Get Safe on the Paint.

When you contract with a painter to do your work you had better ask him what he is going to do it with. Don't worry so much how he is going to do it and how many spots he's going to get on the floor. Ask him what you are going to HAVE when he gets through—after paying him $25, $50 or $75. The painter is going to have $2 or more a day and you will pay for it, the question is what you will have for it. You very particularly question the quality of butter you buy—only 15c a pound—or the eggs—a matter of only a few cents. SPECIFY DEVOE to him.

If he kicks against the price, pay him more. It is a case where you get back dollars for cents you expend. If he makes an effort to run down the paint, tell him upon our guarantee that six hundred gallons were sold here the past twelve months and you can't look out your door without seeing a specimen of it.

Be sure you are safe on Paint, and risk the balance. Devoe is the standard Paint in the United States and the best known. The white is the whitest white and the glossiest paint on the market. It has done more beautifying in Fort Mill than the Civic Improvement society or any other agency. ARDREY'S Drug Store.

A Tribute to Rev. Ed. Mack.

The many Fort Mill friends of Rev. Edward Mack, of Cincinnati, who was reared in this place, will be interested in the following tribute to him in a recent issue of The Interior, the leading paper of the Northern Presbyterian church:

"In the ever stronger chain that ties together the Presbyterianism of the North and South, one link very influential, popular and active—if there is not too great risk of confusing the metaphor by saying it thus—is the professor of Old Testament exegesis in Lane Seminary, Cincinnati. Five or six years since, when the faculty of that seminary was reorganized and Lane entered upon an era of new activity after a period of severe depression, the problem of filling the Old Testament chair was solved by the selection of a young Southern Presbyterian pastor in Louisiana. Dr. Mack had already won an assured popularity in the Southern fellowship, and he was followed to this new work in a Northern city by the hearty good will of that whole denomination. And it took him but a brief time to win as hearty love from everybody with whom he was thrown into company in Cincinnati and in the Ohio Synod. For although he is a deep-read and logical professor he has nothing of the student's besetting fault of seclusiveness. No pent-up seminary campus has confined his powers in Cincinnati, but he has freely and heartily entered into the labors of Presbyterianism for the blessing of that great city. He has thrown himself with enthusiasm into the Presbyterian Brotherhood movement, which has had a very strong development in Cincinnati and its immediate vicinity. His unaffected friendliness is an immense capital for men's work. When the reunion of all Presbyterians in this country is finally effected, Dr. Mack will deserve admiring recognition as a good forerunner of that good consummation—himself, as it were, a convincing laboratory experiment that in Presbyterianism North and South there are no incompatible elements to prevent their mixing."

Mr. W. M. Culp announces to his friends that beginning with next Saturday he will serve Oysters each Saturday during the season from the up-stairs room to the rear of the central telephone office.—Adv.

Miss Flora Johnson, daughter of C. W. Johnson, a well known cotton manufacturer of Charlotte, and Mr. E. J. Braswell, an employee of one of the drug houses of Charlotte, were married in this place Tuesday afternoon by Rev. W. A. Hafner. The couple, accompanied by a lady friend came down from Charlotte in an automobile.

State Superintendent of Education O. B. Merritt has sent out examination questions for the teachers' examination, which will be held on October 16 in every county in the State. These examinations are held twice a year. There are usually 40 teachers to each county who stand the examinations. The subjects on which they are examined are physiology and hygiene, pedagogy, civics and current events, United States history, English, arithmetic, algebra and geography.

A New Bank For Fort Mill.

Unless present indications are misleading, Fort Mill will have another bank by the beginning of a new year. It has been known for several months that the idea of a new bank was brewing in the minds of a number of our citizens but it was thought best to say nothing of the matter until further developments. The first real step for the establishment of the bank came the past week when subscriptions to stock in the institution were taken. It is the purpose to capitalize the bank at $25,000, and, although little canvassing has been done by those behind the project, we are told that about half of this amount has been subscribed. Just as soon as the necessary amount has been taken, the secretary of State will be asked for a charter and the bank will be formally organized.

It is very gratifying to note, as we have been assured, that faith in another bank as a paying institution is such that parties in Charlotte as well as Rock Hill have each agreed to subscribe sufficient to complete the organization, but it is the desire of the promoters to place the stock in small amounts in as many hands as possible, especially to farmers, as their accommodation will be the chief aim of the new institution.

The establishment of a new bank in Fort Mill does not mean that there is dissatisfaction with our present Savings Bank, for that institution since its organization has perhaps done more for the advancement of the town along progressive lines than any other agency. To the contrary, it is believed that the volume of business going out of this community to the financial institutions of other towns amply justifies the establishment of a second bank in Fort Mill. The promoters of the new bank are very enthusiastic in their work, and with the gratifying results thus far attained, it seems a foregone conclusion that the project will meet with success.

For 60 days I offer the O'Connell property, situated close to the graded school, just across the street from corporate limits of Fort Mill. Has nine-room two-story house, besides pantries, 30 acres land, good orchard and out buildings, 5 acres pasture, 4 acres in original oak timber. This is a great chance to buy a piece of property and sell enough lots to pay for it, as a big portion of the place fronts the street. For particulars see me. Terms reasonable.

156 acres of land in Fort Mill township, near Pineville, N. C., at $6.50 per acre, if taken at once.

About 250 acres fine farming land near Fort Mill. Particulars on application from parties interested.

A place containing 100 acres, within 1 1/2 miles of Pineville, N. C., in good condition. Fairly new dwelling and out-houses. Fifty acres of this place is in woods. Price, $1,400. Terms—One-third cash, balance in one, two and three installments, with interest.

A nice building lot in Sprattville.

The last three available business lots on the shady side of Main street, Fort Mill, are offered at reasonable figures, if taken at once. Two of these lots are 25 x 100 feet.

WANTED.

I have applications from several who want to buy plantations, so if you want to sell your place let it with me at once, or if it is town property you want to sell, let me handle it for you.

Small Depositors.

There are several reasons why the management of

THE NATIONAL UNION BANK OF ROCK HILL.

Welcomes small depositors and considers it a matter of good business policy to give equal attention to small and large accounts.

In the first place, most of our large depositors started as small depositors. We have had the pleasure of seeing many accounts grow steadily over a period of years and we are glad to say that we have helped our customers to increase their business and deposits.

So far as the bank is concerned, it is just as satisfactory to have several small accounts aggregating the same as one larger one, because although there is three times the bookkeeping involved, that is more than offset by the possibilities of development of three different accounts, besides the advertising value of the bank of three satisfied customers.

This Bank's capital, surplus and profits over $200,000, its very complete equipment and strong personnel make it the ideal depository for small depositors who expect to be bigger ones.

The officers will be glad to talk over banking relations with you at any time and pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you intrust your business to this bank.
