Letters From The Candidates

The following are copies of correspondence that have been sent in by the men who were in the race for various and sundry offices of our fair county.

"deer voters: i sincerely thank the few folks who had sense enough to vote for me in the recent primerys. i hold no malis towards the folks who voted against me. but their ignorance is appalling. slim chance, laurens."

"my friends: i hartily thank you for the handsome plurality you gave me in the recent battles of the polles. i am proud to run over against such a verry weak weasling, so vote for me and save yore county from disgrace, ansoforth. art square."

"deer people: in failing to lect me to the offis to which i asspired, you made a serious mistake, but it seemed that you prefered a loud squeaking voice to common sense. time will tell what you have done to yourselves ansoforth. bert skinner."

"fellow citizens: i thank you for electing me to offis in your great county. i will do my best to please you. i am a self-made man and hope you are the same. if so, we will get along, but i will not put up with any foul-pulling over my eyes. jot 'em down."

"deer skunks: i did not know that about 80 per cent of this county's men and wimmen were liars. if only half of the people who promised to vote for me had done so, i would of been elected with flying colors. all of you can go to thunder. i'm as the undersigned is concerned. will knott."

The Little World Series Is Over the flat rock taggers and the cedar line hornets played off the little world baseball serious last week, and flat rock taggers winned 3 to 2. some of the finest pitching that the local fans ever saw was pitched by slim crane, jr., for flat rock. he walked only 6, and the opposing team got only 4 hits per game off of him.

there was a right smart of mommey bet on the games which raised a couple of fights and some hard feelings. the empires were almost scrubed the second and forth games when they called a fowl to the left field a fair ball for the hornets. but after the taggers winned the final game, hard feelings disappeared.

the taggers knocked 4 home runs for 6 fallies while the hornets knocked only 3 homers for 4 fallies. judd newsome scrorred so manny times for the taggers, he was taken out of the game and a substitute was put in his place as short stopper. the ke-ther got knocked out when he forgot
