Looking Ahead....

PLANNING for the future is an essential of the telephone business if the service is to be adequate, for a telephone system cannot be built overnight.

Commercial engineers must study each area today, predict what its increase or decline in population will be several years in the future, and then estimate accurately how much telephone plant will be needed to serve the community.

Southern Bell and the other Bell operating companies also forecast their needs for apparatus and supplies quarterly during the year. This enables the Western Electric Company to buy raw materials and schedule its manufactures evenly over the year.

In the Bell Laboratories, scientists are constantly developing new, faster, more economical telephone apparatus.

This looking ahead is one reason why Bell telephone service has become acknowledged as the world's best.

You, too, should look ahead. In your business, it may be that improved conditions indicate the need for an additional telephone line. In your home, you may do without a telephone for awhile—but when an emergency arises, the telephone has to be there before you can use it. Have your telephone put in now.

MILLER SUCCEEDS WADE H. HARRIS

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 16.—Curtis B. Johnson, publisher of The Charlotte Observer, tonight announced the appointment of Dr. Julian S. Miller as editor.

Dr. Miller, for two and a half years associate editor, succeeds the veteran Wade H. Harris, who died last week after serving the paper more than 50 years, the last 23 as editor.

FOUR SUBURBAN MOTHERS START THEIR WINTER SEWING, and my, oh my, is it work to thread those needles! But all's well for these little ladies for they won't have to rethread very often. Know why? They're sewing with J. & P. Coats best 6-cord and it just about never snags or breaks. It makes sewing a lot easier—yes and a whole lot stronger, too.
