Clothes Comforts are Child's first Demands

In selecting apparel for children, the first consideration must be of comfort, because, no matter the season, child will be comfortable else they will not wear the garment.

This is particularly true of summer apparel. Mothers who have longed for simple, attractive, and, above all, distinctly new clothes, for their children, will find here the very things for which they wished.

Good Taste—Simplicity—Values.

Tub frocks of best linen gingham.

Summer bonnets of soft straw.

That is, if you want, a neat, even growth, and know its advantages. An unkept, shaggy lawn detracts from the appearance, and so indirectly from the value of the house.

Drop in and look over the various models and sizes.
