PARTING OF THE WAYS Mr. Shade Wilson Makes Statement

I represent the Kelly Sale System—a million dollar concern—for a quarter of a century known as the largest merchandise realization concern in the world. I have been sent here to appraise, adjust and sell out the entire stock and fixtures of D. Hirschmann, of Manning, South Carolina. It's a big job. I've been here for more than a week appraising, and going through every piece of merchandise. My job has loomed up bigger every day, so I said to Mr. Hirschmann:—

“It can only be done by selling everything cheaper than anyone else in this section of the state. We will have to sell three or four dollars worth of merchandise for one dollar in cash.”

Did you ever buy anything that you later had to sell at a big loss? You have. Well that's the position D. Hirschmann is in now. We must advertise largely—sell at such low prices that people will buy heavily. Now, how can I get them to come?

PRIZES—NO, TALK—NO, FLATTERY—NO, THEN HOW?

If you can come here and buy the best of best clothing for men and boys', ladies' ready-to-wear, shoes and dry goods cheaper than it ever was sold before—You'll come—won't you and so it's a case of necessity. MUST IS MASTER—otherwise I would not be here.

For your interest,

Shade Wilson,
Merchandise Valuator.
