'Drop-In' Given By Joint Hostesses

Miss Barrie Jean Wingard and Miss Peggy Copeland were hostesses on Saturday evening for a drop in at the Wingard home preceding the pan-hellenic Christmas dances.

About thirty-six young people enjoyed the occasion. Guests were invited into the dining room where supper was served buffet style with Mrs. Guy L. Copeland pouring coffee. Gracing the supper table was an oblong modernistic design fashioned of galax leaves, pink carnations and one tall green candle, which was placed upon a silver tray. Elsewhere in the receiving rooms the pink and green motif was observed in decoration.

Guests included Miss Ruth Franklin of Montgomery, Ala., Miss Betty Jea Murden of Marion, Miss Ann Bailey of Spartanburg and Miss Bing Prothro of Aiken.

Bridge Club Enjoys Meeting

Mrs. R. P. Hamer entertained her bridge club members Thursday for dessert and a number of afternoon games.

Evergreens with bright berries formed an appropriate setting for the two tables. After a sweet course several progressions were played with Mrs. Heath Copeland high score winner and floating prize going to Mrs. Carroll White Copeland.

Mrs. Walter Danhoff was a guest of the club for the afternoon.

Little Milton Moore Celebrates Birthday

Friday evening in celebration of his fifth birthday Milton Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry M. Moore, invited eight little friends for a dinner party from 6:00 until 7:30.

The supper table was prettily appointed in the Christmas colors and was centered with the birthday cake around which the attractively wrapped gifts were arranged. A feature of the evenings entertainment was a visit from Santa Claus with whom the children had their pictures taken.

Dinner Party Compliments Miss Henry, Bride-Elect

A lovely dinner party was given on Thursday evening complimenting Miss Virginia Henry who will be married on December 28 to William Paul McKinnon, by Misses Carolyn, Ann and Fay Pitts, at the R. G. Murphy home.

Covers were laid for twelve with a corsage of amber chrysanthemums marking the place of the honoree. A four course dinner was served. In the dining room a green and white bridal motif was carried out with handsome arrangements of magnolia leaves and a centerpiece for the dining table fashioned of daisy chrysanthemums interspersed with white lighted tapers. A garland of ivy encircled the reflected floral arrangement. Long leaf pine with tracteries of ivy was used in the living room with an effective scene of greenery and madonna figurine adorning a console table.

The hostesses presented Miss Henry and two other brides-elect, Miss Florence DuRant fiancée of Adam R. Andrews, Jr., and Miss Anette Foster, fiancée of Jack Brewer, with gifts.
