The Price of Cotton Has Jumped 60 p.c. in 5 Weeks

HOUSEWIVES!! THIS IS STARTLING NEWS!!

On August 1st the price of raw cotton on the New York stock Exchange was about 12c a pound. As this is being written the present price is 60 per cent above what it was just five weeks ago and it is still advancing in price. With this year's crop less than half as large as last year, the price is bound to go up higher and higher.

This store has been buying cotton goods for months, and in certain items we are trying to get more, before prices rise again.

Now, to the Housewives of Manning as business managers of your homes, we say this:

Every cotton article which will be needed in your homes should be bought now. Buy ahead. Buy for months to come. Our counters and tables are filled with cotton goods at the lowest prices during this sale. Go over your household items one by one. Foresighted women will supply their wants at once—and at this Sensational Sale.

Have you enough Sheets? Pillow Cases? Muslin? Gingham? Cotton and mixed Dress Goods? Night Gowns? Muslinwear for yourself and children? Knit Underwear for the whole family? Hosiery? Handkerchiefs? Aprons? Boys' wash Suits? Draperies? Corsets? Blouses? Gloves? Threads? Crochet Cotton?—Items without end. There's a goldmine of savings waiting for you at J. H.
