SOCIETY

Henry M. Young, Jr., at the Young home on South Broad street.
Mrs. George R. Bialock and Mrs. William W. Johnson greeted the guests. Receiving with the hostesses and honoree were Mrs. George C. Young of Rock Hill and Mrs. C. B. Boyd, Sr., of Orlando, Fla. Mrs. R. W. Wade and Mrs. Marshall Brown entertained in the living room and Mrs. Ansel B. Godfrey invited the guests into the dining room.

Entertaining and serving in the dining room were Mrs. R. S. Trulluck, Misses Myra Adair, Cornelia Harris, Barbara Anderson, Kent Wisor, and Grace Young. A lace cover over green was used for the beautifully appointed tea table which accentuated a pink, white and green motif. An arrangement of Elsie Poulson roses and tube roses with lighted pink tapers, and wedding bells showered with pink ribbons and tube roses completed the appointments. Silver bon-bon dishes with pink and white mints were at either end. Block cream, cake, nuts and mints were served.

Entertaining and serving punch in the back hall were Mrs. Almon Spencer, Miss Irene Hipp and Mrs. T. C. Johnson, Jr. Mrs. Harry Williams of Charlotte, N. C. bade the guests good-bye.

The receiving rooms were lovely with dahlias, roses, physostegia and spider lilies in pink shading to rose and lavender.

Drop-In Compliments Popular Bride-Elect

Enjoyable among social courtesies extended to Miss Fay Pitts since the announcement of her engagement was the drop-in given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. W. H. Simpson.

The hostess greeted her guests and presented them to the honoree. Receiving with them were the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. W. R. Pitts, Sr., Mrs. P. L. Bauknight, Mrs. J. H. Kohler of Anderson, Mrs. Paul T. Wood, Mrs. W. E. Wiggins of Woodruff, Mrs. Harold Pitts of Greenville, Mrs. L. B. Dillard and Mrs. Tom Sprott of Winnsboro.

Mrs. John W. Little invited the guests to the fruit bowl where Mrs. Hubert Pitts and Miss Lily Yarbrough served tropical fruit juices. Mrs. Goyne Simpson, Mrs. Charles Daniel of Atlanta entertained in the den. Miss Ruth Bailey and Mrs. M. J. Simpson of Laurens invited the guests into the dining room where Mrs. W. R. Pitts, Jr., Mrs. Nene D. Workman and Mrs. T. C. Johnson, Sr., entertained. Cutting cake and serving coffee at the table, were Mrs. Ayliffe Jacobs and Mrs. J. Will Dillard. Other dainties were served buffet style from the table prettily appointed in yellow and white. Button chrysanthemums and tube roses fashioned the floral arrangement and the dining room was lighted by yellow candles in silver candelabra.

Mrs. Lewis Pitts invited the guests into the living room where Mrs. R. C. Adair, Mrs. Raymond Pitts and Mrs. Lonnie S. McMillan entertained. Mrs. Kitt R. McMaster, Jr., bade the guests goodbye.

A particularly lovely arrangement of red spider lilies and lavender physostegia in a crystal epergne adorned the den. In the sun parlor giant marigolds were used.

The honoree was presented a bride's register.

Mrs. Pitts Hostess For Informal Teas

Mrs. Henderson Pitts was hostess on Wednesday and Friday afternoons at tea. On each occasion a few friends were invited for a delightfully informal hour late in the afternoon. In the receiving rooms, roses, dahlias and spider lilies were attractively arranged. Punch, sandwiches, cake and mints were served buffet style from the dining table overlaid with a cut work and embroidered cloth and centered with a low bouquet.

Kitchen Shower
Fetes Miss Pitts

Miss Fay Pitts who will be married in October to Robert J. Grube was complimented on Thursday evening when Mrs. Edgar C. Taylor, Sr., Mrs. B. W. Crouch and Mrs. Edgar Taylor, Jr., entertained at the home of the former in her honor.

Throughout the home roses and dahlias were used in decoration with other late summer flowers. Covers were laid for sixteen at small tables centered with a bouquet of white carnations and fern. Salad and sweet courses were served. Later in the evening bingo was enjoyed and the bride-elect was surprised with a shower of useful kitchen articles. The hostesses gift to Miss Pitts was china in her chosen pattern.

Bridge Club Enjoys Meeting

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Henry Lukstat entertained members of her bridge club.

Colorful bowls of zinnias made a pretty setting for the two tables in play during the afternoon. At the conclusion of the progressions score awards were presented Mrs. Fred Oxley and Mrs. C. W. Anderson. When cards were laid aside the hostesses served a salad plate, macaroons and cold drinks.

Lovely Ceremony
Unites Miss Adair,
William P. Patrick, Jr.

In a beautiful civil ceremony performed by the Rev. John J. McCarthy of Charleston, at four o'clock in the afternoon Saturday September 10, at St. Boniface Catholic church, Joanna, Miss Margaret Lott Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd Adair of this city, became the bride of William P. Patrick, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Patrick, Sr. of Carolina Terrace, Charleston. The double ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. J. Ferdinand Jacobs, organist rendered a program of wedding music which included "Ave Maria," "Pania Angelicus" before the ceremony and the traditional processional and recessional.

Ushers were Walter Smith of Charleston, cousin of the groom and Frank Young, Jr., cousin of the bride.

Miss Frances L. Adair, sister of the bride, of this city and Florence who was maid of honor, was gowned in lavender taffeta. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of yellow gladioli.

Charles G. Patrick of Charleston, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, John Lloyd Adair, Jr., was lovely in her wedding gown of white faille with sweetheart neckline embroidered with seed pearls. The sleeves ended in points over the wrists and the skirt extended into cathedral length train. Her veil of imported French illusion was attached to a tierra of seed pearls and cascaded into a lengthy train. She carried a bouquet of white roses and tube roses.

Baskets of white gladioli on either side of the altar, vases of the same flowers on the altar with many white lighted tapers formed a setting for the vows.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. James S. Gray introduced the guests to the receiving line composed of the bride and groom, their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Patrick, John L. Adair, Jr. and Miss Frances Adair.

Mrs. John W. Finney, Sr., invited the guests into the dining room. Serving bell and heart shaped sandwiches, decorated cake squares, lime punch and green mints were Mrs. William D. Adair, Misses Gladys and Jocelyn Hollingsworth of Cross Hill and Mrs. Pringle Copeland, Jr.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. C. W. Stone, Mrs. William Bailey Owens, Mrs. Pringle Copeland, Sr., and Miss Lula Young. Mrs. Frank C. Young kept the bride's book.

An imported white cloth of alternate squares of lace and embroidered nylon was used over green. The three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully embossed and topped with a miniature bride and groom, flanked by white lighted tapers in crystal holders, made a pretty central adornment for the table. The server was also lighted by tapers and urns of ivy adorned the mantels.

During the afternoon the bridal couple left for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a suit of grey wool gabardine with dark green accessories.
