mark the funeral of the man who, when he began eighteen years ago to give away his millions, was reputed to have the second largest private fortune in America. A simple service, attended only by members of his family and his household, will be held at the home, Shadow Brook, tomorrow or Wednesday. The time had not been determined tonight. It is expected that the body will be taken to Pittsburg, the city where he laid the foundations for his wealth, for burial.

Mrs. Carnegie was at her husband's bedside in the last hours of his life, but he did not revive sufficiently to permit of any sign of recognition. Their daughter, Margaret, who last April married Ensign Roswell Miller, of New York, was notified that it was apparent that the illness would be fatal, and she hurried from her home at Millbrook, N. Y., arriving a few minutes after her father had died.

Bears Shock Bravely

The widow of the Laird of Skibo, although overcome with grief at the comparatively sudden death of her husband, bore the shock bravely. Her physician said tonight that she had recovered sufficiently to make it possible for her to go through the ordeal of the private funeral service.

When Mr. Carnegie returned to his summer home last spring it was evident to his intimates that the once great industrial leader was a broken man and that any slight indisposition might have a fatal end. However, the air of the Berkshires and the seclusion afforded in his beautiful estate appeared to benefit him and he exhibited occasional flashes of the old exuberance that had made him a cheerful companion for so many years.

Mr. Carnegie proved an easy prey to a cold contracted last Thursday and after a futile attempt to shake it off he took his bed the following day.

Always Cheerful

In his last days whatever his thoughts may have been, Mr. Carnegie appeared as one far removed from the affairs of the world in which he had played so great a part for more than the average lifetime. To his physician he spoke only of his health and the mode of living best suited to it. He always appeared cheerful.

No guards were needed to induce the people of the countryside and the occupants of the summer villas to respect the privacy which they instinctively understood would be desired by Mrs. Carnegie and her daughter.

It was chiefly due to Mrs. Carnegie's description of Shadow Brook, after a visit to the estate in the early summer of 1917, as bearing a strong resemblance to the country around Skibo Castle in his native Scotland, that the ironmaster decided to purchase the property. The war had prevented his annual visit to Skibo and indeed had made such changes there that it was understood that he had decided to make his country home in America for the remainder of his life.

New York, Aug. 11.—Telegraph and telephone communication throughout the United States and Canada was seriously interrupted and in many cases completely stopped, shortly after noon today by the aurora borealis, the "merry dancers" of Arctic explorers.
