Dillon, S. C., April 8, 1909.

Since it has been learned that a Chicago man eloped with his mother-in-law we should not be surprised if the News and Courier discovers that the present method of handling liquor in Charleston is impracticable.

Every honest citizen of South Carolina will rejoice over the decision of the United States Supreme Court which annuls Judge Pritchard's order for receivers for the old state dispensary. It will be recalled that the dispensary "winding up" commission was enjoined by Judge Pritchard from making certain investigations connected with deals between the dispensary and certain liquor concerns, namely the Wilson Distilling Co. and the Fleishman Co. The object of the commission was to get hold of Fleishman's and the Wilson Co.'s books, but when the injunction was issued the commission's hands were tied. The appeal from Judge Pritchard's court was carried on to the circuit court of appeals at Richmond where the lower court was sustained. From the circuit court of appeals it went to the United States Supreme Court and the order was dissolved. The state has scored a big victory. Had the United States Supreme Court sustained Judge Pritchard the cases against the dispensary grafters would have been dropped and justice would have been cheated through a technicality of the law. Now that Attorney General Lyon has the whip in hand he should begin at the bottom and go through to the top. It is not likely that all the grafters live in or near Columbia, and to make the thing interesting the big and little fish ought to be fried in the same pan.

Poor Woodbury.

It cannot be denied that Woodbury Township has been in the lime-light during the past few days. And the distressing part of it is the brighter the light shines the more embarrassing becomes the position of our Marion friends.

Roar after roar, that could be heard around the state, has gone up from Marion because Dillon wanted to "disfigure" the "historic old county" by cutting off some of her territory, and now it develops that while Marion was protesting against Dillon's greed she was strenuously working to force one of her townships over to Horry.

Woodbury is cut off from Horry by three miles of swamp and a river and when the water is at high tide transportation is possible but exceedingly dangerous. But our Marion friends would meet this contingency by constructing over this three miles of swamp a bridge solely for the accommodation of the benighted Woodburvites. Of course it would cost thousands of dollars to constrict this bridge but our Marion friends, according to the Conway Field, have grown so magnanimous of late that they would take one-half of the money out of their own pockets and then hold the tax-payers up for just the other half.

Great scheme, but is Woodbury willing? Not quite. Woodbury says it will take lots of money to keep up that three mile bridge and if Marion is so anxious to put Woodbury in close touch with a court house why not use half the money it would take in building the bridge and build macadam roads from Woodbury to Marion?

The Woodburvites are wise. But all the trouble lies not in Woodbury. Horry has been heard from. And Horry does not take kindly to the three-mile bridge idea because the road and bridge levy in Horry is high enough already. Forsooth, Woodbury's position is bewildering, as well as unfortunate. Her mother county is pushing her off on Horry and Horry refuses to take her in.

Verily, she is like a step-child among poor relations.

Against the Right-of-Way.

Mr. T. A. Dillon is in receipt of a petition liberally signed by prominent citizens of Judson intimating that they cannot be expected to support the New County if the railroad is not brought by their town.

We do not blame the citizens of Judson for wanting the railroad to come by their town; neither do we blame the citizens of Gallavon for wanting the same thing. Dillon is working hard for the road because the Dillonites believe this additional line of communication with the outside world will help to build up their town. But our Judson friends are in error if they believe that Dillon is trying to pull the road away from them.

When the citizens of Dillon met and appointed a committee on right-of-way that committee was instructed to secure a right-of-way from within two miles of Clio into the town of Dillon. No particular route was suggested and the common understanding was that the route preferred by the promoters of the new road would meet with the approval of the citizens of Dillon. So far as we know the idea of running two distinct routes from Clio to Dillon was not born in a Dillonite's brain, but on the other hand belongs exclusively to the gentlemen who are building the road. Again, if any member of the right-of-way committee has shown a preference for any particular route it is purely a matter of personal choice and does not come from any citizen's meeting nor does it reflect any well defined sentiment in the town of Dillon.

Dillon has no preference in the matter. It has friends at Judson and Gallavon and would be glad to see the road go by both places, if such were possible. As it cannot touch at both places Dillon has left the selection of a route absolutely with the promoters and will be "hands off," so to speak. Therefore if any person should express a preference for either route we trust our friends at Gallavon and Judson will not take it as a reflection of sentiment in Dillon.

What Dillon wants is the New County and the new railroad, too, if she can get it, and if effort counts for anything she will get both, but what she most desires just at this time is that one interest shall not conflict with the other, and to this end every patriotic New Countyite should bend his energies.

This institute, composed of a group of regularly graduated physicians and surgeons, licensed, legally chartered and incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio, sends at its own expense these eminent medical specialists in order to introduce the newest methods and discoveries in medicine and surgery, such as the system of treatment under X-ray, Violet ray, Finsen ray, Hydrotherapy, Etc., to give to those who call on the above data, consultation, examination, advice and all medicines required to complete a cure, absolutely free. These specialists will diagnose your case and give you the benefit of their skill and medical knowledge.

There is in this case no experimenting or guess work at your expense. You will be told whether you can be cured or not. If your case is curable they will put you under treatment immediately; if incurable they will give you such advice as may prolong your life. Their treatment always gives quick relief, and ultimately positive cures. Being prepared to cope with each individual case the human system is thoroughly cleared of the disease in natural and direct manner, and improvement is noticed at once even the worst cases are treated without any inconvenience to the patient or the pursuing of his or her daily vocation.

If you are improving under your family physician do not come and take up their valuable time, as they absolutely refuse to treat any one who is under the care of the local physicians. They wish besides to give each patient plenty of time and their undivided attention, but can not listen to long stories not pertaining to your trouble. They have discarded the old methods and remedies used for ages by the medical world, and which it would be folly to depend upon any longer, for they are not known to cure, as thousands die, depending on them for relief. The following list of diseases only are taken under treatment to wit: Diseases of the nervous system, heart, stomach, lungs, kidneys, catarrh, (purulent or dry), consumption, epilepsy, deafness, diseases of women, tumors, pseudo, cancers, piles, of a chronic nature only. They treat deafness by an entirely new method, and hearing in many cases is restored at once. Catarrh in all its varied forms, like other diseases if once taken under treatment, is cured permanently to remain so and to never return. It matters not who you have seen, or with whom treated, don't fail to call, as a visit will cost you nothing, and may restore you to health, or even save or prolong your life, as thousands of persons will testify by unsolicited testimonials in all parts of the country. If you suspect kidney trouble, bring a two ounce bottle of your urine for chemical and microscopic analysis.

REMEMBER—The free offer is during this visit only, and will not be repeated. Persons commencing treatment upon their future visits will be required to pay, but not one cent will be asked from those commencing treatment during this visit for any medicine necessary to effect a cure, irrespective of your position in life, or the number of those who come on above date. Whenever, or by whom wanted, a positive guarantee to cure will be given under their system of treatment. Those having long standing and complicated disease, who have failed to get well and become discouraged, are particularly invited to call.

NOTICE—Married ladies without their HUSBANDS, and minors without their FATHERS, will positively not be admitted to consultation unless accompanied by one of their local physicians.
