PRACTICAL EDUCATION

The child's brain is susceptible of the highest development, but it should be developed along the line of its inclinations and for practical purposes. If ever there was a time when sanity in education was needed, now is that time. Our schools and colleges are educating the youth of this land away from the natural tendencies and from the human instincts of well developed boys and girls.

The education of today seems to destroy initiative, self-reliance, courage, and a desire for self-support. The educational system of today has apparently destroyed the desire on the part of children to be contributing members of society. They seem to think that the state owes them something because it gives them a free education. There are very few boys learning to be master mechanics. The majority are trying to find an elevator by which they can ride to the top story of Success. Success was never reached by an elevator. The mountain peak of Success can be reached only by climbing over the rocks and by enduring the hardships, dangers, and difficulties.

If the manufacturing plants of this country had to depend upon

American master mechanics, the factories of the land would have to close. The majority of the master mechanics controlling the factories today have been trained in foreign schools. There are very few apprentices. We have permitted the tyrannical labor unions of the country to destroy the school of apprentices. The idea of organizations or institutions arbitrarily saying how many apprentices they will permit to be trained! Such a tyrannical suggestion from an organization should not be permitted. Such a doctrine is a damnable curse to the manufacturing plants of this land.

Men of brains and money should spend their time and money and their energy in founding, erecting, and directing technological schools for the training of boys and girls in the great mechanical trades of life. There should be a great technological school in every city of this land, and our boys should be encouraged to learn trades, to master trades, and to become masters in their trades.

We have too many counter hoppers, too many clerks, too many nonentities, and too few technically trained mechanics coming from the public schools of our country.

With the passing into the Co-operative Association of the Clark Warehouse we are brought face to face with a new situation and one that must be remedied if possible.

For the man who chooses to sell his tobacco on an open market to be forced to leave town to sell it, is indeed a bad state of affairs.

As business people of the Town of Manning do we mean to say "Co-op." dollars or none?

All dollars look alike to me, and unless there is a decided change in the outlook within the next few weeks, we are going to need any kind of dollar we can lay our hands on. When October 1st comes around remember the above.

If there was ever a time that we needed all the business we can pull our way it is right now, and if we do not provide the accommodation we are asleep on the job, even the "Co-ops." ought to see the necessity of this and join in an effort to provide a place to sell unpledged tobacco.

Every grower, I take it, is entitled to his opinion and to run his affairs as seems to him, best, and while I hold no brief, either for or against the "Co-ops." or the man who chooses to sell at auction, let's provide the machinery to take care of both sides, and not run them off unless they sell with the Association.

Were I growing tobacco the present year, I would sell it on an independent floor and at auction, if the "Co-ops." turn out to be the thing it is cracked up to be, next year I would join, if they wouldn't take me, and I couldn't sell my tobacco at home, I would bundle it up and take to some market that would buy it, feeling assured that during the life time of the present tobacco growers there will be an open market for the sale of leaf tobacco—if not in Manning—then Sumter, Olanta, Greelyville or some other nearby point.

There will probably be a million or more pounds of Clarendon tobacco sold on the open market this year that will bring perhaps a quarter million dollars, and are we going to sit down and see this tobacco go to Olanta or Sumter for lack of a place to sell it.

This stuff the speakers use about "the poor little ragged boy" is highly sentimental, nevertheless we must admire the man who has his convictions and who cannot be headed in the first big drive.

There is only a few days now until the markets open and whatever is done must be done quickly.

By all means let's rig up some place to sell our open tobacco.

"PUNK" LUTHER WEDS

EX-COLUMBIA GIRL

Newberry, July 10.—"Punk" Luther won another game Sunday but it was not baseball. Residents of Newberry college campus saw him drive in yesterday morning but they thought that he might have come for the summer school which opened this morning, but later developments proved that "Punk" came not for the opening of the school but for the hand of Miss Louise Haltiwanger, the attractive daughter of Mrs. A. C. Haltiwanger, formerly of Columbia and now the popular matron of the college boarding hall.

Luther and Miss Haltiwanger motored to Little Mountain and were united in marriage by Rev. John J. Long, pastor of the Lutheran church of that city.

Newberry regrets to lose Miss Haltiwanger but is glad to give her to this town's former star ball tosser and both of them have Newberry's best wishes.

6,000,000th FORD BUILT MAY 18th

Four Out of Five Ford Cars and Trucks Sold Since 1908 Still in Operation.

The six millionth Model "T" Ford Motor was produced May 18th, in the Ford Factory at Detroit. In other words, from the time back in 1908 when the Ford Motor Company began marketing the now famous Model "T" Motor Car until May 18th, 1922, a total of six million Ford Cars and Trucks have been produced. Out of this total 5,517,956 were delivered to purchasers in the United States alone, and according to the latest statistics, 4,478,248 of these Ford Cars and Trucks are still in daily service.

Thus, it will be seen that out of every five Ford Cars and Trucks sold to retail purchasers in the United States alone during the past fourteen years, four are still in actual daily use, which is really remarkable when the hard service of commercial cars is taken into consideration. This seems to forebodingly confirm the popular knowledge of the longevity of Ford cars.

That Ford products have been quite evenly distributed throughout the United States is borne out by the fact that through the sparsely settled communities in the West to the densely populated cities in the East, practically the same ratio of Ford cars and trucks to population exists.

Ohio leads with a total of 290,769 Ford Cars and Trucks in daily use; Illinois comes second; Pennsylvania third; Texas fourth, and Michigan fifth, with a total of 234,081. New York, Iowa and California follow in the order named, each having more than 200,000.

An idea of the important part played by Ford Cars and Trucks in the daily transportation of goods and persons in the United States can be gained by realization of the fact that with the Ford cars now in operation, averaging a minimum of 5,000 miles per year each, they would pile up a total of Twenty-five Billion transportation miles—equivalent to more than a million trips around the world.—Adv.

TO THE VOTERS OF CLARENDON COUNTY

Following my communication in Times last week outlining some of the policies and principles which I shall advocate during the county campaign as a candidate for the House of Representatives, I wish to say that I am profoundly grateful to the many good people for their assurance of support in my behalf.

I am just a plain hard working man, one hundred per cent American and sober. I have a common school education in conjunction with a practical business education and respectfully ask that you weigh my claims as a candidate for representative. If you do not know me, ask others that do and if they say that they believe I am worthy of your support, and competent to represent you in the legislature, and that I will be faithful to the trust reposed in me, I shall be very grateful indeed to you for your support and vote. But if they say that I am unworthy, I would not expect your assistance in my behalf. I assure you that I shall strive hard at all times not to disappoint you or bring discredit to myself or any one else.

No man realizes more clearly than I do that it is going to take the best brains, energy, and perseverance to bring about the desired relief from the standpoint of taxation as well as other unsettled problems. To bring this about it will require the spirit of meekness and co-operation among the members of the Senate and House as well as the chief magistrate of the State. To this end I promise, if elected, to be open minded at all times and to do my utmost to be of the greatest service to the people of the State and County in retaining our people and bringing back to them the satisfaction and confidence that once existed between them and our State and County officials. Until this is accomplished we cannot hope to have the happy people, the love and respect for one another of years past and gone. To this end I pledge my most loyal and undivided support.

Yours very truly,
H. H. MEDLIN.
