

COTHRAN

is Still Working Hard for the Tobacco Growers at The Big New Planters Warehouse.

TOBACCO GROWERS OF CLARENDON AND CONTIGUOUS COUNTIES:

Sirs:—

No one in the tobacco warehouse business in South Carolina works harder or gets more for the tobacco growers than Cothran. Prices and quality this year, as a general thing aren't satisfactory to the growers. No one realizes this more keenly than Cothran does. Cothran is a good judge of tobacco and never lets a good pile slip by without first standing by it and pulling the buyers and price up to the highest possible bid. All tobacco placed with Cothran gets his personal notice and attention. Ask those who sell with Cothran. He has the room and light in his warehouse to get the best of results to be had. Cothran is selling for new people every day. You cannot keep a good man down when he knows his business.

BRINGING HOME THE HONEY

In most communities there are two classes of citizens—those who produce, and those who do not. The productive class brings home the honey. The other class merely consumes that which the producer produces.

There would be less hue and cry over the cost of living if more people would conscientiously produce instead of being content merely to consume.

Food and other commodities are hard to produce at best, and the idleness and indifference of the non-productive class only accentuates its scarcity and contributes to its cost. A hive of honey bees is a good thing for mankind to study. The bee that does not work is not allowed to eat—it is not permitted to consume the fruits of the labors of other bees. We humans, with all of our superior intelligence, can still profit from the example set us by the little honey bee. Future generations may learn to see, where we of today are groping in darkness.

LET'S BE FAIR

During the past few months we have several times heard our home merchants criticised for the prices they charge for their goods. The home merchant does charge a higher price—a much higher one than he did before the war. He is compelled to do so or go out of business. He is paying enormously high prices for his goods in the wholesale markets. He is paying increased freight rates and cartage. His help costs him more money and his overhead expenses are greater. Everywhere he turns he is forced to pay a heavy increase in the cost of conducting his business. Added to this, he is under an additional pressure in paying the high cost of supporting his family and himself. All of this must come out of the business, and this can only be done by charging a reasonable percentage of profit over the wholesale cost of his goods. The home merchant can not afford to profiteer. Were he to do so he would soon be trapped and would thereafter be a dead one in this community.

Prices are high—abnormally high—but we believe the home merchants are as reasonable in their charges as can be expected under existing conditions. Let's be fair and consider both sides before we criticise.

The practice of pulling off a lot of private murders in a presidential year is poor taste and should be suppressed. It diverts the public mind from the few measly thrills still left in our political campaigns.

Judging from reports from political headquarters, most of the virtue, energy and political sagacity in the United States is centered in either Mr. Harding or Mr. Cox—according to whether you are a rep. or a dem. This business of candidating is great stuff—until the jar comes.

The full dinner pail is no longer a slogan in our national elections. Nothing short of a complete dining car service would satisfy the average voter of today.

Of course, if you don't want to pay the railroads that 20 per cent increase in passenger rates you can buy an automobile instead. Even a buzz wagon would be cheaper than walking at the present price of shoe leather.

TO LIMIT COAL PRICES CHARGED CONSUMERS

Washington, Aug. 17.—Active steps to limit the prices charged consumers for coal in various parts of the country will be begun shortly by the Department of Justice, it was said tonight by officials of the department.

No attempt will be made to fix a price on coal it was said, as the Attorney General can only act under the Lever act, but it was pointed out that by prosecution for violations of the law the price of coal can be kept within reasonable bounds.
