STORE HELD UP AT SPARTANBURG

Spartanburg, April 13.—Two unmasked men held up Broadway Littlejohn and J. M. Lark at the point of pistols this morning shortly after 7:10 o'clock at Cantrell and Littlejohn's store on Trade street and after taking $50 from a safe escaped in a small car belonging to Mr. Littlejohn.

Soon after the store was opened for business this morning and while Mr. Littlejohn was in his office and Mr. Lark was near the front of the store, two well dressed men, about 35 and 23 years of age, respectively, entered the building. One of them asked to see the man in the rear while the other said he would wait for him. In an instant, Mr. Lark was covered with a revolver by the man near his side. He was ordered to open the safe and when he refused to do so, Mr. Littlejohn, who was also covered with a revolver, told the outlaws that the safe was already open. While one of the bandits held Mr. Lark and Mr. Littlejohn at the point of his revolver the other plundered the safe and removed $50 in silver.

After securing the money the younger man kept Mr. Littlejohn and Mr. Lark "covered" until his pal signalled from the front where he had got into Littlejohn's car and started the motor. At the signal the younger man made a break for the car and the two drove rapidly away. Later the stolen car was recovered, it having been abandoned a few blocks from where the robbery took place.

In lifting the money from the safe the robbers failed to get the drawer with several hundred dollars in paper money and also failed to rob the cash drawer to which most of the change had been transferred. All they obtained was a bag containing about $50 in silver.

City Council Urges Half Holiday for Stores

(From Dry Goods Economist)

The city council of Spartanburg, S. C., agrees with the Retail Merchants' Bureau that store employees should have a half holiday each week, and has gone a step further than the retailers in passing a resolution to this effect, which reads in part as follows:

"Whereas, we are of the opinion that the health and happiness of the individual citizen is dependent upon a certain amount of diversion, pleasure and healthful exercise, and whereas under our present business system this opportunity is denied to the masses,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that we, the members of the city council of the City of Spartanburg, recommend to the merchants, wholesale and retail, that Thursday afternoon of each week be set aside as a half holiday, in order that the employees may be afforded an opportunity to get some open air exercise and diversion, which, in our opinion, will make of them more contented and better citizens."

Early Straw Hats in Fabric Effect

Aigrette Popular Trimming for Paris Headgear—Red Is Favored Color.

The persistence of the bobbed coiffure has resulted in the general prevalence of the small hat, despite the most determined efforts to end its domination, declares a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Herald-Tribune. The Parisienne at Monte Carlo seems unwilling to accept anything odd in millinery—she is too devoted to the small, becoming, youthful hat of past seasons. She continues to bob her hair and that imposes a handicap upon the modiste.

On the Riviera, where most of the spring novelties have their first tryout, only the most discreet models are being shown, and all the taste continues to be for the small, simply trimmed felt or velours. The first straws of the season are simulations of fabric effects. Talbot is using angora straws in her early hats and also what is known as paille de soie. This latter is a straw braid foundation covered with artificial silk put over the straw like a wrapping so as to leave none of it visible. This novelty is used in both narrow and wide effects, and is sometimes fully two inches wide. It is sewn together to make the entire shape and is of an unusual brilliancy.

Talbot is making quite a feature of pale reseda green silk straw. She has an attractive new high crown model developed of this material in a lovely shade of green. The crown is pinched in at just the proper point to give the shape a chic line and is trimmed with silk and ribbon flowers that take the form of carnations. The glossy silk braid which forms the entire shape is faced on the under brim with a dull picot straw. The flowers are half dull and half brilliant, being made of grosgrain ribbon and strands of artificial silk.

Lewis, who has a popular hat shop in Monte Carlo, is using a straw cloth which is woven to look like a corded silk. Interesting small shapes are fully covered with this straw cloth and are discretely trimmed with strange looking flowers, such as a single rose made of a mossy silk and foliage that is shaggy with silk strands resembling hair. This ornament is perched high on the crown. In another model two tiny ruffled birds are resting across the top of a high crown with their bills pointed to the skies.

The aigrette is still very fashionable in France and many of the smartest hats are adorned with glistening pompons of this most delicate and airy feather. There is a great fancy for these little tassel-like ornaments in several colors, either perched on the crown to give height or else saucily turned down over one ear.

The all red hat retains a surprising popularity. It is seen in felt, in straw cloth, in grosgrain silk and in straw, notably in dyed bangkok and picot. The peanut straw is used where a less expensive hat is desired, as the bangkok remains very high in price on account of the rate of exchange counted against the franc.

A few metal turbans are seen in the evening, but these are exceptional. Some are in the twisted Oriental style and others are the coronet form.

Dainty Summer Dress Beaded With Crystal

Forecasting the formal garb for the coming summer, designers display this lovely dinner dress, developed in a printed white chiffon, beaded with crystal.

Tunic Blouse

The tunic blouse continues to gain favor and some new styles have been added to the already large variety. Plaid velvet and taffeta blouses and some made of metal cloth are late acquisitions. Metal cloth sounds rather elaborate for tunic blouses, but they are made very plainly and are suitable for afternoon wear.

LAURENS LAYMEN ORGANIZE CLUB

Men's Federation To Hold Daily Prayer Meeting and Engage In Evangelistic Work.

Laurens, April 10.—One of the outstanding results of the recent religious campaign in Laurens is the organization of the Men's Federation, which is the outgrowth of the prayer meetings conducted in the court house every morning during the greater part of the Ham-Ramsay meeting. It was inaugurated by Mr. Ramsay, and at 8:30 every morning services were held for thirty minutes, different ones being assigned to lead the meeting.

Now, it is the purpose to perpetuate the fine morning prayer service as a regularly organized band of men, with duly elected officers, team captains, and so on.

Albert C. Todd has been elected president; C. B. Bobo, Dr. W. H. Dial and W. R. Richey, Sr., vice presidents; L. C. Barksdale, secretary and treasurer. Several team captains have also been chosen as follows: C. H. Gasque, E. P. Minter, C. H. Roper, A. N. Bramlett, W. P. Thomason, E. C. Wolfe, and W. B. Knight.

The membership of the federation will be divided among the captains and each team captain will in turn arrange for each morning service. In addition, these leaders will be asked to go out with teams for special Christian work, wherever the call may be, and in this way the laymen will place themselves in position to do great things, it is believed.

Pain In Back & Sides

"FOR A LONG TIME," says Mrs. Dora Payne, of Huntington, Tenn. "I felt listless, tired and worn-out. I did not feel like doing my work, visiting or anything."

"I suffered much pain in my back and sides. My limbs hurt, my knees would tremble without apparent cause and I would have to sit down."

"I was very nervous. I would have a tired, dull headache."

"I had read so much about Cardui I asked my husband to get it for me. The very first bottle seemed to help me. After the second... I was better than I had been in months. I certainly can praise Cardui."

"I have taken three bottles. Now I hardly wait when the sun shines, to garden. I am feeling fine."

Similar results to those described above have been reported by thousands of other women. Cardui's 40 years of success should encourage you to give it a thorough trial for the relief of any common female ailments. For sale everywhere.
