Dental Cavities Increase With Added Use of Sugar

High consumption of sugar by American children is the major cause of tooth decay which is now occurring six times more rapidly than the dental profession is able to provide corrective treatment, according to the Journal of the American Dental Association.

In a symposium of 11 separate articles devoted to dental caries (decay), leading dental scientists advanced new evidence showing that carbohydrates, particularly sugars, are directly responsible for dental caries.

Principal hope for overcoming the loss of teeth resulting from man's excessive appetite for sugar, the scientists agreed, lies in greater use of fluorides which have resulted in a 40 to 50 per cent reduction in decay in children and the development of other therapeutic agents which will help counteract the harmful effects of sugar in the mouth.

Dr. Robert G. Kesel, of Chicago, head of the department of applied materia medica and therapeutics of the college of dentistry, University of Illinois, summarized evidence collected by more than 40 research workers in support of the theory that dental caries is initiated by acids resulting from the action of bacteria on refined carbohydrate foods in the mouth.

Dr. Kesel cited reports from Scandinavia, Italy, Japan and elsewhere which showed a decrease in caries activity in direct proportion to the extent of sugar restriction during World War II. He reported dental caries have increased since sugar has become more plentiful.

Movies May Help Vision, If Precautions Are Taken

Going to the movies may be good for your vision, according to the American Optometric Association.

"Looking at motion picture under proper conditions gives valuable training to the eyes and muscles and nerves used in seeing," says Dr. Elmer M. Soles. "In fact, visits to the movies are recommended as an aid to correction of some visual problems."

Following motion on the screen helps develop quick perception, which is one of the objectives of scientific visual training. Adaptation to varying degrees of light intensity on the screen and in the theater may also be beneficial to those who suffer from "night blindness," one of the serious hazards of automobile driving.

Dr. Soles accompanied his endorsement of movies from the visual standpoint with three warnings:

1. Have your vision thoroughly examined if the movies give you a headache or any similar discomfort.

2. Insist on sitting at the distance from the screen which permits you to see clearly without consciousness of your vision.

3. Because movies require efficient distance seeing, be sure that the glasses you wear are prescribed for that purpose and are not only for the ordinary office or industrial jobs, which usually require near-point visual skills.

Lesser Sunda Islands

South of Celebes and directly east of Java lies a string of islands, which, although dwarfed by the colossal size of the so-called Greater Sunda Islands (Sumatra, Borneo, Java and Celebes), deserve more than ordinary interest. These are the Lesser Sunda Islands, running in an almost straight line 800 miles along the southern edge of the archipelago. Altogether there are about 60 islands in this group, not counting the tiniest of islets; of these, about a dozen can be said to be of consequential size, and only six are of real economic and social significance. These are, from west to east, Bali, Lombok, Sumbawa, Flores, and, directly to the south, Sumba and Timor.

Champion Holstein Milker

Montana state college is the owner of a registered Holstein cow which has further added to her lifetime production record of more than 100,000 pounds of milk. Her name is Gladys Piebe Fobes (V. G.), and her production records are officially recorded by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. In seven yearly milking periods, "Gladys" has produced a total of 133,962 pounds of milk and 4,755 pounds of butterfat. Her highest single record was made at the age of seven years ten months when she produced 22,879 pounds of milk and 789 pounds of butterfat.

Give Poinsettia a Chance

There is no need to throw the poinsettia plant away after it blooms and the leaves begin to fall. Allow them to become dry, place the plant in a warm basement and let it rest for three or four months. In April or May cut the plant back and repot it in a good leafmold soil. Give the plant light and sunshine. During the warm summer months the pot may be plunged outdoors. The new growth may be used for cuttings or the old stalk which was cut-off may be cut in eight-inch lengths and the lengths rooted in sand or water.
