AROUND THE TOWN

Incidents, Unusual and Ordinary, Gathered On Our Rounds.

Of interest to his friends will be the news of promotion to ROBERT E. JONES to the rank of first lieutenant. Lt. Jones, the son of Mrs. R. E. Jones, was among the first Clinton boys to leave for foreign service. He is attached to Company A, 34th infantry, which left Fort Jackson in December for duty in the Hawaiian Islands.

LT. ROSS M. LYNN was here during the week for a brief visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. Ross Lynn, enroute to MacDill field, Tampa, Fla. Lt. Lynn has been attending a naval torpedo school in Newport, R. I., and is being transferred to the 463rd ordnance company, aviation, at MacDill field.

CLISBY PORTER TEMPLETON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clisby Templeton, of Goldville, who was born May 5, has nine living grandparents. On his mother's side his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garner; his great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Estes. Mrs. Templeton before marriage was Miss Evelyn Garner. On his father's side his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Templeton of this city; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Buchanan of Swannanoa, N. C., are his great-grandparents, and his great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Alice Templeton.

Clinton friends and relatives were delighted to hear the voice of LT. HUGH S. JACOBS, son of Dr. and Mrs. William P. Jacobs, who is now serving with the American forces in Ireland, on the radio Friday evening. The British broadcasting system was sponsoring a program in which one of their representatives was visiting and interviewing the "American doughboys." The chaplain of Hugh's company had selected a number of boys to be introduced to the radio representative and Lt. Jacobs was among those interviewed. He had previously wired his parents to listen to the broadcast. When he told them he was from South Carolina there was some discussion over the pronunciation after which he was asked about the Irish girls. "The main difference," Hugh said, "is there are more redheads among the girls of Ireland." He spoke of the beauty of the countryside, but emphasized the difficulty of getting directions when traveling. The inevitable reply to such questions, he stated, was "just over the next hill."

Friends of B. F. WINGARD will be interested to learn of his promotion to the rank of captain. Captain Wingard has recently been transferred to Fort Eustis, Va.

From Port Darley, Australia, comes a request by S. R. McDaniel, better known to his friends as "Hamp," for The Chronicle. Hamp, who is serving with a medical unit formerly at Fort Bragg, N. C., writes his mother that both pretty girls and kangaroos are plentiful in Australia.

Have YOU Joined the Army of the Thrifty?

The fun of unimpeded spur-of-the-moment buying is a luxury of the past for us Americans. We replace it now with the deep satisfaction of wise planning, careful buying.

• We Americans don't buy anything we don't need. We buy what we want, when we want it, and we buy it right.

• We Americans don't buy anything we don't need. We buy what we want, when we want it, and we buy it right.

but the kangaroos keep one jump ahead all the time. This implication may or may not be significant. He does not offer an explanation, so we won't attempt one.

MISS FRANCES SIMPSON, up-town Monday afternoon, seemed to be quite excited over a new experience. She had just registered, for the first time, to vote.

HOWARD WATKINS, of Fort Benning, Ga., spent the week-end with Mrs. Mary Henry Arthur and other relatives here. He rejoined his company at Benning, where it has been stationed for two weeks and will move this week to Indiantown Gap, Pa. His friends here will be interested to know he has just completed eight weeks training at Fort Belvoir, Va., where he received the highest honor given anyone in his platoon and was selected for training in the First division of the First Army, and was also awarded a medal for marksmanship.

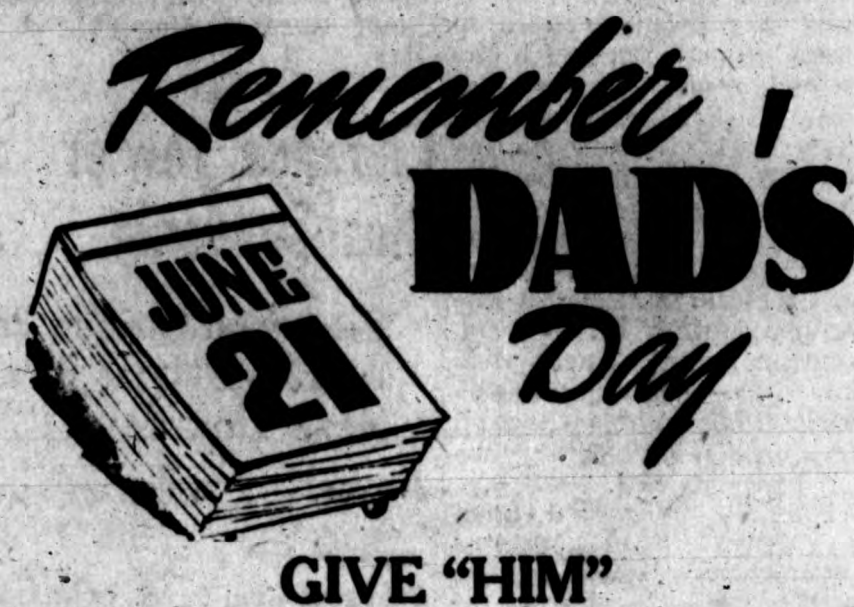

Friends will be glad to learn of the promotion of JOHN WALLACE COPELAND to major. Major Copeland is the son of Mrs. Dave W. Copeland of this city, and is stationed at Turner field, Albany, Ga., in the quartermaster corps.

News has been received of the advancement to the rank of captain of Jack Witherspoon, serving with the Marines somewhere in the Pacific islands. Captain Witherspoon, who is not yet 25, left for foreign duty in March, 1941. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Witherspoon of Cross Hill, formerly of this city.

Friends here of Mrs. C. R. Abrams of Spartanburg, the former Miss Catherine McCombs of this city, will be interested to know Lt. Abrams has recently been promoted to the rank of 1st lieutenant, at Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss. Mrs. Abrams is the daughter of Mrs. R. A. Steer of this city, and the late J. B. McCombs of Greenwood.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET
The Woman's Christian Temperance union will meet with Mrs. L. V. Pinson Monday afternoon, June 22, at 3:30.
