Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. B. Arnold was hostess to members of her bridge club, with two tables in play. Between progressions a salad plate and cold drinks were served. Mrs. L. D. Lott, a club visitor received the award for high score. Decorating the card rooms were an arrangement of pine with colorful fruits and bouquets of jonquils.

Mrs. Harrel Wilson To Speak In Laurens

The Laurens Council of Garden Clubs will present Mrs. W. Harrel Wilson of Greenville, noted speaker and flower arranger, in an illustrated lecture on flower arrangements at their general meeting April 1 at 3:30 p. m. in the Laurens High School auditorium. Her subject will be, "Design With Logic." The meeting is open to the public. Admission is $1.00.

Learning from Mrs. Wilson is an adventure in itself for she has developed a truly revolutionary method of simplifying the basic principles of flower arrangement. Her nimble fingers and witty conversation hold the rapt attention of her audience from the moment she is introduced.

The Daffodil Garden Club, host for this meeting, will serve refreshments following the lecture.

Friends Gather For Informal Visit

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Robert S. Owens entertained with a drop-in at her home on East Maple St. for her daughter, Mrs. Carl Clary, of Greenville, who with her little son is spending the week here.

Arrangements featuring daffodils and forsythia were used in decoration for the informal drop-in. During the afternoon guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served in buffet style with punch. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Ed Sadler and Mrs. Claude Crocker.

Mrs. Lamar Lightsey and Mrs. James Christopher of Greenwood, were out of town guests.

Wigley-Martin Engagement

Tuesday Club Is Entertained

Members of the Tuesday afternoon bridge club were entertained last week at the home of Mrs. J. B. Templeton.

Two tables were in play and a salad course was served between progressions. Mrs. A. G. Sublett made top score.

As a background for the tables a variety of spring flowers were prettily arrayed.

Parties Compliment Mrs. Gressette, Visitor

Honoring her house guest, Mrs. Tatum Gressette, of Columbia, Mrs. Henderson Pitts entertained with a bridge party on Wednesday afternoon of the past week.

Daffodils and Dutch Iris decorated the living room and in the dining room snapdragons and carnations were used.

A salad plate and pound cake were served after play with Mrs. W. C. Baldwin and Mrs. Roy Gasque assisting the hostess. The visitor was presented a gift and score prizes went to Mrs. Irby S. Hipp and Mrs. Julian Coleman.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Roy Gasque was hostess for two tables of bridge in compliment to Mrs. Gressette.

Between progressions a salad plate was enjoyed. Mrs. Ansel B. Godfrey was winner of high score award and the honoree was remembered with a guest prize.

Adorning the card rooms for the occasion were colorful mixed spring bouquets.

Mrs. Pitts and her visitor were special guests on Tuesday when Mrs. John W. Little entertained members of her evening bridge club.

Study Club Meets With Mrs. Wysor

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Robert E. Wysor was hostess to the Study Club at her home on Maple street.

On the afternoon's program were two papers. Mrs. Wm. P. Jacobs read "Lost Treasures of the U. S. Patent Office," which had been prepared by Mrs. John McSween. Also Mrs. Marshall Brown discussed ghost writers in the White House and elsewhere.

Mixed spring flowers added to the charm of the Wysor home.

Late in the afternoon a salad course with cookies and coffee was served.

LAVENDER FLU

Your grandfather probably knew this cure. Flowers of lavender quilted in a hat were supposed to ward off "stuffed-up" noses and head colds. Pleasant treatment—but certainly not a sure cure. Today, thanks to medical science, we have numerous effective vaccines . . . against flu, whooping cough and other respiratory diseases . . . to immunize and protect us from the discomforts of infections. So, why suffer needlessly. Ask your physician about them. Let him prescribe the medication that is most effective for your needs. Then come to us for prescription service.
