SOCIETY

relatives and friends from here and elsewhere.

Standards of seven-branched candelabra holding lighted white tapers, pedestals of white gladioli, gypsophila and coontie leaves formed a lovely setting for the rites. Centering the altar was a beautiful floral heart decorated with maline and red carnations. The family pews were marked with bows of white satin topped with red carnations.

Mrs. J. F. Jacobs, organist, Mrs. Glenn Brown of Warsaw, N. C., and Miss Kent Wysor, soloists, rendered a program of nuptial music. Organ numbers included "Intermezzo," "Always" and Tschalkowsky's "Concerto in B Flat." Mrs. Brown sang "At Dawning" and Miss Wysor "O Perfect Love" and "Because." The march from "Lohengrin" was used as a professional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional. During the ceremony "To A Wild Rose" was softly played.

Ushers were Seth Hill of Warsaw, N. C., Charles Henderson of Suffolk, Va., Myers Cooper of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Thomas E. Baldwin, brother of the bride. Charles Brake of Washington, Ga., served as best man.

The bridesmaids, Misses Ann Owens, Barrie Jean Wingard, Peggy Copeland and Louise Tribble wore gowns of white taffeta fashioned with drop shoulder effect, a yoke of marquise, round neckline, self-covered buttons down the back to the waistline and bustle effect in the back. They carried red carnations on a heart of white satin and lace and wore a heart of the same flowers in their hair.

Miss Doris Baldwin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress of white taffeta and marquisette was fashioned like that of the bridesmaids and a soft ruffle fell from the gathered waist. She carried a showered heart of red carnations.

The petite brunette bride, given in marriage by her brother, Harry E. Baldwin, was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, fashioned with a high round neck, full gathered skirt extending in a train. Her full length veil of bridal illusion was caught to her hair with a coronet embossed with seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white orchids on a satin heart.

Mrs. William C. Baldwin, mother of the bride, wore a dress of misty blue with black accessories and purple orchid corsage. Mrs. Allen W. Draughon, Sr., mother of the groom, was gowned in aqua crepe with black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of purple orchids.

Immediately following the rites a reception was given at the home of the bride for the wedding guests. Mrs. B. F. Wingard and Mrs. Jack W. Anderson greeted the guests at the door.

In the receiving line with the bride and groom were the bride's mother, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wells Draughon, Sr., of Warsaw, N. C., the bridal party, Miss Wysor and Mrs. Brown.

Phlox, snapdragons and zinnias in pastel tints decorated the living room. Gladioli, feverfew and fern with many lighted tapers emphasizing the bridal green and white formed the adornment for the dining room. Centering the table was a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Wide satin ribbon caught at the corners with bouquets of gladioli, feverfew and fern, ran diagonally across the table.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Robert S. Owens, Mrs. Robert E. Wysor, Mrs. J. F. Jacobs, Miss Irene Hipp, Mrs. Horace Payne, Mrs. Henry M. Young, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Reece Young, Mrs. H. M. Halfacre, Mrs. S. C. Dunlap, Mrs. J. V. Edwards, and Mrs. D. S. Halfacre.

Serving ice cream, decorated cakes and mints were Misses Ayliffe Jacobs, Cornelia Harris, Margie Smith, Joy Godfrey, Lillian Dillard, Sue Halfacre and Betty Jean Knight.

Mrs. Hal L. Baldwin, Mrs. George W. Bailey, Mrs. V. P. Adair and Mrs. Ratchford W. Boland served punch on the side porch. Miss Nancy Owens presided at the bride's register and bidding the guests goodbye were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baldwin. Mrs. Jasper Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baldwin were in the gift room.

During the evening the bride and groom left for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore an off-white suit of wool gabardine, with balenchia accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Draughon is the youngest daughter of Mrs. William C. Baldwin and the late Mr. Baldwin of this city. Her mother was before marriage Miss Lucia McIlwain of Due West. She received her education in the city schools, Limestone and Presbyterian colleges.

Mr. Draughon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wells Draughon, Sr., of Warsaw, N. C. attended Hargrave preparatory school in Virginia and Wake Forest college before entering the navy. Since his release from service he has been a student at Presbyterian college, where he is a member of the rising junior class.

Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Draughon will be at home to their friends in the Veterans apartments on the college campus.

Shedd-Pitts Wedding Next Wednesday

Miss Mary Shedd of Monticello, will become the bride of Harold Fleming Pitts of this city, and Charlotte, on June 30, at 8:30 p.m., at the Monticello Methodist church with Rev. R. L. Hall of Newberry, former pastor of the bride-elect, officiating.

Attendants have been announced for the wedding, including several close friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

Miss Shedd has been a member of the local high school faculty for the past two years.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pitts.

The rites will be attended by a number of Clinton friends and relatives.
