MANY WITHOUT WORK THROUGHOUT NATION

No Material Change in Unemployment Situation

MORE ACUTE IN FAR EAST

Financially the Month Has Been Encouraging, Says Reserve Board

Washington, Jan. 31.—Industrial operations have not increased sufficiently to effect a material reduction in the widespread unemployment prevalent a month ago, according to the review of business and financial conditions of the country for January issued tonight by the Federal Reserve Board.

A slight increase in the activity of leading New England industries during the month probably has brought a measure of relief there, the review said, but in the South and West the situation has become more acute. In the San Francisco district, previously slightly affected, the board reported unemployment to be abnormally great for this season.

Wage reductions have continued, the board said and the curtailment has spread to sections of the country where wage rates have hitherto been maintained at high levels. About 100,000 textile mill workers in New England have suffered wage cuts averaging 22 1-2 per cent, the review added, and while reductions in the boot and shoe industry have not been so large they have been extensive.

Textile Mills Reopen.
Unemployment in the New York district increased by about 4 per cent in January, the review said. Some textile mills have reopened and there has been greater activity in the men's clothing industry of Rochester, added, but transportation companies dropped a considerable number of employees during the month.

Unemployment was likewise widespread among longshoremen, freight handlers, dock workers and seamen while there were further reductions in iron and steel plants, the board added.

Textile mills in the Richmond district resumed work in January, but in the building trades and in the ranks of unskilled labor, the review said, a serious lack of employment existed there.

Unemployed Increases.
The number of unemployed has increased decidedly in the Atlanta district and idleness has become widespread in the ranks of the unskilled. In many lines wage reductions have already been made, the board added.

Prices of certain staples, notably grains, cotton and other agricultural products, rose early in January, the board reported, but later in the month declined again. Other leading commodities, however, such as crude and refined oils and bituminous coal not greatly affected in earlier months, were increasingly weak, and iron and steel continued to decline.

Financially the month has been encouraging, the board declared. Slackening in the demand for credit resulted in a material reduction in the total outstanding volume of circulation amounting in the month to about $50,000,000 while gold holdings increased to about $25,000,000.

In private finance, the board said, the month has been a period of improvement of values in most classes of securities.

Signs of Recovery.
Contrasted with a further general curtailment of operations by cotton mills in the North, signs of recovery were noted in the mills of North and South Carolina, some of which were said to have resumed operations on approximately full time. Wage reductions in effect in Southern mills at the end of the month were reported as averaging about 25 per cent. Although considerable cotton was reported as still remaining in the fields in the southwestern district, prospects were said to be good for saving most of the unpicked crop. Increased picking of the ungathered crop in the Richmond district was reported, due to a slight stiffening in prices.

There was said to be "much talk" in this district of reduced acreage for both cotton and tobacco.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have hearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. E.92

Lumber Mills on Short Time.
Due to the falling demand for lumber, a large proportion of the Southern pine mills located in the Atlanta district were said to be either running on short time or closed down entirely, with 125 mills reporting an actual production of 51 per cent below normal.

Unemployment in the Atlanta district was said to have been accentuated by the closing down, or short time operation, of a large number of blast furnaces and mines, while mills and factories in the district also were said to be operating on greatly reduced scales.

Decreases in building operations were said to have been shown in practically every city in the Richmond and Atlanta districts, the value of building permits issued in the former district during December being 40 per cent below the value for the same month last year.

PLANTING OF COTTON AN IMPORTANT ITEM

President South Carolina Bankers Association Says Members Are Watching Reduction.

Georgetown, Jan. 31.—H. W. Fraser, president of the South Carolina Bankers association, has just returned from a meeting of the executive council and the legislative committee in Columbia January 28. At this meeting matters of far reaching importance were considered relative to the financial, industrial and agricultural situation in this state.

Asked for a statement of how the bankers viewed the situation today, President Fraser said: "Their views as a whole are decidedly optimistic but a great deal depends upon the way the farmers take to the recommendations of the American Cotton association as to the planting of cotton this year."

"If they will one and all plant one-third of the cultivated lands to cotton and the other two-thirds to food and other crops, in accordance with those wise recommendations, then the prospect for higher prices will indeed be bright and prosperous conditions this fall assured."

"This seems to be the only practicable solution, and it is up to the farmers themselves. It is their only salvation, and I can not too strongly urge them to adopt this plan, which will, in my opinion, be quickly effective.

"The proportionate acreage of one-third to cotton and two-thirds to other crops has been worked out as the proper basis for planting this year, and not a 50 per cent, reduction of cotton acreage, as some erroneously believe to be the recommendation of the American Cotton association. The above basis will effect a 50 per cent, reduction."

"I am sure bankers generally will feel inclined to help the farmers to the limit of their ability if they will whole heartedly and conscientiously carry out these recommendations."

In the course of his remarks, President Fraser referred in terms of highest praise to State Bank Examiner James H. Craig, who by his constant spirit of helpfulness and splendid efficiency has assisted so materially in stabilizing the entire industrial life of the state.
